Dawson Is Witness at RFC Probe

Truman Aide Denies Abusing His Office to Influence Loans by RFC

'Nothing Wrong'

Blanket 'No' Is Given to Subcommittee's Charges

Washington, May 10 (AP)—White House Aide Donald S. Dawson swore to a Senate investigating subcommittee today he never abused his office to influence the handling of huge government loans, as the group has charged.

"To the best of my knowledge," Dawson told the investigating senators, "I have done nothing in connection with the RFC that is improper in any way."

With those words he wound up a formal and blanket denial of the subcommittee's charges that he has been involved in a "web of influence" which improperly affected the granting or withholding of loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Dawson then invited questions, and Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.), the subcommittee chairman, said the questioning would be extensive.

May Take 3 Days

Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.) said it may take three days to complete the questioning he and other members of his banking subcommittee have prepared for Dawson. Dawson is President Truman's adviser for personnel—that is, political patronage.

A federal grand jury already is looking into the Fulbright subcommittee's accusations that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), huge government lending agency, has yielded to pressure from Dawson and others to grant or withhold loans.

A management shakeup of the RFC resulted from the subcommittee's lengthy, public hearings on the charges, made in a report to the Senate.

Truman Saw No Reason

Mr. Truman, who had called the subcommittee's charges asinine, originally said he saw no reason for Dawson to testify before the subcommittee, and Dawson ignored its first invitation. But when Fulbright sent a second—a "request," he called it—Dawson agreed to appear. The White House said Mr. Truman consented.

Senator Tobey (R.-N. H.), who told the Senate recently "the White House Palace Guard" had tried to induce him to be less severe in his references to Dawson, said he plans to attend the hearings and may participate in the questioning.

He said David K. Niles, another presidential adviser, sent former Senator Burton K. Wheeler, a Montana Democrat, to ask him to "let up" on Dawson. Tobey said he considered it an improper request. Wheeler said there was nothing improper in his talking to Tobey.

Tobey is not a subcommittee member, but has a standing invitation to participate in its RFC inquiries because he is its former chairman.

Russians Send Grain To India—for Cash

New Delhi, India, May 10 (AP)—Famine-threatened India announced today that Soviet Russia had agreed to sell her for cash 50,000 tons of wheat—and that Russian ships are already on the way here with some of it.

A government announcement said the agreement to buy the 50,000 tons was the "first result" of negotiations with the Soviet Embassy here, begun last week, on a Russian offer to supply 500,000 tons.

Nehru also told Parliament that the bills before the U. S. Congress to send wheat to India "in our view have no political or discriminatory conditions attached to them and there can be no objection on these grounds to our accepting either of these two. We prefer the terms of the House bill because they are simpler," he added.

Arias Reinstates 1946 Constitution, Under Pressure

President Bows to Police and Public After Riots Killing 3 Persons

Panama, Panama, May 10 (AP)—President Arnulfo Arias bowed to police and public pressure today and ordered restoration of the 1946 constitution which he scrapped last Monday. By this action, which won over police support, he hoped to stay in office.

Arias' decision came after a day and night of rioting in which at least three persons were killed and 110 wounded or injured as angry crowds surged through the capital's streets, clamoring for the president's ouster.

Arias' hold on the presidency was disputed by Vice President Alcibiades Arosemena, who was sworn in as president before the National Assembly just before midnight.

The Assembly, which Arias had dissolved Monday, met in a newspaper office, set itself up as a high court, and impeached the president. Then it summoned the vice-president.

Arias got powerful backing today from Col. Jose Antonio Remon, Panama's strong man and the head of the national police—the country's only army.

Announces Support

Declaring "what the people wanted has been achieved," by Arias' return of the 1946 charter, Remon announced his support of the president. Such support could be decisive.

Arias' decree nullifying his earlier action in replacing the 1946 constitution by the 1941 charter was issued after he and Remon had negotiated through emissaries for hours last night.

Police headquarters today hailed the decree as a "lofty and patriotic decision" and appealed to the people to lay aside their bitterness and support Arias as president.

Arosomena indicated when he appeared before the assembly to take the oath that he knew Remon would not support him, but said he would accept the assembly's offer.

Calls for Escort

After he was sworn in, the opposition radio called on the people to escort him to the presidential palace where Arias was secluded surrounded by Remon's police. The march, however, never came off, and Arosemena finally went home to await developments.

Panama looked like a dead city today. All business houses and stores were shut down. Transportation was at a standstill and all industry was halted excepted for electricity, gas, water and telephone service.

Reach Munsan

Enemy Is Withdrawing on 100-Mile Front to Escape Artillery

Tokyo, May 10 (AP)—Allied armored patrols today stabbed into Munsan, 21 miles northwest of Seoul, after wiping out a Red threat to flank the old South Korean capital.

Tanks and South Korean infantrymen hunted through Munsan without opposition, then withdrew.

Elsewhere along the 100 mile front the greatest obstacles encountered by probing tank patrols were mine fields covered by small arms fire.

Chinese armies are "wilting on the vine" because of lack of supplies, said Lt. Gen. Edward L. Almond, commander of the U. S. 10th Corps.

Warns of Attack

The Reds have withdrawn to keep out of range or UN artillery. Nevertheless, Almond cautioned, they presumably are preparing for another attack.

An Eighth Army spokesman said 6,000 North Korean Reds who had threatened to outflank Seoul were either killed or routed.

South Koreans were mopping up remnants of this force Thursday west of the Seoul-Munsan road. AP Correspondent John Randolph said Reds, fighting a delaying action, were firing down on the Republicans from the hills.

The tank-infantry patrol on the highway ran into no opposition. On a neighboring highway between Uijongbu and the 38th Parallel, another armored force hit a small Chinese screening unit 19 miles north of Seoul.

Other armored forces roamed the central front, reentered Chunchon 45 miles northwest of Seoul, and clanked into Inje on the eastern front without opposition.

Air Field Damaged

The Fifth Air Force reported it still was studying the results of Wednesday's raid on Sinuiju air field by 312 U. N. planes but it was clear they inflicted "considerable damage."

Eigth marine planes were hit in the raid, the greatest air strike of the war. But not a single raiding pilot was scratched, the air force said.

American F-86 Sabre jets flew patrol over Sinuiju Thursday, within sight of Russian-type jets parked in an air field across the border in Manchuria. The Red planes remained safely on the ground.

Thursday 275 U. S. Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers roared out before noon to strike at rail yards in half a dozen North Korean industrial cities.

President Denies Report on Acheson

Truman Says Secretary Not to Quit; Won't Recall O'Dwyer

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Truman said today there is no foundation in fact to reports that Secretary of State Acheson may leave office within a few months.

Mr. Truman also told a news conference:

Reports he will recall William O'Dwyer as ambassador to Mexico likewise are rumors, with no foundation in fact.

He is backing completely Price Administrator Michael DiSalle's meat price control order.

DiSalle's order has brought a flood of protests from packers and others.

Commenting on the protests, Mr. Truman said it was the same old fight. He added: When you tread on somebody's toes, he's going to scream.

He said the order was put to him in advance and he approved it.

Raised by Reporter

The question of Acheson's future in the administration was raised by a reporter who told Mr. Truman there had been reports Acheson was getting out within two weeks, two months and a few months.

The President said that was a rumor that had no foundation in fact.

Mr. Truman's attention was called then to published stories that former New York Mayor O'Dwyer would be recalled from Mexico City as the aftermath of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee's report and the later conviction of James Moran for perjury.

Moran was a close friend of O'Dwyer when the present ambassador was mayor.

The crime committee's report was highly critical of O'Dwyer, saying he had failed to combat crime vigorously while mayor.

Mr. Truman then said the stories O'Dwyer would be recalled were also a rumor that has no foundation in fact.

Two Experts Go Over Situation at No. 5 With Chief and Police

Investigators at the School No. 5 fire yesterday are convinced that it was of incendiary origin with separate starts in three closets, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said today.

Apparently no inflammable agent other than paper was used in starting the blaze which gutted a class room and damaged two others, the corridor walls and ceiling and basement areas, the chief said.

John E. Stuerwald, of Schenectady, special agent for the arson department, National Board of Fire Underwriters, arrived here late yesterday morning to work with Detective Clarence Brophy of the local police, and later yesterday Edward Curran, of Albany, representing the Mutual Insurance Company, visited the school.

Shed Was Damaged

Meanwhile, it was recalled today, that a fire which had apparently been set last September, badly damaged the cemetery shed near the Church of the Comforter almost opposite School No. 5 on Wynkoop Place, and a similar attempt had been made last November.

A search through Freeman files also revealed that a fire of incendiary origin was discovered at the Church of the Comforter on May 31, 1917, ten days after that which badly damaged School No. 5 that year, and this was one of four

Hurley Fire Board Was Covered, Krom And Canavan State

The following prepared statement was handed to The Freeman today by Benson A. Krom of Krom & Canavan, licensed real estate brokers and insurance firm, relative to the insurance coverage for the town of Hurley and the village fire department:

May 10, 1951

Kingston Daily Freeman
Kingston, N. Y.
Gentlemen:

We, as reputable insurance agents, take extreme offense against the story published on the front page of The Freeman on May 9 relative to the insurance coverage for the town of Hurley and the village fire dept. The story is completely in error in every respect with the exception of the fact that The Preferred Accident Insurance Company, carriers of some part of the town and fire dept. insurance was ordered liquidated by the dept. of insurance. Had the writer of the published story wished to do so, he could not have harmed our agency or the reputation of Mr. Canavan or Mr. Krom as insurance agents any more fully than he did. He was also very shrewd in his wording of the story so as to convey the meaning to the public that we were negligent in our duties as insurance agent for an assured and at the same time leaving loopholes not visible to the general public to avoid possible future legal action. We trust that the true facts as will be given below and which can be verified by any number of individuals and insurance companies will be given the same front page position as was the original untrue story which has caused us so much unfavorable publicity. A phone call to our office prior to running this story in the paper could have established the true state of affairs.

The facts of the matter are

More Strikes Loom

Previews of Big Walkout Given in New York's Skyscrapers

New York, May 10 (AP)—Elevator operators and other maintenance employes in commercial buildings were set to strike more Manhattan skyscrapers today in continuing "mop-up" walkouts ordered as previous of an all-out business-apartment strike Monday.

The quickie strikes, principally over wage and welfare issues in the commercial buildings, started Tuesday against 100 business structures, with 60 more affected yesterday.

Thousands of workers were stranded in the lofty buildings, with employes forced to trudge up and down innumerable steps to get to and from their jobs.

However, agreements have been reached with all but four of the 160.

Austin Says War Can Be Won With Unity Still Intact

Statement Seems Aimed at MacArthur Stand About U. S. Waging War Alone

New Orleans, May 10 (AP)—Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegates to the United Nations, expressed confidence today that the UN can win the Korean War without sacrificing the unity of the free world.

Austin did not mention Gen. Douglas MacArthur by name, but his statement apparently was aimed at MacArthur's declaration that the United States should carry the fight to Red China even if it means going it alone.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Tulane University, where he was to receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, Austin declared that political and military considerations were so closely linked in the field of collective security that it was impossible to separate them.

The United States wanted the strength that comes with unity, Austin said. "We have it," he added, "we are determined to maintain it."

Victory Is Cited

He cited the United Nations victory in Greece as an example of how military and political considerations must be taken together. There too, Communist troops had operated from a "privileged sanc-

Marshall Says Ridgway Statements 'Not Parallel'

Says General Tried to Encourage Troops, in Reply to Query

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Secretary Marshall brushed aside today a suggestion that Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had made statements of the kind that led to firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He said they were not "parallel."

For the fourth day, Marshall was in the witness chair before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees. They are inquiring into General MacArthur's dismissal and the Korean war policy differences behind it.

At the outset of today's session, Senator Alexander Smith (R.-N. J.) quoted a two-months-old statement by Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway which said "it would be a tremendous victory for the United Nations, if the war ended with our forces in control up to the 38th Parallel."

Smith asked if that wasn't the very kind of statement MacArthur has been criticized for making without first clearing it with the Pentagon.

Not Sufficient Parallel

Marshall replied: "I don't think that there is a sufficient of a parallel there, senator. We have for example had no general public discussions regarding the 38th Parallel so far as the commanders in the field and the government here in Washington (are concerned).

"There Ridgway was saying something to the encouragement of his forces, as he did in a statement that was released this morning."

It was not immediately brought out what later Ridgway statement Marshall had in mind. There was a statement today from Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the U. S. 10th Corps, saying the Red Chinese armies in Korea are "wilting on the vine" for lack of supplies.

Similarly, Smith raised questions yesterday about statements made by Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, air commander in the Far East. Stratemeyer had been quoted in interviews as stressing the handicaps imposed by the fact he was unable to strike at enemy planes while they were on the ground at Manchurian bases.

Effect Considered

In response to other questions from Smith, Marshall said the administration "very carefully considered" the effect on the Japanese people before removing MacArthur as occupation chief.

Smith had asked whether those who ousted MacArthur took into account "the inevitable adverse relations with Japan at this critical moment."

Marshall said it was generally

Says Korean Vets Deserve Benefits

Truman Declares Congress Should Put Them on Status for Care

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Truman said today veterans of the Korean fighting should be given every benefit made available by the government to veterans of other wars.

He said it was up to Congress to change the law under which hospitalization was denied by the Veterans Administration to a Korean veteran for a non service-connected disability.

David R. Arellano, Jr., 21, of Tucson, Ariz., was denied admittance there yesterday to a VA hospital. He was then taken to Pima County Hospital and operated on for a throat cancer. Arrellano is a former marine bazooka squad member, discharged after Korean service.

VA officials said they could do nothing about the case because the Korean conflict has not been officially recognized as a war.

Mr. Truman was asked his reaction to the Veterans Administration's refusal.

VA Obeyed Law

He said he had no comment other than to say that he thought the Veterans Administration had answered the whole question. He said that the VA obeyed the law, and it was up to Congress to change the law.

And he said he thought that the Korean veterans were entitled to all the benefits that go to other veterans.

The House Veterans Affairs Committee meantime asked the VA regional office at Tucson for an explanation.

The VA central office here affirmed that, under the law, Arellano as a "peacetime" veteran would be entitled to hospitalization only if he had a disability discharge or was drawing compensation for a service-connected disability.

Quick Determination

But the VA said a determination could be made quickly whether Arellano's throat cancer was service-connected. If so he could be put on the compensation rolls and be entitled to hospitalization.

Wartime veterans, the VA said, are entitled to hospitalization for non-service-connected injuries and diseases if they cannot afford treatment and bed space is available. But for the purpose of VA hospitalization, the VA said World War 2 lasted from Dec. 7, 1941, to noon, Dec. 31, 1946.

Bills are now before the House and Senate to extend war veterans hospital benefits to veterans of the Korean action.

21 Policemen Are Indicted, 56 Others Named As Co-Conspirators in Alledged Graft

New York, May 10 (AP)—"A picture of graft and corruption unbelievable."

This is how Assistant District Attorney Julius A. Helfand sums up the indictment of 21 past and present policemen accused of accepting millions of dollars from the head of a $20,000,000-a-year Brooklyn gambling ring.

Fifty-six other policemen or former policemen were named as co-conspirators in the alleged huge money graft when the Brooklyn rackets-probing grand jury's indictment was opened yesterday in Kings County Court.

The nine-page document tells of police pay-offs by confessed boss bookie Harry Gross. From 1947 through 1949, it was charged, Gross handed over about $1,000,000 yearly to police.

Helfand said Gross even bought his way into the super rackets squad, set up to check on the honesty of other units within the police force.

This squad, Helfand said, "collected from the bookmakers money in bushel baskets."

The assistant DA added that both Brooklyn and Manhattan cops were on Gross' payoff list.

The indictment charges 50 overt acts, with 21 men actually indicted for conspiracy to obstruct justice. If convicted, they face a possible maximum of three years in prison and $1,000 fines.

The 56 men accused as co-conspirators will not be prosecuted, Helfand said, because he lacked corroborative evidence against them. They are expected to be available, however, as witnesses against the 21 accused policemen.

Among the indicted officers were two former inspectors, who allegedly accepted expensive television sets as gifts from Gross. They were identified as Frederick A. Hofsaes, 55, and John E. Flynn, 46.

Nineteen of the defendants were in court when Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz opened the sealed indictment. All pleaded innocent and were given 24 hours to raise bail ranging from $2,500 to $7,500 each. Of the two missing officers, it was described that one man was on leave and that the other temporarily was out of town.

Of the 21 indicted policemen, only 10 still are active on the force. Most of the others quit during the 16-month grand jury probe.

Shortly after the names were made pubic, Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy announced 32 patrolmen still on the force had been suspended. The commissioner said the suspended men eventually will face department trials.

Helfand said Gross' payoff money gave him the power to suggest police assignments, and that the suave bookie had crooked cops transferred where they would do him the most good.

Gross pleaded guilty to 66 gambling counts and admitted paying $1,000,000 a year protection to crooked police. He faces up to 65 years in prison.

Gross, originally held in lieu of $250,000 bail, now is free on $25,000 bond. The bookie now is talking freely to the prosecutors and the grand jury.

Employment Gains

Construction Industry Is Up 4.4 Per Cent in March in State

New York, N. Y., May 10 (AP) Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi reported today that employment in the contract construction industry in New York state totalled 218,500 in March.

This was an increase of 4.4 per cent over February, and of 17.2 per cent over March, 1950.

Seasonal gains in general building and in highway and heavy construction were credited for most of the increase.

Corsi said all branches of the construction industry reported higher weekly earnings and longer hours.

The average March weekly earnings for construction workers were reported as $86.62. The average work week was 34.6 hours.

More Strikes Loom

Previews of Big Walkout Given in New York's Skyscrapers

New York, May 10 (AP)—Elevator operators and other maintenance employes in commercial buildings were set to strike more Manhattan skyscrapers today in continuing "mop-up" walkouts ordered as previous of an all-out business-apartment strike Monday.

The quickie strikes, principally over wage and welfare issues in the commercial buildings, started Tuesday against 100 business structures, with 60 more affected yesterday.

Thousands of workers were stranded in the lofty buildings, with employes forced to trudge up and down innumerable steps to get to and from their jobs.

However, agreements have been reached with all but four of the 160.

Two Experts Go Over Situation at No. 5 With Chief and Police

Investigators at the School No. 5 fire yesterday are convinced that it was of incendiary origin with separate starts in three closets, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy said today.

Apparently no inflammable agent other than paper was used in starting the blaze which gutted a class room and damaged two others, the corridor walls and ceiling and basement areas, the chief said.

John E. Stuerwald, of Schenectady, special agent for the arson department, National Board of Fire Underwriters, arrived here late yesterday morning to work with Detective Clarence Brophy of the local police, and later yesterday Edward Curran, of Albany, representing the Mutual Insurance Company, visited the school.

Shed Was Damaged

Meanwhile, it was recalled today, that a fire which had apparently been set last September, badly damaged the cemetery shed near the Church of the Comforter almost opposite School No. 5 on Wynkoop Place, and a similar attempt had been made last November.

A search through Freeman files also revealed that a fire of incendiary origin was discovered at the Church of the Comforter on May 31, 1917, ten days after that which badly damaged School No. 5 that year, and this was one of four

Gentlemen:

We, as reputable insurance agents, take extreme offense against the story published on the front page of The Freeman on May 9 relative to the insurance coverage for the town of Hurley and the village fire dept. The story is completely in error in every respect with the exception of the fact that The Preferred Accident Insurance Company, carriers of some part of the town and fire dept. insurance was ordered liquidated by the dept. of insurance. Had the writer of the published story wished to do so, he could not have harmed our agency or the reputation of Mr. Canavan or Mr. Krom as insurance agents any more fully than he did. He was also very shrewd in his wording of the story so as to convey the meaning to the public that we were negligent in our duties as insurance agent for an assured and at the same time leaving loopholes not visible to the general public to avoid possible future legal action. Austin Says War Can Be Won With Unity Still Intact

Statement Seems Aimed at MacArthur Stand About U. S. Waging War Alone

New Orleans, May 10 (AP)—Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegates to the United Nations, expressed confidence today that the UN can win the Korean War without sacrificing the unity of the free world.

Austin did not mention Gen. Douglas MacArthur by name, but his statement apparently was aimed at MacArthur's declaration that the United States should carry the fight to Red China even if it means going it alone.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Tulane University, where he was to receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, Austin declared that political and military considerations were so closely linked in the field of collective security that it was impossible to separate them.

The United States wanted the strength that comes with unity, Austin said. "We have it," he added, "we are determined to maintain it."

Marshall Says Ridgway Statements 'Not Parallel'

Truman Declares Congress Should Put Them on Status for Care

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Truman said today veterans of the Korean fighting should be given every benefit made available by the government to veterans of other wars.

He said it was up to Congress to change the law under which hospitalization was denied by the Veterans Administration to a Korean veteran for a non service-connected disability.

David R. Arellano, Jr., 21, of Tucson, Ariz., was denied admittance there yesterday to a VA hospital. He was then taken to Pima County Hospital and operated on for a throat cancer. Arrellano is a former marine bazooka squad member, discharged after Korean service.

VA officials said they could do nothing about the case because the Korean conflict has not been officially recognized as a war.

Mr. Truman was asked his reaction to the Veterans Administration's refusal.

VA Obeyed Law

He said he had no comment other than to say that he thought the Veterans Administration had answered the whole question. He said that the VA obeyed the law, and it was up to Congress to change the law.

And he said he thought that the Korean veterans were entitled to all the benefits that go to other veterans.

The House Veterans Affairs Committee meantime asked the VA regional office at Tucson for an explanation.

The VA central office here affirmed that, under the law, Arellano as a "peacetime" veteran would be entitled to hospitalization only if he had a disability discharge or was drawing compensation for a service-connected disability.

Quick Determination

But the VA said a determination could be made quickly whether Arellano's throat cancer was service-connected. If so he could be put on the compensation rolls and be entitled to hospitalization.

Wartime veterans, the VA said, are entitled to hospitalization for non-service-connected injuries and diseases if they cannot afford treatment and bed space is available. But for the purpose of VA hospitalization, the VA said World War 2 lasted from Dec. 7, 1941, to noon, Dec. 31, 1946.

Bills are now before the House and Senate to extend war veterans hospital benefits to veterans of the Korean action.

Says General Tried to Encourage Troops, in Reply to Query

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Secretary Marshall brushed aside today a suggestion that Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had made statements of the kind that led to firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He said they were not "parallel."

For the fourth day, Marshall was in the witness chair before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees. They are inquiring into General MacArthur's dismissal and the Korean war policy differences behind it.

At the outset of today's session, Senator Alexander Smith (R.-N. J.) quoted a two-months-old statement by Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway which said "it would be a tremendous victory for the United Nations, if the war ended with our forces in control up to the 38th Parallel."

Smith asked if that wasn't the very kind of statement MacArthur has been criticized for making without first clearing it with the Pentagon.

Not Sufficient Parallel

Marshall replied: "I don't think that there is a sufficient of a parallel there, senator. We have for example had no general public discussions regarding the 38th Paraliel so far as the commanders in the field and the government here in Washington (are concerned).

"There Ridgway was saying something to the encouragement of his forces, as he did in a statement that was released this morning."

It was not immediately brought out what later Ridgway statement Marshall had in mind. There was a statement today from Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the U. S. 10th Corps, saying the Red Chinese armies in Korea are "wilting on the vine" for lack of supplies.

Similarly, Smith raised questions yesterday about statements made by Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, air commander in the Far East. Stratemeyer had been quoted in interviews as stressing the handicaps imposed by the fact he was unable to strike at enemy planes while they were on the ground at Manchurian bases.

Effect Considered

In response to other questions from Smith, Marshall said the administration "very carefully considered" the effect on the Japanese people before removing MacArthur as occupation chief.

Smith had asked whether those who ousted MacArthur took into account "the inevitable adverse relations with Japan at this critical moment."

Marshall said it was generally

This is how Assistant District Attorney Julius A. Helfand sums up the indictment of 21 past and present policemen accused of accepting millions of dollars from the head of a $20,000,000-a-year Brooklyn gambling ring.

Fifty-six other policemen or former policemen were named as co-conspirators in the alleged huge money graft when the Brooklyn rackets-probing grand jury's indictment was opened yesterday in Kings County Court.

The nine-page document tells of police pay-offs by confessed boss bookie Harry Gross. From 1947 through 1949, it was charged, Gross handed over about $1,000,000 yearly to police.

Helfand said Gross even bought his way into the super rackets squad, set up to check on the honesty of other units within the police force.

This squad, Helfand said, "collected from the bookmakers money in bushel baskets."

The assistant DA added that both Brooklyn and Manhattan cops were on Gross' payoff list.

The indictment charges 50 overt acts, with 21 men actually indicted for conspiracy to obstruct justice. If convicted, they face a possible maximum of three years in prison and $1,000 fines.

The 56 men accused as co-conspirators will not be prosecuted, Helfand said, because he lacked corroborative evidence against them. They are expected to be available, however, as witnesses against the 21 accused policemen.

Among the indicted officers were two former inspectors, who allegedly accepted expensive television sets as gifts from Gross. They were identified as Frederick A. Hofsaes, 55, and John E. Flynn, 46.

Nineteen of the defendants were in court when Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz opened the sealed indictment. All pleaded innocent and were given 24 hours to raise bail ranging from $2,500 to $7,500 each. Of the two missing officers, it was described that one man was on leave and that the other temporarily was out of town.

Of the 21 indicted policemen, only 10 still are active on the force. Most of the others quit during the 16-month grand jury probe.

Shortly after the names were made pubic, Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy announced 32 patrolmen still on the force had been suspended. The commissioner said the suspended men eventually will face department trials.

Helfand said Gross' payoff money gave him the power to suggest police assignments, and that the suave bookie had crooked cops transferred where they would do him the most good.

Gross pleaded guilty to 66 gambling counts and admitted paying $1,000,000 a year protection to crooked police. He faces up to 65 years in prison.

Gross, originally held in lieu of $250,000 bail, now is free on $25,000 bond. The bookie now is talking freely to the prosecutors and the grand jury.

Employment Gains

Construction Industry Is Up 4.4 Per Cent in March in State

New York, N. Y., May 10 (AP) Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi reported today that employment in the contract construction industry in New York state totalled 218,500 in March.

This was an increase of 4.4 per cent over February, and of 17.2 per cent over March, 1950.

Seasonal gains in general building and in highway and heavy construction were credited for most of the increase.

Corsi said all branches of the construction industry reported higher weekly earnings and longer hours.

The average March weekly earnings for construction workers were reported as $86.62. The average work week was 34.6 hours.

Russians Send Grain To India—for Cash

New Delhi, India, May 10 (AP) — Famine-threatened India announced today that Soviet Russia had agreed to sell her for cash 50,000 tons of wheat —and that Russian ships are already on the way here with some of it.

A government announcement said the agreement to buy the 50,000 tons was the "first result" of negotiations with the Soviet Embassy here, begun last week, on a Russian offer to supply 500,000 tons.

Nehru also told Parliament that the bills before the U. S. Congress to send wheat to India "in our view have no political or discriminatory conditions attached to them and there can be no objection on these grounds to our accepting either of these two. We prefer the terms of the House bill because they are simpler," he added.

Dawson Is Witness at RFC Probe

Truman Aide Denies Abusing His Office to Influence Loans by RFC

'Nothing Wrong'

Blanket 'No' Is Given to Subcommittee's Charges

Washington, May 10 (AP)—White House Aide Donald S. Dawson swore to a Senate investigating subcommittee today he never abused his office to influence the handling of huge government loans, as the group has charged.

"To the best of my knowledge," Dawson told the investigating senators, "I have done nothing in connection with the RFC that is improper in any way."

With those words he wound up a formal and blanket denial of the subcommittee's charges that he has been involved in a "web of influence" which improperly affected the granting or withholding of loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Dawson then invited questions, and Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.), the subcommittee chairman, said the questioning would be extensive.

May Take 3 Days

Senator Fulbright (D.-Ark.) said it may take three days to complete the questioning he and other members of his banking subcommittee have prepared for Dawson. Dawson is President Truman's adviser for personnel—that is, political patronage.

A federal grand jury already is looking into the Fulbright subcommittee's accusations that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC), huge government lending agency, has yielded to pressure from Dawson and others to grant or withhold loans.

A management shakeup of the RFC resulted from the subcommittee's lengthy, public hearings on the charges, made in a report to the Senate.

Truman Saw No Reason

Mr. Truman, who had called the subcommittee's charges asinine, originally said he saw no reason for Dawson to testify before the subcommittee, and Dawson ignored its first invitation. But when Fulbright sent a second—a "request," he called it—Dawson agreed to appear. The White House said Mr. Truman consented.

Senator Tobey (R.-N. H.), who told the Senate recently "the White House Palace Guard" had tried to induce him to be less severe in his references to Dawson, said he plans to attend the hearings and may participate in the questioning.

He said David K. Niles, another presidential adviser, sent former Senator Burton K. Wheeler, a Montana Democrat, to ask him to "let up" on Dawson. Tobey said he considered it an improper request. Wheeler said there was nothing improper in his talking to Tobey.

Tobey is not a subcommittee member, but has a standing invitation to participate in its RFC inquiries because he is its former chairman.

President Bows to Police and Public After Riots Killing 3 Persons

Panama, Panama, May 10 (AP)—President Arnulfo Arias bowed to police and public pressure today and ordered restoration of the 1946 constitution which he scrapped last Monday. By this action, which won over police support, he hoped to stay in office.

Arias' decision came after a day and night of rioting in which at least three persons were killed and 110 wounded or injured as angry crowds surged through the capital's streets, clamoring for the president's ouster.

Arias' hold on the presidency was disputed by Vice President Alcibiades Arosemena, who was sworn in as president before the National Assembly just before midnight.

The Assembly, which Arias had dissolved Monday, met in a newspaper office, set itself up as a high court, and impeached the president. Then it summoned the vice-president.

Arias got powerful backing today from Col. Jose Antonio Remon, Panama's strong man and the head of the national police—the country's only army.

Announces Support

Declaring "what the people wanted has been achieved," by Arias' return of the 1946 charter, Remon announced his support of the president. Such support could be decisive.

Arias' decree nullifying his earlier action in replacing the 1946 constitution by the 1941 charter was issued after he and Remon had negotiated through emissaries for hours last night.

Police headquarters today hailed the decree as a "lofty and patriotic decision" and appealed to the people to lay aside their bitterness and support Arias as president.

Arosomena indicated when he appeared before the assembly to take the oath that he knew Remon would not support him, but said he would accept the assembly's offer.

Calls for Escort

After he was sworn in, the opposition radio called on the people to escort him to the presidential palace where Arias was secluded surrounded by Remon's police. The march, however, never came off, and Arosemena finally went home to await developments.

Panama looked like a dead city today. All business houses and stores were shut down. Transportation was at a standstill and all industry was halted excepted for electricity, gas, water and telephone service.

Enemy Is Withdrawing on 100-Mile Front to Escape Artillery

Tokyo, May 10 (AP)—Allied armored patrols today stabbed into Munsan, 21 miles northwest of Seoul, after wiping out a Red threat to flank the old South Korean capital.

Tanks and South Korean infantrymen hunted through Munsan without opposition, then withdrew.

Elsewhere along the 100 mile front the greatest obstacles encountered by probing tank patrols were mine fields covered by small arms fire.

Chinese armies are "wilting on the vine" because of lack of supplies, said Lt. Gen. Edward L. Almond, commander of the U. S. 10th Corps.

Warns of Attack

The Reds have withdrawn to keep out of range or UN artillery. Nevertheless, Almond cautioned, they presumably are preparing for another attack.

An Eighth Army spokesman said 6,000 North Korean Reds who had threatened to outflank Seoul were either killed or routed.

South Koreans were mopping up remnants of this force Thursday west of the Seoul-Munsan road. AP Correspondent John Randolph said Reds, fighting a delaying action, were firing down on the Republicans from the hills.

The tank-infantry patrol on the highway ran into no opposition. On a neighboring highway between Uijongbu and the 38th Parallel, another armored force hit a small Chinese screening unit 19 miles north of Seoul.

Other armored forces roamed the central front, reentered Chunchon 45 miles northwest of Seoul, and clanked into Inje on the eastern front without opposition.

Air Field Damaged

The Fifth Air Force reported it still was studying the results of Wednesday's raid on Sinuiju air field by 312 U. N. planes but it was clear they inflicted "considerable damage."

Eigth marine planes were hit in the raid, the greatest air strike of the war. But not a single raiding pilot was scratched, the air force said.

American F-86 Sabre jets flew patrol over Sinuiju Thursday, within sight of Russian-type jets parked in an air field across the border in Manchuria. The Red planes remained safely on the ground.

Thursday 275 U. S. Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers roared out before noon to strike at rail yards in half a dozen North Korean industrial cities.

President Denies Report on Acheson

Truman Says Secretary Not to Quit; Won't Recall O'Dwyer

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Truman said today there is no foundation in fact to reports that Secretary of State Acheson may leave office within a few months.

Mr. Truman also told a news conference:

Reports he will recall William O'Dwyer as ambassador to Mexico likewise are rumors, with no foundation in fact.

He is backing completely Price Administrator Michael DiSalle's meat price control order.

DiSalle's order has brought a flood of protests from packers and others.

Commenting on the protests, Mr. Truman said it was the same old fight. He added: When you tread on somebody's toes, he's going to scream.

He said the order was put to him in advance and he approved it.

Raised by Reporter

The question of Acheson's future in the administration was raised by a reporter who told Mr. Truman there had been reports Acheson was getting out within two weeks, two months and a few months.

The President said that was a rumor that had no foundation in fact.

Mr. Truman's attention was called then to published stories that former New York Mayor O'Dwyer would be recalled from Mexico City as the aftermath of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee's report and the later conviction of James Moran for perjury.

Moran was a close friend of O'Dwyer when the present ambassador was mayor.

The crime committee's report was highly critical of O'Dwyer, saying he had failed to combat crime vigorously while mayor.

Mr. Truman then said the stories O'Dwyer would be recalled were also a rumor that has no foundation in fact.

The 56 men accused as co-conspirators will not be prosecuted, Helfand said, because he lacked corroborative evidence against them. They are expected to be available, however, as witnesses against the 21 accused policemen.

Among the indicted officers were two former inspectors, who allegedly accepted expensive television sets as gifts from Gross. They were identified as Frederick A. Hofsaes, 55, and John E. Flynn, 46.

Nineteen of the defendants were in court when Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz opened the sealed indictment. All pleaded innocent and were given 24 hours to raise bail ranging from $2,500 to $7,500 each. Of the two missing officers, it was described that one man was on leave and that the other temporarily was out of town.

Of the 21 indicted policemen, only 10 still are active on the force. Most of the others quit during the 16-month grand jury probe.

Shortly after the names were made pubic, Police Commissioner Thomas F. Murphy announced 32 patrolmen still on the force had been suspended. The commissioner said the suspended men eventually will face department trials.

Helfand said Gross' payoff money gave him the power to suggest police assignments, and that the suave bookie had crooked cops transferred where they would do him the most good.

Gross pleaded guilty to 66 gambling counts and admitted paying $1,000,000 a year protection to crooked police. He faces up to 65 years in prison.

Gross, originally held in lieu of $250,000 bail, now is free on $25,000 bond. The bookie now is talking freely to the prosecutors and the grand jury.

Employment Gains

Construction Industry Is Up 4.4 Per Cent in March in State

New York, N. Y., May 10 (AP) Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi reported today that employment in the contract construction industry in New York state totalled 218,500 in March.

This was an increase of 4.4 per cent over February, and of 17.2 per cent over March, 1950.

Seasonal gains in general building and in highway and heavy construction were credited for most of the increase.

Corsi said all branches of the construction industry reported higher weekly earnings and longer hours.

The average March weekly earnings for construction workers were reported as $86.62. The average work week was 34.6 hours.

GRANDMA traveled only on rare occasions. The County Fair, a wedding, and once a year a shopping trip to the big city of Syracuse.

On these never forgotten days she would take one of us children, if we had been extra good. And how we looked forward to it.

We'd board the train at Pulaski, complete with a box luncheon. Cake, apples, baked bean sandwiches and other goodies, packed for the time when inevitable hunger would occur.

How at peace with the world I'd feel, as the telegraph poles whizzed by. Contentedly munching on those delicious sandwiches and dreaming great dreams of the day ahead.

PVT. ANTHONY CARCHIDI

Pvt. Anthony Carchidi of 40 Pettit avenue, son of James Carchidi and the late Mrs. Grace Carchidi, has completed his basic training at Camp Stewart, Ga. After spending a 10-day furlough with his family he returned to Ft. Custer, Mich., for further training.

Marine Private First Cass Kurt C. Heiselman, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher F. Heiselman of Grahamsville, was promoted to his present rank when he was graduated from boot camp on Paris Island, N. C., on April 21. He climaxed his recruit training by winning the marksman medal.

Heiselman enlisted in the Marine Corps on February 16. Upon graduating his platoon was selected the honor platoon.

Saugerties Seabee

George E. Magee, builder, third class, Construction Battalion, USN, of East Bridge street, Saugerties, returned to the United States this week aboard the amphibious attack transport USS Noble after nine months in Korea. He is a member of (Seabees) Amphibious Construction Battalion One. Battalion One was with the first assault troops ashore in the invasion of Wolmi-Do and Inchon. They set up docks, cleared beaches and built roads to insure the smooth flow of supplies. When it was decided to abandon the port of Inchon the Seabees were called upon to assist in the now historic redeployment of troops. The returning combat veterans will be assigned to the Amphibious Construction Battalion's "stateside" headquarters at the Naval Amphibious Base, Coronado, Calif.

Winchell Promoted

Pfc. Gene E. Winchell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winchell, 43 Wiltwyck avenue, has been promoted to the rank of corporal at the U. S. Marine Corps depot in Philadelphia, Pa. Corporal Winchell was graduated from Kingston High School before his enlistment in 1949.

She is also providing naval gunfire support for United Nations troops performing night harrassing raids on smaller targets along the siege line and patrolling the coast for blockade running junk traffic.

Too Young for Girls

Somewhere in Korea, May 10 (AP)—There's no admission charge at this motion picture theatre near the front lines. It is in a bombed railway tunnel once used by Reds as an ammunition depot. Sandbags protect both ends. It seats 260. The showhouse was improvised by men of the U. S. 25th Infantry Division. The first feature was "Treasure Island." The GIs liked the adventure scenes but mourned the lack of a love interest. "I guess Jim Hawkins (the film's boy hero) was too young for girls," said Pfc. Gerald A. Leonard, Flushing, N. Y.

Too Young for Girls

Somewhere in Korea, May 10 (AP)—There's no admission charge at this motion picture theatre near the front lines. It is in a bombed railway tunnel once used by Reds as an ammunition depot. Sandbags protect both ends. It seats 260. The showhouse was improvised by men of the U. S. 25th Infantry Division. The first feature was "Treasure Island." The GIs liked the adventure scenes but mourned the lack of a love interest. "I guess Jim Hawkins (the film's boy hero) was too young for girls," said Pfc. Gerald A. Leonard, Flushing, N. Y.

THE WATER SUPPLY

A new spotlight is turned on the water pollution problem by the Federal Security Agency. Announcing the conclusions of what it says is the first national survey to be made of city and industrial water pollution, the agency estimates that a ten-year program of developing waste treatment plants is needed. This is probably a fabulous understatement.

The report says that cities and industries have far outstripped facilities for the control of water pollution. As a matter of fact there has not even been a race between the two in a great many cases. In the past it has been too easy to dump wastes into a stream or lake, and to close our eyes to the fact that a valuable natural resource was thereby being destroyed without any compensating gain from the destruction. When forests were destroyed to make lumber, at least we gained the things made from lumber. When water is despoiled by preventable pollution, nothing is gained in return.

Most pollution is preventable. The federal survey listed nearly twelve thousand municipal sewer systems which empty into streams and lakes, and only a little more than half of these have treatment plants to curb the polluting effects. But the record of industry is worse. Only a fourth of more than ten thousand factory waste outlets are given the benefit of treatment.

As mechanical civilization advances, the amount of waste materials multiplies, and something must be done with them. But there is no excuse for continuing to dump them, without treatment, into the public waters, thinking that thereby we get rid of them. They return to haunt us, for pure water is becoming scarce.

APPRECIATING JEFFERSON

Those abroad sometimes have a clearer perspective on American history than we who live here. The London Times Literary supplement, reviewing the first volume of the immense collection of the writing of Thomas Jefferson, is sure that he ranks with Washington and Lincoln as one of the three greatest Americans.

This idea was not always held. Earlier American students of Jefferson were apt to be brought up as disciples of Jefferson's great rival, Alexander Hamilton. This explains Theodore Roosevelt's contempt for the one president who surpassed him in versatility.

Now there is true appreciation for the author of the Declaration of Independence, the statute establishing religious liberty in Virginia, and the purchase of the Louisiana Territory which ensured that this would be a great nation and not a mere cluster of Atlantic Coast colonies.

And what a man he was! At 32, says James Parton, an early editor, Jefferson "could calculate an eclipse, survey an estate, tie an artery, plan an edifice, break a horse, dance a minuet, and play the violin." Monticello and the University of Virginia testify to his architectural taste, and H. L. Mencken, who rarely eulogizes anybody, calls him a master of prose comparable with Lincoln. Well may the London magazine feel that he surpasses Franklin and is comparable, for universality of genius, only with Goethe.

ROLLING FREIGHT

No motorist likes to have his car close to a railroad track when a freight train is passing, for there is something awesome about the force evident in its weight and speed. Still less would he care to drive along beside the moving train. Yet daily he passes on the road the same kind of awesome force, in shorter packages.

The trucks have come to stay; they have been woven into the fabric of our economic life and if they could be suddenly taken ... the shock would be inconceivable. From now on they must always be taken ... account in planning highway systems. Until highways are better prepared for ..., the motorist will improve his peace ... mind and his chance for long life if he ... the habit of paying to them the respect due to rolling cargo measured not in pounds but in tons.

The difference between doing what you like and liking what you do is often the difference between stumbling and gliding up the ladder of success.

AUTOMATICS

It used to be said of the fire-horse that when he (or was it a she?) heard a gong, he just automatically went to the wagon to be hitched.

Automatics must be studied carefully by child psychologists, perhaps to make humans more like the obsolete fire-horse. A good way to start the training would perhaps be a course in eavesdropping with Miss Vernice Anderson as the teacher, she having scooped the world in doing automatically what parents used to tell children they should not do at all, namely, eavesdrop.

Miss Anderson makes the point that when she stood behind a door and listened to the conversation between General MacArthur and President Truman, she did it automatically. She also took down her stenographic notes automatically. She did not destroy the notes automatically but kept them, typed them and gave them to her boss, Dr. Philip Jessup, of the State Department and the Institute of Pacific Relations, automatically.

That is an awful lot of automatic action for a young lady and represents a high degree of aptitude in the field. She was brought on from Washington to Wake Island apparently to serve orange juice and other liquids, the others not being specified in any of the accounts given, but it might be presumed that automatic bourbon was included. However, that is a matter of speculation and not pertinent to automatic responses, which is the subject of this course of study.

I also would include key-hole peeping in this course for the young. There is nothing in the record to show that Miss Anderson has any aptitude for that. She apparently has cultivated her ears rather than her eyes and is able to hear through walls and closed doors. The peep-holers will have to be found elsewhere in the State Department or in central intelligence.

Children would gain great knowledge quickly if they could only peep through keyholes, particularly after they had been ordered to bed. It might improve them more effectively than television, which is in the open and therefore evokes no special skills. Automatic peep-holing could be developed into a fine art with prizes given each year by the Freedoms Foundation for those who never fail.

Microphone-placing in flower pots might also help the next generations. They could automatically hear papa and mamma discussing family affairs, but better still it would build the ambitions of a young man. He could perhaps write on his application for a job in the State Department that he placed microphones in his sister's boudoir when he was 10 and tapped the telephone wires in the house by the time he was 14. That ought to fit him to be an expert on the Far East, to say nothing of the Middle East and Germany.

These things can, of course, become automatic, or what we used to call, second nature. For instance, it used to be second nature for small boys to peep-hole through the ball park fence. That was second nature, like jumping into a swimming hole or putting a garter snake in a bottle or putting a little girl's hair in the inkwell. Second nature can be something awful if you fail to curb it. Automatics possesses an additional quality because it requires training in some such place as the State Department.

And that automatically leads to some observations concerning Miss Vernice Anderson's boss, Philip Jessup, who is one of the high mucky-mucks in the State Department. He seems to be involved in everything, having come to that department from a professorship of international law at Columbia University and the Institute of Pacific Relations. He has been active in helping the country run its foreign relations, on and off, since 1924, but really did not mature until 1945, since when he has really been a big factor, second only in influence and prestige to Dean Acheson. He goes to all the conferences and makes speeches on great matters. He has never had any Far Eastern experience but purports to be an expert on the subject through his connections with the Institute of Pacific Relations whose files the McCarran Committee is now studying. He has generally been identified with those other Far Eastern experts whose predilections brought us to our present dismay.

Curious that the eavesdropping Miss Anderson, whose automatics led her to take down an off-the-cuff, unrecorded conversation between the President and General MacArthur, should be working for Dr. Philip Jessup!

That Body of Yours

A pain in the stomach which later moved downward to the right side and remained there was once called "inflammation of the bowels," and many suffering from it died. Later this condition became known as appendicitis, and because it was given "expectant" treatment (waiting to see what would happen in a day or two), still many patients died, especially if a laxative or a purgative was given to drive bad or poisonous food out of the stomach and intestine. Under this method of treatment, as many as 10 per cent died.

Because thoughtful physicians had found that the death rate was higher among those who were given a purge or had been given some food, the physicians and surgeons of Philadelphia, some years ago, determined to obtain a low death rate by (a) early operation, (b) no food and (c) no laxative or purgative. The result was so satisfactory that throughout the whole civilized world, these three steps are followed with the result that the death rate is less than 1 in 100.

"Within recent years the death rate of appendicitis in United States and Canada has fallen from a record high of 15.2 per 100,000 population in 1930 to 2.9 of the same population. The past five years at Touro Infirmary have shown a reduction in the death rate of two-thirds over the five-year period corresponding to the reduction reported by the National Office for Vital Statistics for the same period."

What caused and is causing this great reduction in the death rate of appendicitis?

The antibiotic drugs—penicillin and sulfa drugs—early operation, simplified methods for injecting fluids and blood into the circulation have, in great part, caused the reduction in the death rate.

Besides these measures, it is now known not only by physicians but by laymen also, how to recognize appendicitis and have the patient admitted to hospital immediately.

In the cases of acute appendicitis, studied, over one-half of the deaths occurred in the age group over 40. Delay in recognizing appendictis and the giving of a purge were the principal factors in causing death.

Remember, early operation, no food, no purgative, saves life.

A High Price to Pay for Nothing

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Harry's Letters—Handsome Senator Burnet Rhett Maybank of South Carolina was attending a White House conference the other day on price controls, inflation and defense mobilization. Some of the price-control measures were not too popular with his constituents and Senator Maybank remarked:

"Mr. President, I am getting an awful lot of letters expressing views on this. Would you like to look them over?"

Mr. Truman replied that he, too, had received hundreds of letters and countered by asking Maybank if he would like to have him, Truman, send his letters to Maybank.

"Send me any letters you want to, Mr. President," replied the senator from South Carolina, "but for God's sake, don't write me any!"

No Peace—The Indian ambassador to China, Sardar Pannikkar, has cabled Prime Minister Nehru of India an important message advising that there is no chance of peace with the Chinese.

His cable is significant because it was ambassador Pannikkar who first warned the United States and the U.N. that Chinese troops were going to intervene in Korea. This warning was made in early September, and although MacArthur now says he got no warning from anyone, Pannikkar's warning was not only sent him by the State Department but was published in this column on Sept. 17.

What is important to remember now, however, is that during December and January Ambassador Pannikkar favored conciliation toward the Chinese, felt there was a chance for a military truce.

Now he has reversed himself, advises that China has no intention whatever of negotiating peace and the United Nations might just as well get tough.

Lively Publisher—Copyreaders of the New Orleans Times-Picayune are in for trouble. They may have to censor Hedda Hopper's Hollywood column in the future.

The Times-Picayune, now facing a Justice Department anti-trust suit, has claimed that publisher Leonard Nicholson is too ill to testify. Justice Department lawyers countered that Mr. Nicholson was well enough to attend the American Newspaper Publishers convention at the Waldorf in New York, but Judge Earl Christenberry ruled that Nicholson would only have to answer written questions, not appear in court personally.

Next day, the Times-Pacayune carried a story recounting the court argument and pointing out that its publisher was too ill to testify. But on an inside column of the same paper, Hedda Hopper indicated that publisher Nicholson was quite a gay blade. She told how he attended a party in the New York dressing room of Gertrude Lawrence, starring in "The King and I," along with Kent Cooper, Mrs. Robert McCormick, and John Horne of the Rocky Mount, N. C. Telegram.

Justice Department attorneys feel that if the Times-Picayune publisher was able to attend a theatrical party, he is well enough to appear in court. But they are wondering what publisher Nicholson is saying to his copyreaders who failed to censor Hedda Hopper's column.

War Criminal—The U. S. Immigration Office at Los Angeles has been holding closed hearings regarding one of the most notorious war criminals who so far has escaped punishment. He is Andre Artukovitch, minister of interior and in charge of the police for Hitler's puppet government at the time the Nazis occupied Yugoslavia.

For some strange reason, so far unexplained, Artukovitch managed to enter the United States, and has been living near Los Angeles, where he is working with his brother, John M. Artukovitch, a contractor.

Why he has been allowed to stay here remains a mystery. For some years, the Yugoslav government has been trying to find him, since, under him, one million Serbs and Jews were killed.

MacArthur and Central Intelligence—Here are the facts about the President's charge that MacArthur would not let Central Intelligence operate in the Korean-Japanese Theatre—a charge that MacArthur described as "tommyrot."

Actually Central Intelligence did have two agents in Japan, but MacArthur's intelligence chief, Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, now relieved, would not let them operate except under his control. Thus their movements were restricted and they could not collect their own information. All they could do was evaluate information collected by Gen. Willoughby's agents. MacArthur upheld Willoughby on this.

Later, when Gen. Bedell Smith took over Central Intelligence, he asked Gen. MacArthur to give Central Intelligence free rein, offered to appoint a man who would be entirely acceptable to MacArthur. This was refused. Later Smith flew to Tokyo to persuade MacArthur personally, and it was after this—in January—that Central Intelligence finally was given free rein. This was after the disastrous November-December Korean retreat in which MacArthur's intelligence appeared to have been so wrong.

Struggle for Oil—The British government has accused the United States of double-crossing it in Iran by trying to take over the British government-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. Representatives of three American oil companies have secretly approached the Iranian government with offers to manage the Anglo-Iranian Company now that it is being nationalized.

As a result, British Foreign Minister Morrison, furious, told U. S. Ambassador Walter Gifford in London that the United States seems to be playing both sides of the street. On one hand it urges the British to accept Iran's decision to nationalize oil. On the other hand, it passes word to American oil companies to try to operate the wells and freeze out the British.

Ambassador Gifford (he used to be head of American Telephone and Telegraph) replied that the U. S. government had nothing to do with any secret negotiations by American oil companies; on the contrary, tried to discourage any such underhanded trick.

MacArthur's Airplane—MacArthur's airplane, the Bataan, was returned to the air force three days after the air force had diplomatically suggested that it would like to have the plane returned to Tokyo where it is supposed to be based for the use of the new Tokyo commander, Lieut. Gen. Matt Ridgway.

The air force made the suggestion to Col. Anthony Story, the air force pilot who has been attached to MacArthur and who has been flying him back and forth between Washington, New York, Tennessee and other points. The plane costs $225 an hour to operate.

Today in Washington

So Here We Go Again — Another Pearl Harbor Investigation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 10—It's just another Pearl Harbor investigation all over again.

Back in December 1941, General Marshall and Admiral Stark thought that someone had told General Short and Admiral Kimmel what Washington knew about the forthcoming attack through breaking the Japanese code—but nobody did tell them.

Today, it comes out that the President and the secretary of state and the secretary of defense and Special Assistant Averell Harriman and General Bradley, who advised that General MacArthur be summarily dismissed, never told him that any of the public statements he had made during the preceding four weeks were violative of military orders or any other orders relating to policy statements.

The administration may have thought that General MacArthur, at a distance of 10,000 miles, was a mind reader and as well informed about the state of mind of persons in Washington as were the five men who fired him, but there is not a single bit of evidence in the record after three days of testimony to support that point.

In fact, the official record gets worse for the administration in revealing the same kind of bad liaison in the last few months with Tokyo as the War and Navy Departments had with Pearl Harbor ten years ago.

Not a single word of disapproval went to General MacArthur on December 6 last, when a general directive was issued advising all departments and all persons in the field as well as in Washington to clear policy statements with the departments back home. Although General Marshall now testifies that the administration didn't like General MacArthur's answers to the questions of the press prior to December 6—even though they primarily concerned military matters in his theatre of action—not a word of such criticism was ever relayed to General MacArthur. He could as easily have inferred that there were no complaints here.

Not a single word of criticism or of any other kind went to General MacArthur specifically referring to his own statements or pointing out any deviation from policy to him between Dec. 6, 1950, when the general directive was issued, and the day he was dismissed—April 11, 1951.

The now famous letter which General MacArthur wrote in routine fashion, answering an inquiry from Representative Joseph Martin, Republican, of Massachusetts, was dated March 20 at Tokyo. Although he had written letters to members of Congress and had talked with them in Tokyo during a period of nearly six years and they had made public the views which the general gave them, not a single word of criticism of his relations with members of Congress had ever been conveyed to him by his superiors in Washington.

When, on March 24 last, General MacArthur addressed a plea to the Chinese commander to agree to a "cease fire," not a single word of the statement or declaration being planned by the government here—and which it says it was circulating among 13 governments—had been sent to MacArthur for his information. Actually it is reliably reported that he had prepared his communication to the Chinese commander ten days before and was waiting for an opportune moment to release it. Likewise, Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the U.N., has since stated publicly that a military commander in the field has the right to address the enemy commander on armistice terms at any time.

The message that was sent to MacArthur saying the State Department was "planning" some kind of a peace offer to the Red Chinese did not give him any details. It was a speculative message and failed to instruct him not to make any communication on this or any other subject related to it. The home-office manager who failed to keep a branch manager better informed than that on company policy would be the one dismissed in American business today.

Even when the MacArthur statement to the Chinese commander was published the joint chiefs merely asked him a day afterward to be sure and report if any request for armistice came from the enemy commander. There was not a word of criticism or of approval or disapproval sent General MacArthur concerning that statement to the Red Chinese commander.

Secretary Marshall has testified, moreover, that it was an "accumulation" of things that caused the dismissal, but what it looks like is an accumulation of hostile thoughts pent up somewhere in the Pentagon and the White House which came to a head when General MacArthur answered a letter that Representative Martin, on his own initiative, made public.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

It seems the front pages of newspapers have always carried war news. From my father's collection I have the Kingston Daily Freeman of Saturday, August 31, 1918. One of the headings read "Division 1 men who entrain next week. Some of the names are, Walter Buddenhagen, James A. Dwyer, Alexander P. DeKoskie, Henry Lehner, Martin Finch, Aaron Lipkin, Sol Avnet, Barney Lankiskey, Harry L. Kirchner."

Perhaps some of the folks remember the details of the tablet of names of the boys in the armed services which for many years has been displayed in front of the city hall. In the above paper it tells of the industrial workers of Kingston collecting funds to pay for it. Temporary chairman, at the time was Thomas P. Kelly of the Local Plumbers' Union, No. 223. He presided at the special meeting on Friday, August 30, 1918, to consider Mayor Canfield's suggestion that the industrial workers of Kingston collect such a fund to pay for the erection of the tablet containing the names of local boys in World War I. As we now know, it was another good suggestion of Mayor Canfield's, and became a permanent record which wind, rains and storms were not able to demolish, like some of the recent wooden structures of the present World War 2.

In the 1918 paper it said in part: Mayor Canfield brought to the meeting a water color picture of the proposed tablet, which met with the approval of those present. A cut of that tablet was printed in Friday's paper of that year. "The cost of erecting a tablet such as proposed would depend entirely upon the size, desires and material used. A worthy memorial to our boys would cost at least $2,500 to $3,000 or more. . . . There was no question that every one of the 5,000 industrial workers would gladly contribute to this fund." Some of the men present with Mayor Canfield were: Joseph Disch of Charles Ramsey Co., Michael Buboltz of Kingston Ship Building Corp., W. F. Tierney and George W. Moore of Palen plant, Thomas Kelly of the Plumbers' Union, H. T. Van Deusen of Canfield's Supply Co., Frank Richardson of the Lace Mills, Fred Scheffel of Brown & Dressel, Fred Reinhardt of the Brewery Union, W. C. Millham of West Shore car shops, and Frank Strobel of Central Trade and Labor Council. Who remembers more about the erection of this tablet?

The other day while on Pine Grove avenue, I remember markers were put up on all the handsome trees for the local boys in service during the past war. What happened to them? To my way of thinking, there should be a local committee who would see that these markers, monuments and other war memos erected in good faith to be perpetual should be taken care of through the years. Perhaps once again the industrial workers could handle the situation, for they certainly put up a fine tablet, which is in as excellent condition today as it was when it was put up.

Another idea which now comes to my mind, the magnificent statues which are in the Academy Green Park need spot lights. In the day time they can hardly be seen because they are about the same color as the foliage and at night they disappear altogether although they are of mammoth size. Also there should be a tablet stating where they came from, and something about the sculpture. In years to come it will be more and more difficult to obtain information about them.

Albert Denhardt, of Hurley, died.

John J. Plunkett, Hudson river boat captain, died in New York.

May 10, 1941—The pajama section of the Manhattan Shirt Co., closed down for two years, was expected to reopen.

The state reopened forests in the Catskills to sportsmen after continued rains ended a dry spell.

THE WATER SUPPLY

A new spotlight is turned on the water pollution problem by the Federal Security Agency. Announcing the conclusions of what it says is the first national survey to be made of city and industrial water pollution, the agency estimates that a ten-year program of developing waste treatment plants is needed. This is probably a fabulous understatement.

The report says that cities and industries have far outstripped facilities for the control of water pollution. As a matter of fact there has not even been a race between the two in a great many cases. In the past it has been too easy to dump wastes into a stream or lake, and to close our eyes to the fact that a valuable natural resource was thereby being destroyed without any compensating gain from the destruction. When forests were destroyed to make lumber, at least we gained the things made from lumber. When water is despoiled by preventable pollution, nothing is gained in return.

Most pollution is preventable. The federal survey listed nearly twelve thousand municipal sewer systems which empty into streams and lakes, and only a little more than half of these have treatment plants to curb the polluting effects. But the record of industry is worse. Only a fourth of more than ten thousand factory waste outlets are given the benefit of treatment.

As mechanical civilization advances, the amount of waste materials multiplies, and something must be done with them. But there is no excuse for continuing to dump them, without treatment, into the public waters, thinking that thereby we get rid of them. They return to haunt us, for pure water is becoming scarce.

APPRECIATING JEFFERSON

Those abroad sometimes have a clearer perspective on American history than we who live here. The London Times Literary supplement, reviewing the first volume of the immense collection of the writing of Thomas Jefferson, is sure that he ranks with Washington and Lincoln as one of the three greatest Americans.

This idea was not always held. Earlier American students of Jefferson were apt to be brought up as disciples of Jefferson's great rival, Alexander Hamilton. This explains Theodore Roosevelt's contempt for the one president who surpassed him in versatility.

Now there is true appreciation for the author of the Declaration of Independence, the statute establishing religious liberty in Virginia, and the purchase of the Louisiana Territory which ensured that this would be a great nation and not a mere cluster of Atlantic Coast colonies.

And what a man he was! At 32, says James Parton, an early editor, Jefferson "could calculate an eclipse, survey an estate, tie an artery, plan an edifice, break a horse, dance a minuet, and play the violin." Monticello and the University of Virginia testify to his architectural taste, and H. L. Mencken, who rarely eulogizes anybody, calls him a master of prose comparable with Lincoln. Well may the London magazine feel that he surpasses Franklin and is comparable, for universality of genius, only with Goethe.

ROLLING FREIGHT

No motorist likes to have his car close to a railroad track when a freight train is passing, for there is something awesome about the force evident in its weight and speed. Still less would he care to drive along beside the moving train. Yet daily he passes on the road the same kind of awesome force, in shorter packages.

The trucks have come to stay; they have been woven into the fabric of our economic life and if they could be suddenly taken [illegible] the shock would be inconceivable. From now on they must always be taken account in planning highway systems. Until highways are better prepared for [illegible], the motorist will improve his peace of mind and his chance for long life if he makes the habit of paying to them the respect due to rolling cargo measured not in pounds but in tons.

The difference between doing what you like and liking what you do is often the difference between stumbling and gliding up the ladder of success.

AUTOMATICS

It used to be said of the fire-horse that when he (or was it a she?) heard a gong, he just automatically went to the wagon to be hitched.

Automatics must be studied carefully by child psychologists, perhaps to make humans more like the obsolete fire-horse. A good way to start the training would perhaps be a course in eavesdropping with Miss Vernice Anderson as the teacher, she having scooped the world in doing automatically what parents used to tell children they should not do at all, namely, eavesdrop.

Miss Anderson makes the point that when she stood behind a door and listened to the conversation between General MacArthur and President Truman, she did it automatically. She also took down her stenographic notes automatically. She did not destroy the notes automatically but kept them, typed them and gave them to her boss, Dr. Philip Jessup, of the State Department and the Institute of Pacific Relations, automatically.

That is an awful lot of automatic action for a young lady and represents a high degree of aptitude in the field. She was brought on from Washington to Wake Island apparently to serve orange juice and other liquids, the others not being specified in any of the accounts given, but it might be presumed that automatic bourbon was included. However, that is a matter of speculation and not pertinent to automatic responses, which is the subject of this course of study.

I also would include key-hole peeping in this course for the young. There is nothing in the record to show that Miss Anderson has any aptitude for that. She apparently has cultivated her ears rather than her eyes and is able to hear through walls and closed doors. The peep-holers will have to be found elsewhere in the State Department or in central intelligence.

Children would gain great knowledge quickly if they could only peep through keyholes, particularly after they had been ordered to bed. It might improve them more effectively than television, which is in the open and therefore evokes no special skills. Automatic peep-holing could be developed into a fine art with prizes given each year by the Freedoms Foundation for those who never fail.

Microphone-placing in flower pots might also help the next generations. They could automatically hear papa and mamma discussing family affairs, but better still it would build the ambitions of a young man. He could perhaps write on his application for a job in the State Department that he placed microphones in his sister's boudoir when he was 10 and tapped the telephone wires in the house by the time he was 14. That ought to fit him to be an expert on the Far East, to say nothing of the Middle East and Germany.

These things can, of course, become automatic, or what we used to call second nature. For instance, it used to be second nature for small boys to peep-hole through the ball park fence. That was second nature, like jumping into a swimming hole or putting a garter snake in a bottle or putting a little girl's hair in the inkwell. Second nature can be something awful if you fail to curb it. Automatics possesses an additional quality because it requires training in some such place as the State Department.

And that automatically leads to some observations concerning Miss Vernice Anderson's boss, Philip Jessup, who is one of the high mucky-mucks in the State Department. He seems to be involved in everything, having come to that department from a professorship of international law at Columbia University and the Institute of Pacific Relations. He has been active in helping the country run its foreign relations, on and off, since 1924, but really did not mature until 1945, since when he has really been a big factor, second only in influence and prestige to Dean Acheson. He goes to all the conferences and makes speeches on great matters. He has never had any Far Eastern experience but purports to be an expert on the subject through his connections with the Institute of Pacific Relations whose files the McCarran Committee is now studying. He has generally been identified with those other Far Eastern experts whose predilections brought us to our present dismay.

Curious that the eavesdropping Miss Anderson, whose automatics led her to take down an off-the-cuff, unrecorded conversation between the President and General MacArthur, should be working for Dr. Philip Jessup!

A pain in the stomach which later moved downward to the right side and remained there was once called "inflammation of the bowels," and many suffering from it died. Later this condition became known as appendicitis, and because it was given "expectant" treatment (waiting to see what would happen in a day or two), still many patients died, especially if a laxative or a purgative was given to drive bad or poisonous food out of the stomach and intestine. Under this method of treatment, as many as 10 per cent died.

Because thoughtful physicians had found that the death rate was higher among those who were given a purge or had been given some food, the physicians and surgeons of Philadelphia, some years ago, determined to obtain a low death rate by (a) early operation, (b) no food and (c) no laxative or purgative. The result was so satisfactory that throughout the whole civilized world, these three steps are followed with the result that the death rate is less than 1 in 100.

"Within recent years the death rate of appendicitis in United States and Canada has fallen from a record high of 15.2 per 100,000 population in 1930 to 2.9 of the same population. The past five years at Touro Infirmary have shown a reduction in the death rate of two-thirds over the five-year period corresponding to the reduction reported by the National Office for Vital Statistics for the same period."

What caused and is causing this great reduction in the death rate of appendicitis?

The antibiotic drugs—penicillin and sulfa drugs—early operation, simplified methods for injecting fluids and blood into the circulation have, in great part, caused the reduction in the death rate.

Besides these measures, it is now known not only by physicians but by laymen also, how to recognize appendicitis and have the patient admitted to hospital immediately.

In the cases of acute appendicitis, studied, over one-half of the deaths occurred in the age group over 40. Delay in recognizing appendictis and the giving of a purge were the principal factors in causing death.

Remember, early operation, no food, no purgative, saves life.

A High Price to Pay for Nothing

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Harry's Letters—Handsome Senator Burnet Rhett Maybank of South Carolina was attending a White House conference the other day on price controls, inflation and defense mobilization. Some of the price-control measures were not too popular with his constituents and Senator Maybank remarked:

"Mr. President, I am getting an awful lot of letters expressing views on this. Would you like to look them over?"

Mr. Truman replied that he, too, had received hundreds of letters and countered by asking Maybank if he would like to have him, Truman, send his letters to Maybank.

"Send me any letters you want to, Mr. President," replied the senator from South Carolina, "but for God's sake, don't write me any!"

No Peace—The Indian ambassador to China, Sardar Pannikkar, has cabled Prime Minister Nehru of India an important message advising that there is no chance of peace with the Chinese.

His cable is significant because it was ambassador Pannikkar who first warned the United States and the U.N. that Chinese troops were going to intervene in Korea. This warning was made in early September, and although MacArthur now says he got no warning from anyone, Pannikkar's warning was not only sent him by the State Department but was published in this column on Sept. 17.

What is important to remember now, however, is that during December and January Ambassador Pannikkar favored conciliation toward the Chinese, felt there was a chance for a military truce.

Now he has reversed himself, advises that China has no intention whatever of negotiating peace and the United Nations might just as well get tough.

Lively Publisher—Copyreaders of the New Orleans Times-Picayune are in for trouble. They may have to censor Hedda Hopper's Hollywood column in the future.

The Times-Picayune, now facing a Justice Department antitrust suit, has claimed that publisher Leonard Nicholson is too ill to testify. Justice Department lawyers countered that Mr. Nicholson was well enough to attend the American Newspaper Publishers convention at the Waldorf in New York, but Judge Earl Christenberry ruled that Nicholson would only have to answer written questions, not appear in court personally.

Next day, the Times-Pacayune carried a story recounting the court argument and pointing out that its publisher was too ill to testify. But on an inside column of the same paper, Hedda Hopper indicated that publisher Nicholson was quite a gay blade. She told how he attended a party in the New York dressing room of Gertrude Lawrence, starring in "The King and I," along with Kent Cooper, Mrs. Robert McCormick, and John Horne of the Rocky Mount, N. C. Telegram.

Justice Department attorneys feel that if the Times-Picayune publisher was able to attend a theatrical party, he is well enough to appear in court. But they are wondering what publisher Nicholson is saying to his copyreaders who failed to censor Hedda Hopper's column.

War Criminal—The U. S. Immigration Office at Los Angeles has been holding closed hearings regarding one of the most notorious war criminals who so far has escaped punishment. He is Andre Artukovitch, minister of interior and in charge of the police for Hitler's puppet government at the time the Nazis occupied Yugoslavia.

For some strange reason, so far unexplained, Artukovitch managed to enter the United States, and has been living near Los Angeles, where he is working with his brother, John M. Artukovitch, a contractor.

Why he has been allowed to stay here remains a mystery. For some years, the Yugoslav government has been trying to find him, since, under him, one million Serbs and Jews were killed.

MacArthur and Central Intelligence—Here are the facts about the President's charge that MacArthur would not let Central Intelligence operate in the Korean-Japanese Theatre—a charge that MacArthur described as "tommy-rot."

Actually Central Intelligence did have two agents in Japan, but MacArthur's intelligence chief, Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, now relieved, would not let them operate except under his control. Thus their movements were restricted and they could not collect their own information. All they could do was evaluate information collected by Gen. Willoughby's agents. MacArthur upheld Willoughby on this.

Later, when Gen. Bedell Smith took over Central Intelligence, he asked Gen. MacArthur to give Central Intelligence free rein, offered to appoint a man who would be entirely acceptable to MacArthur. This was refused. Later Smith flew to Tokyo to persuade MacArthur personally, and it was after this—in January—that Central Intelligence finally was given free rein. This was after the disastrous November-December Korean retreat in which MacArthur's intelligence appeared to have been so wrong.

Struggle for Oil—The British government has accused the United States of double-crossing it in Iran by trying to take over the British government-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. Representatives of three American oil companies have secretly approached the Iranian government with offers to manage the Anglo-Iranian Company now that it is being nationalized.

As a result, British Foreign Minister Morrison, furious, told U. S. Ambassador Walter Gifford in London that the United States seems to be playing both sides of the street. On one hand it urges the British to accept Iran's decision to nationalize oil. On the other hand, it passes word to American oil companies to try to operate the wells and freeze out the British.

Ambassador Gifford (he used to be head of American Telephone and Telegraph) replied that the U. S. government had nothing to do with any secret negotiations by American oil companies; on the contrary, tried to discourage any such underhanded trick.

MacArthur's Airplane—MacArthur's airplane, the Bataan, was returned to the air force three days after the air force had diplomatically suggested that it would like to have the plane returned to Tokyo where it is supposed to be based for the use of the new Tokyo commander, Lieut. Gen. Matt Ridgway.

The air force made the suggestion to Col. Anthony Story, the air force pilot who has been attached to MacArthur and who has been flying him back and forth between Washington, New York, Tennessee and other points. The plane costs $225 an hour to operate.

So Here We Go Again — Another Pearl Harbor Investigation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 10—It's just another Pearl Harbor investigation all over again.

Back in December 1941, General Marshall and Admiral Stark thought that someone had told General Short and Admiral Kimmel what Washington knew about the forthcoming attack through breaking the Japanese code—but nobody did tell them.

Today, it comes out that the President and the secretary of state and the secretary of defense and Special Assistant Averell Harriman and General Bradley, who advised that General MacArthur be summarily dismissed, never told him that any of the public statements he had made during the preceding four weeks were violative of military orders or any other orders relating to policy statements.

The administration may have thought that General MacArthur, at a distance of 10,000 miles, was a mind reader and as well informed about the state of mind of persons in Washington as were the five men who fired him, but there is not a single bit of evidence in the record after three days of testimony to support that point.

In fact, the official record gets worse for the administration in revealing the same kind of bad liaison in the last few months with Tokyo as the War and Navy Departments had with Pearl Harbor ten years ago.

Not a single word of disapproval went to General MacArthur on December 6 last, when a general directive was issued advising all departments and all persons in the field as well as in Washington to clear policy statements with the departments back home. Although General Marshall now testifies that the administration didn't like General MacArthur's answers to the questions of the press prior to December 6—even though they primarily concerned military matters in his theatre of action—not a word of such criticism was ever relayed to General MacArthur. He could as easily have inferred that there were no complaints here.

Not a single word of criticism or of any other kind went to General MacArthur specifically referring to his own statements or pointing out any deviation from policy to him between Dec. 6, 1950, when the general directive was issued, and the day he was dismissed—April 11, 1951.

The now famous letter which General MacArthur wrote in routine fashion, answering an inquiry from Representative Joseph Martin, Republican, of Massachusetts, was dated March 20 at Tokyo. Although he had written letters to members of Congress and had talked with them in Tokyo during a period of nearly six years and they had made public the views which the general gave them, not a single word of criticism of his relations with members of Congress had ever been conveyed to him by his superiors in Washington.

When, on March 24 last, General MacArthur addressed a plea to the Chinese commander to agree to a "cease fire," not a single word of the statement or declaration being planned by the government here—and which it says it was circulating among 13 governments—had been sent to MacArthur for his information. Actually it is reliably reported that he had prepared his communication to the Chinese commander ten days before and was waiting for an opportune moment to release it. Likewise, Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the U.N., has since stated publicly that a military commander in the field has the right to address the enemy commander on armistice terms at any time.

The message that was sent to MacArthur saying the State Department was "planning" some kind of a peace offer to the Red Chinese did not give him any details. It was a speculative message and failed to instruct him not to make any communication on this or any other subject related to it. The home-office manager who failed to keep a branch manager better informed than that on company policy would be the one dismissed in American business today.

Even when the MacArthur statement to the Chinese commander was published the joint chiefs merely asked him a day afterward to be sure and report if any request for armistice came from the enemy commander. There was not a word of criticism or of approval or disapproval sent General MacArthur concerning that statement to the Red Chinese commander.

Secretary Marshall has testified, moreover, that it was an "accumulation" of things that caused the dismissal, but what it looks like is an accumulation of hostile thoughts pent up somewhere in the Pentagon and the White House which came to a head when General MacArthur answered a letter that Representative Martin, on his own initiative, made public.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

It seems the front pages of newspapers have always carried war news. From my father's collection I have the Kingston Daily Freeman of Saturday, August 31, 1918. One of the headings read "Division 1 men who entrain next week. Some of the names are, Walter Buddenhagen, James A. Dwyer, Alexander P. DeKoskie, Henry Lehner, Martin Finch, Aaron Lipkin, Sol Avnet, Barney Lankiskey, Harry L. Kirchner."

Perhaps some of the folks remember the details of the tablet of names of the boys in the armed services which for many years has been displayed in front of the city hall. In the above paper it tells of the industrial workers of Kingston collecting funds to pay for it. Temporary chairman, at the time was Thomas P. Kelly of the Local Plumbers' Union, No. 223. He presided at the special meeting on Friday, August 30, 1918, to consider Mayor Canfield's suggestion that the industrial workers of Kingston collect such a fund to pay for the erection of the tablet containing the names of local boys in World War I. As we now know, it was another good suggestion of Mayor Canfield's, and became a permanent record which wind, rains and storms were not able to demolish, like some of the recent wooden structures of the present World War 2.

In the 1918 paper it said in part: Mayor Canfield brought to the meeting a water color picture of the proposed tablet, which met with the approval of those present. A cut of that tablet was printed in Friday's paper of that year. "The cost of erecting a tablet such as proposed would depend entirely upon the size, desires and material used. A worthy memorial to our boys would cost at least $2,500 to $3,000 or more. . . . There was no question that every one of the 5,000 industrial workers would gladly contribute to this fund." Some of the men present with Mayor Canfield were: Joseph Disch of Charles Ramsey Co., Michael Buboltz of Kingston Ship Building Corp., W. F. Tierney and George W. Moore of Palen plant, Thomas Kelly of the Plumbers' Union, H. T. Van Deusen of Canfield's Supply Co., Frank Richardson of the Lace Mills, Fred Scheffel of Brown & Dressel, Fred Reinhardt of the Brewery Union, W. C. Millham of West Shore car shops, and Frank Strobel of Central Trade and Labor Council. Who remembers more about the erection of this tablet?

The other day while on Pine Grove avenue, I remember markers were put up on all the handsome trees for the local boys in service during the past war. What happened to them? To my way of thinking, there should be a local committee who would see that these markers, monuments and other war memos erected in good faith to be perpetual should be taken care of through the years. Perhaps once again the industrial workers could handle the situation, for they certainly put up a fine tablet, which is in as excellent condition today as it was when it was put up.

Another idea which now comes to my mind, the magnificent statues which are in the Academy Green Park need spot lights. In the day time they can hardly be seen because they are about the same color as the foliage and at night they disappear altogether although they are of mammoth size. Also there should be a tablet stating where they came from, and something about the sculpture. In years to come it will be more and more difficult to obtain information about them.

Children would gain great knowledge quickly if they could only peep through keyholes, particularly after they had been ordered to bed. It might improve them more effectively than television, which is in the open and therefore evokes no special skills. Automatic peep-holing could be developed into a fine art with prizes given each year by the Freedoms Foundation for those who never fail.

Microphone-placing in flower pots might also help the next generations. They could automatically hear papa and mamma discussing family affairs, but better still it would build the ambitions of a young man. He could perhaps write on his application for a job in the State Department that he placed microphones in his sister's boudoir when he was 10 and tapped the telephone wires in the house by the time he was 14. That ought to fit him to be an expert on the Far East, to say nothing of the Middle East and Germany.

These things can, of course, become automatic, or what we used to call, second nature. For instance, it used to be second nature for small boys to peep-hole through the ball park fence. That was second nature, like jumping into a swimming hole or putting a garter snake in a bottle or putting a little girl's hair in the inkwell. Second nature can be something awful if you fail to curb it. Automatics possesses an additional quality because it requires training in some such place as the State Department.

And that automatically leads to some observations concerning Miss Vernice Anderson's boss, Philip Jessup, who is one of the high mucky-mucks in the State Department. He seems to be involved in everything, having come to that department from a professorship of international law at Columbia University and the Institute of Pacific Relations. He has been active in helping the country run its foreign relations, on and off, since 1924, but really did not mature until 1945, since when he has really been a big factor, second only in influence and prestige to Dean Acheson. He goes to all the conferences and makes speeches on great matters. He has never had any Far Eastern experience but purports to be an expert on the subject through his connections with the Institute of Pacific Relations whose files the McCarran Committee is now studying. He has generally been identified with those other Far Eastern experts whose predilections brought us to our present dismay.

Curious that the eavesdropping Miss Anderson, whose automatics led her to take down an off-the-cuff, unrecorded conversation between the President and General MacArthur, should be working for Dr. Philip Jessup!

A pain in the stomach which later moved downward to the right side and remained there was once called "inflammation of the bowels," and many suffering from it died. Later this condition became known as appendicitis, and because it was given "expectant" treatment (waiting to see what would happen in a day or two), still many patients died, especially if a laxative or a purgative was given to drive bad or poisonous food out of the stomach and intestine. Under this method of treatment, as many as 10 per cent died.

Because thoughtful physicians had found that the death rate was higher among those who were given a purge or had been given some food, the physicians and surgeons of Philadelphia, some years ago, determined to obtain a low death rate by (a) early operation, (b) no food and (c) no laxative or purgative. The result was so satisfactory that throughout the whole civilized world, these three steps are followed with the result that the death rate is less than 1 in 100.

"Within recent years the death rate of appendicitis in United States and Canada has fallen from a record high of 15.2 per 100,000 population in 1930 to 2.9 of the same population. The past five years at Touro Infirmary have shown a reduction in the death rate of two-thirds over the five-year period corresponding to the reduction reported by the National Office for Vital Statistics for the same period."

What caused and is causing this great reduction in the death rate of appendicitis?

The antibiotic drugs—penicillin and sulfa drugs—early operation, simplified methods for injecting fluids and blood into the circulation have, in great part, caused the reduction in the death rate.

Besides these measures, it is now known not only by physicians but by laymen also, how to recognize appendicitis and have the patient admitted to hospital immediately.

In the cases of acute appendicitis, studied, over one-half of the deaths occurred in the age group over 40. Delay in recognizing appendictis and the giving of a purge were the principal factors in causing death.

Remember, early operation, no food, no purgative, saves life.

A High Price to Pay for Nothing

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Harry's Letters—Handsome Senator Burnet Rhett Maybank of South Carolina was attending a White House conference the other day on price controls, inflation and defense mobilization. Some of the price-control measures were not too popular with his constituents and Senator Maybank remarked:

"Mr. President, I am getting an awful lot of letters expressing views on this. Would you like to look them over?"

Mr. Truman replied that he, too, had received hundreds of letters and countered by asking Maybank if he would like to have him, Truman, send his letters to Maybank.

"Send me any letters you want to, Mr. President," replied the senator from South Carolina, "but for God's sake, don't write me any!"

No Peace—The Indian ambassador to China, Sardar Pannikkar, has cabled Prime Minister Nehru of India an important message advising that there is no chance of peace with the Chinese.

His cable is significant because it was ambassador Pannikkar who first warned the United States and the U.N. that Chinese troops were going to intervene in Korea. This warning was made in early September, and although MacArthur now says he got no warning from anyone, Pannikkar's warning was not only sent him by the State Department but was published in this column on Sept. 17.

What is important to remember now, however, is that during December and January Ambassador Pannikkar favored conciliation toward the Chinese, felt there was a chance for a military truce.

Now he has reversed himself, advises that China has no intention whatever of negotiating peace and the United Nations might just as well get tough.

Lively Publisher—Copyreaders of the New Orleans Times-Picayune are in for trouble. They may have to censor Hedda Hopper's Hollywood column in the future.

The Times-Picayune, now facing a Justice Department anti-trust suit, has claimed that publisher Leonard Nicholson is too ill to testify. Justice Department lawyers countered that Mr. Nicholson was well enough to attend the American Newspaper Publishers convention at the Waldorf in New York, but Judge Earl Christenberry ruled that Nicholson would only have to answer written questions, not appear in court personally.

Next day, the Times-Pacayune carried a story recounting the court argument and pointing out that its publisher was too ill to testify. But on an inside column of the same paper, Hedda Hopper indicated that publisher Nicholson was quite a gay blade. She told how he attended a party in the New York dressing room of Gertrude Lawrence, starring in "The King and I," along with Kent Cooper, Mrs. Robert McCormick, and John Horne of the Rocky Mount, N. C. Telegram.

Justice Department attorneys feel that if the Times-Picayune publisher was able to attend a theatrical party, he is well enough to appear in court. But they are wondering what publisher Nicholson is saying to his copyreaders who failed to censor Hedda Hopper's column.

War Criminal—The U. S. Immigration Office at Los Angeles has been holding closed hearings regarding one of the most notorious war criminals who so far has escaped punishment. He is Andre Artukovitch, minister of interior and in charge of the police for Hitler's puppet government at the time the Nazis occupied Yugoslavia.

For some strange reason, so far unexplained, Artukovitch managed to enter the United States, and has been living near Los Angeles, where he is working with his brother, John M. Artukovitch, a contractor.

Why he has been allowed to stay here remains a mystery. For some years, the Yugoslav government has been trying to find him, since, under him, one million Serbs and Jews were killed.

MacArthur and Central Intelligence—Here are the facts about the President's charge that MacArthur would not let Central Intelligence operate in the Korean-Japanese Theatre—a charge that MacArthur described as "tommyrot."

Actually Central Intelligence did have two agents in Japan, but MacArthur's intelligence chief, Maj. Gen. Charles Willoughby, now relieved, would not let them operate except under his control. Thus their movements were restricted and they could not collect their own information. All they could do was evaluate information collected by Gen. Willoughby's agents. MacArthur upheld Willoughby on this.

Later, when Gen. Bedell Smith took over Central Intelligence, he asked Gen. MacArthur to give Central Intelligence free rein, offered to appoint a man who would be entirely acceptable to MacArthur. This was refused. Later Smith flew to Tokyo to persuade MacArthur personally, and it was after this—in January—that Central Intelligence finally was given free rein. This was after the disastrous November-December Korean retreat in which MacArthur's intelligence appeared to have been so wrong.

Struggle for Oil—The British government has accused the United States of double-crossing it in Iran by trying to take over the British government-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. Representatives of three American oil companies have secretly approached the Iranian government with offers to manage the Anglo-Iranian Company now that it is being nationalized.

As a result, British Foreign Minister Morrison, furious, told U. S. Ambassador Walter Gifford in London that the United States seems to be playing both sides of the street. On one hand it urges the British to accept Iran's decision to nationalize oil. On the other hand, it passes word to American oil companies to try to operate the wells and freeze out the British.

Ambassador Gifford (he used to be head of American Telephone and Telegraph) replied that the U. S. government had nothing to do with any secret negotiations by American oil companies; on the contrary, tried to discourage any such underhanded trick.

MacArthur's Airplane—MacArthur's airplane, the Bataan, was returned to the air force three days after the air force had diplomatically suggested that it would like to have the plane returned to Tokyo where it is supposed to be based for the use of the new Tokyo commander, Lieut. Gen. Matt Ridgway.

The air force made the suggestion to Col. Anthony Story, the air force pilot who has been attached to MacArthur, and who has been flying him back and forth between Washington, New York, Tennessee and other points. The plane costs $225 an hour to operate.

Today in Washington

So Here We Go Again — Another Pearl Harbor Investigation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 10—It's just another Pearl Harbor investigation all over again.

Back in December 1941, General Marshall and Admiral Stark thought that someone had told General Short and Admiral Kimmel what Washington knew about the forthcoming attack through breaking the Japanese code—but nobody did tell them.

Today, it comes out that the President and the secretary of state and the secretary of defense and Special Assistant Averell Harriman and General Bradley, who advised that General MacArthur be summarily dismissed, never told him that any of the public statements he had made during the preceding four weeks were violative of military orders or any other orders relating to policy statements.

The administration may have thought that General MacArthur, at a distance of 10,000 miles, was a mind reader and as well informed about the state of mind of persons in Washington as were the five men who fired him, but there is not a single bit of evidence in the record after three days of testimony to support that point.

In fact, the official record gets worse for the administration in revealing the same kind of bad liaison in the last few months with Tokyo as the War and Navy Departments had with Pearl Harbor ten years ago.

Not a single word of disapproval went to General MacArthur on December 6 last, when a general directive was issued advising all departments and all persons in the field as well as in Washington to clear policy statements with the departments back home. Although General Marshall now testifies that the administration didn't like General MacArthur's answers to the questions of the press prior to December 6—even though they primarily concerned military matters in his theatre of action—not a word of such criticism was ever relayed to General MacArthur. He could as easily have inferred that there were no complaints here.

Not a single word of criticism or of any other kind went to General MacArthur specifically referring to his own statements or pointing out any deviation from policy to him between Dec. 6, 1950, when the general directive was issued, and the day he was dismissed—April 11, 1951.

The now famous letter which General MacArthur wrote in routine fashion, answering an inquiry from Representative Joseph Martin, Republican, of Massachusetts, was dated March 20 at Tokyo. Although he had written letters to members of Congress and had talked with them in Tokyo during a period of nearly six years and they had made public the views which the general gave them, not a single word of criticism of his relations with members of Congress had ever been conveyed to him by his superiors in Washington.

When, on March 24 last, General MacArthur addressed a plea to the Chinese commander to agree to a "cease fire," not a single word of the statement or declaration being planned by the government here—and which it says it was circulating among 13 governments—had been sent to MacArthur for his information. Actually it is reliably reported that he had prepared his communication to the Chinese commander ten days before and was waiting for an opportune moment to release it. Likewise, Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the U.N., has since stated publicly that a military commander in the field has the right to address the enemy commander on armistice terms at any time.

The message that was sent to MacArthur saying the State Department was "planning" some kind of a peace offer to the Red Chinese did not give him any details. It was a speculative message and failed to instruct him not to make any communication on this or any other subject related to it. The home-office manager who failed to keep a branch manager better informed than that on company policy would be the one dismissed in American business today.

Even when the MacArthur statement to the Chinese commander was published the joint chiefs merely asked him a day afterward to be sure and report if any request for armistice came from the enemy commander. There was not a word of criticism or of approval or disapproval sent General MacArthur concerning that statement to the Red Chinese commander.

Secretary Marshall has testified, moreover, that it was an "accumulation" of things that caused the dismissal, but what it looks like is an accumulation of hostile thoughts pent up somewhere in the Pentagon and the White House which came to a head when General MacArthur answered a letter that Representative Martin, on his own initiative, made public.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

It seems the front pages of newspapers have always carried war news. From my father's collection I have the Kingston Daily Freeman of Saturday, August 31, 1918. One of the headings read "Division 1 men who entrain next week. Some of the names are, Walter Buddenhagen, James A. Dwyer, Alexander P. DeKoskie, Henry Lehner, Martin Finch, Aaron Lipkin, Sol Avnet, Barney Lankiskey, Harry L. Kirchner."

Perhaps some of the folks remember the details of the tablet of names of the boys in the armed services which for many years has been displayed in front of the city hall. In the above paper it tells of the industrial workers of Kingston collecting funds to pay for it. Temporary chairman, at the time was Thomas P. Kelly of the Local Plumbers' Union, No. 223. He presided at the special meeting on Friday, August 30, 1918, to consider Mayor Canfield's suggestion that the industrial workers of Kingston collect such a fund to pay for the erection of the tablet containing the names of local boys in World War I. As we now know, it was another good suggestion of Mayor Canfield's, and became a permanent record which wind, rains and storms were not able to demolish, like some of the recent wooden structures of the present World War 2.

In the 1918 paper it said in part: Mayor Canfield brought to the meeting a water color picture of the proposed tablet, which met with the approval of those present. A cut of that tablet was printed in Friday's paper of that year. "The cost of erecting a tablet such as proposed would depend entirely upon the size, desires and material used. A worthy memorial to our boys would cost at least $2,500 to $3,000 or more. . . . There was no question that every one of the 5,000 industrial workers would gladly contribute to this fund." Some of the men present with Mayor Canfield were: Joseph Disch of Charles Ramsey Co., Michael Buboltz of Kingston Ship Building Corp., W. F. Tierney and George W. Moore of Palen plant, Thomas Kelly of the Plumbers' Union, H. T. Van Deusen of Canfield's Supply Co., Frank Richardson of the Lace Mills, Fred Scheffel of Brown & Dressel, Fred Reinhardt of the Brewery Union, W. C. Millham of West Shore car shops, and Frank Strobel of Central Trade and Labor Council. Who remembers more about the erection of this tablet?

The other day while on Pine Grove avenue, I remember markers were put up on all the handsome trees for the local boys in service during the past war. What happened to them? To my way of thinking, there should be a local committee who would see that these markers, monuments and other war memos erected in good faith to be perpetual should be taken care of through the years. Perhaps once again the industrial workers could handle the situation, for they certainly put up a fine tablet, which is in as excellent condition today as it was when it was put up.

Another idea which now comes to my mind, the magnificent statues which are in the Academy Green Park need spot lights. In the day time they can hardly be seen because they are about the same color as the foliage and at night they disappear altogether although they are of mammoth size. Also there should be a tablet stating where they came from, and something about the sculpture. In years to come it will be more and more difficult to obtain information about them.

Chinese Reds Kill 719 in 'Blood Bath'

Hong Kong, May 10 (AP)—The Chinese Reds executed 719 so-called "counter revolutionaries" just prior to the big Communist May Day celebration. And slight opposition to the blood bath had to be put down.

Shanghai newspapers arriving today told the story. One said four Communist officials and political workers "were wounded when resistance was offered."

Sino-Red News Agency reports said these executions took place:

Nanking—376 killed April 29, after a mass trial before 40,000 people.

Shanghai—293 killed April 30, after a mass trial of nine selected defendants before 10,000 in a field once used for dog racing and football.

Hangchow—50 killed April 30 after a mass trial before 110,000 people in the rain-soaked streets of the city.

Chinese Reds Kill 719 in 'Blood Bath'

Hong Kong, May 10 (AP)—The Chinese Reds executed 719 so-called "counter revolutionaries" just prior to the big Communist May Day celebration. And slight opposition to the blood bath had to be put down.

Shanghai newspapers arriving today told the story. One said four Communist officials and political workers "were wounded when resistance was offered."

Sino-Red News Agency reports said these executions took place:

Nanking—376 killed April 29, after a mass trial before 40,000 people.

Shanghai—293 killed April 30, after a mass trial of nine selected defendants before 10,000 in a field once used for dog racing and football.

Hangchow—50 killed April 30 after a mass trial before 110,000 people in the rain-soaked streets of the city.

The executions apparently were designed to discourage any anti-Communist incidents on May Day.

Mid-Hudson Electrical Contractors' Meeting

Electrical contractors from the Mid-Hudson valley will hold their annual dinner-meeting May 14 at 7 p. m., in the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Frederic Snyder, lecturer and news analyst, will be the featured speaker. The program will include a demonstration and talk on both school and commercial lighting and a 15-minute safety film by the Underwriters Laboratory.

The meeting is arranged by the steering committee of four electrical leagues—the Catskill Mountain Electrical League, the Ulster County Electrical League, the Dutchess County Contractors' Association and the Electrical League of Newburgh.

Over 225 electrical contractors attended last year's dinner meeting held at the "Barn" in Kingston.

J. M. Keating, electrical contractor in Beacon, is chairman of the group and will preside at the meeting.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail butter and egg prices advanced slightly in many stores this week. Several fresh vegetables cost less as supplies increased seasonally.

And meat held steady as livestock producers and packers deluged Congress with protests against beef price controls.

Representatives of a score of large meat industry associations descended on Washington to lay before lawmakers their views that price controls will only create inflationary black markets, meat shortages and consumer rationing.

But Price Stabilization Director Michael V. DiSalle said: "The people who are causing all this disturbance over the order will have to demonstrate clearly to me that this order isn't fair, isn't equitable or essential to the stabilization program." He said there has been a 12 per cent increase in meat prices since January.

Meantime, the first phase of the complicated beef price order went into effect yesterday when dollars-and-cents ceilings were put on beef at the wholesale level.

Will Be Graded

Within the next several days, or as soon as inspection and grading staffs can be built up, virtually all meat except pork will be graded as to quality in accordance with federal standards (prime, choice, good, etc.). In recent years, slaughterers and packers have been allowed to choose whether they wanted their meat federally graded, and many have used their own grades. Now federal grading will be mandatory, which should aid shoppers in choosing the quality they want and knowing how best to prepare it.

Next Monday, dollars and cents ceilings go into effect on beef in retail stores, based on standard grades and cuts and varying according to the type of store and its regional location.

The first set of retail ceilings won't mean much, however, the American Institute of Food Distribution says, since "they're generally higher than current beef prices in meat stores." Itemized retail ceilings on standard beef cuts must be posed at meat counters starting June 3.

Will Be Rolled Back

But on Aug. 1 and again on Oct. 1, under the order, retail prices will be rolled back four to five cents a pound, for a total cut of around a dime a pound by October.

Other pricing regulations on meat are in the works, with one affecting pork expected to be announced shortly.

The price advances on butter this week were restricted to one to two cents a pound with demand reported brisk. Top grade eggs were up two cents a dozen in most places, continuing a weeks-long uptrend.

Lower on produce counters were asparagus, beets, cabbage, celery, lettuce, strawberries and such plentifuls from nearby gardens as radishes, rhubarb and spinach. New onions and squash edged a little higher.

The first Florida watermelons reached northern markets this week, and the first California canteloups of the season were expected next week.

The Agriculture Department, in a report on the national food situation, said food prices are expected to hold at present levels until early summer, then tend to go higher in the latter part of the year. Supplies of most foods were reported adequate to maintain civilian consumption at least as large as last year.

Foundation Is Established

New York, May 10 (AP)—Study in the United States by foreign students will be financed by a new international education foundation named for Cordell Hull, former secretary of state. Establishment of the foundation was announced yesterday by Dr. Harvie Branscomb, chancellor of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn. The foundation was conceived by friends of Hull, a Tennesseean, and several million dollars is expected to finance it.

The average U. S. farmer owns about $2,200 worth of machinery, implements and motor vehicles.

Hearings Draw Only Scattering of Spectators

Washington, May 10 (AP) — There's a legend that anything free will draw a crowd in Washington.

The legend is belied by the Subversive Activities Control Board's hearings to determine whether the Communist party is bossed from Moscow.

The hearings, which began April 23, so far haven't attracted more than a handful of spectators.

At one point yesterday a marshal, whose job it is to see that other people don't do such things, took a nap. He turned out to be a snorer of great vigor. Nobody bothered to wake him.

The hearings, which promise to go on for months, are preliminary to a board decision as to whether the Communist party must register with the government under the 1950 Internal Security Act, list its officers and members and give a financial accounting.

The flow of Iguassu Falls in South America during the rainy season is greater than that of Niagara.

Enactment Is Urged

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 10 (AP) —The American Public Power Association urged yesterday that Congress enact "without further delay" legislation authorizing the St. Lawrence power development project. The national organization of publicly owned power groups said in a resolution an acute and growing power shortage exists in New York, Massachusetts and Vermont. Development of the St. Lawrence project would greatly alleviate this shortage and contribute to national defense, the resolution added. C. P. Ketler of Rockville Centre was elected vice president of the association.

Within the next several days, or as soon as inspection and grading staffs can be built up, virtually all meat except pork will be graded as to quality in accordance with federal standards (prime, choice, good, etc.). In recent years, slaughterers and packers have been allowed to choose whether they wanted their meat federally graded, and many have used their own grades. Now federal grading will be mandatory, which should aid shoppers in choosing the quality they want and knowing how best to prepare it.

Next Monday, dollars and cents ceilings go into effect on beef in retail stores, based on standard grades and cuts and varying according to the type of store and its regional location.

The first set of retail ceilings won't mean much, however, the American Institute of Food Distribution says, since "they're generally higher than current beef prices in meat stores." Itemized retail ceilings on standard beef cuts must be posed at meat counters starting June 3.

Will Be Rolled Back

But on Aug. 1 and again on Oct. 1, under the order, retail prices will be rolled back four to five cents a pound, for a total cut of around a dime a pound by October.

Other pricing regulations on meat are in the works, with one affecting pork expected to be announced shortly.

The price advances on butter this week were restricted to one to two cents a pound with demand reported brisk. Top grade eggs were up two cents a dozen in most places, continuing a weeks-long uptrend.

Lower on produce counters were asparagus, beets, cabbage, celery, lettuce, strawberries and such plentifuls from nearby gardens as radishes, rhubarb and spinach. New onions and squash edged a little higher.

The first Florida watermelons reached northern markets this week, and the first California canteloups of the season were expected next week.

The Agriculture Department, in a report on the national food situation, said food prices are expected to hold at present levels until early summer, then tend to go higher in the latter part of the year. Supplies of most foods were reported adequate to maintain civilian consumption at least as large as last year.

Hearings Draw Only Scattering of Spectators

Washington, May 10 (AP) — There's a legend that anything free will draw a crowd in Washington.

The legend is belied by the Subversive Activities Control Board's hearings to determine whether the Communist party is bossed from Moscow.

The hearings, which began April 23, so far haven't attracted more than a handful of spectators.

At one point yesterday a marshal, whose job it is to see that other people don't do such things, took a nap. He turned out to be a snorer of great vigor. Nobody bothered to wake him.

The hearings, which promise to go on for months, are preliminary to a board decision as to whether the Communist party must register with the government under the 1950 Internal Security Act, list its officers and members and give a financial accounting.

Enactment Is Urged

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 10 (AP) —The American Public Power Association urged yesterday that Congress enact "without further delay" legislation authorizing the St. Lawrence power development project. The national organization of publicly owned power groups said in a resolution an acute and growing power shortage exists in New York, Massachusetts and Vermont. Development of the St. Lawrence project would greatly alleviate this shortage and contribute to national defense, the resolution added. C. P. Ketler of Rockville Centre was elected vice president of the association.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail butter and egg prices advanced slightly in many stores this week. Several fresh vegetables cost less as supplies increased seasonally.

And meat held steady as livestock producers and packers deluged Congress with protests against beef price controls.

Representatives of a score of large meat industry associations descended on Washington to lay before lawmakers their views that price controls will only create inflationary black markets, meat shortages and consumer rationing.

But Price Stabilization Director Michael V. DiSalle said: "The people who are causing all this disturbance over the order will have to demonstrate clearly to me that this order isn't fair, isn't equitable or essential to the stabilization program." He said there has been a 12 per cent increase in meat prices since January.

Meantime, the first phase of the complicated beef price order went into effect yesterday when dollars-and-cents ceilings were put on beef at the wholesale level.

Will Be Graded

Within the next several days, or as soon as inspection and grading staffs can be built up, virtually all meat except pork will be graded as to quality in accordance with federal standards (prime, choice, good, etc.). In recent years, slaughterers and packers have been allowed to choose whether they wanted their meat federally graded, and many have used their own grades. Now federal grading will be mandatory, which should aid shoppers in choosing the quality they want and knowing how best to prepare it.

$12,250 Reported In Y.M.C.A. Drive

The sum of $12,250 was the total reported in the Y.M.C.A. anniversary campaign last night by General Chairman George H. DeKay and President Clarence S. Rowland.

They urge everyone soliciting to continue the good work covering every prospect and coming in for a few additional unassigned cards. The chairman felt confident that if the workers continued the total can be met. The "Y" would appreciate it if those not contacted would get their donation in by mail.

To Combat Epidemic

Copenhagen, Denmark, May 10 (AP)—An emergency expedition of two doctors and four nurses, taking with them serum, vaccine and 14,000,000 units of penicillin, left Copenhagen by plane for Greenland to fight a dangerous epidemic of measles. Several hundred people are already stricken, and the great Arctic island's southernmost colony of Julianehaab—with more than 250 of its inhabitants stricken—has been placed on quarantine. Measles have never before been observed in Greenland.

Card of Thanks

I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to my relatives, friends and neighbors for their cards, beautiful flowers and gift sent to me for my birthday.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Opponent May Ask His Own Destruction

By OSWALD JACOBY

In most bridge hands the object of the defense to to kill the declarer (in a manner of speaking). Today's hand shows a refinement of that process, since East stood back and let South commit suicide.

West opened the king of diamonds, and South won with the ace. South expected to lose a diamond and perhaps two clubs, but got a slight shock when he began to draw trumps and found that West could not follow suit on the second trump.

South properly abandoned trumps in order to tackle the clubs. He took the ace of clubs first and then led back towards dummy. West discarded and East won with the jack of clubs.

East was in no hurry for a diamond trick, so he returned a trump. South won with the ten and led another club. This time East simply refused to take his king of clubs.

Now South had to throw himself on the sword. In order to return to his hand he had to ruff one of the red suits. This reduced his trump length so that he and East each had one trump left.

If South then drew the last trump, East would get in with his king of clubs to let loose an avalanche of diamonds. If South left the last trump at large, East would get in with the king of clubs and would return a red card to force out South's trump. Either way the contract was set.

There would be a different story to tell if East made the mistake of taking the king of clubs when the trick was first offered to him. At that stage South still had two trumps to East's one. If East returned diamonds, South would lose one trick in that suit, ruff a third round of diamonds, and draw the last trump. Then he would be able to cash two good clubs, making his contract.

25,000 Homeless In South Salvador

Jucuapa, El Salvador, May 10 (AP)—Shattering earthquakes have left 25,000 homeless in southeast El Salvador. But the death toll—not likely to exceed 200—falls far below the government estimate of 1,000.

A visit to the quake area just south of the Pan American Highway, 65 miles east of San Salvador, revealed scenes of utter devastation.

The full fury of the quakes struck at this regional coffee center of Jucuapa. Not a single building was left inhabitable in the city of 14,000. Already 77 bodies have been dug from the debris, identified and buried. Local officials expect to find as many again before rescue work is completed.

Next hardest hit was Chinameca, a town of 8,000, two miles east of Jucuapa. There the toll has reached 15 dead and 71 seriously injured. Most of Chinameca's buildings were destroyed.

Work Is Hampered

Rescue work in the stricken zone has been hampered by repeated earth tremors which have so far been light, but which are feared to foreshadow another major quake. Scores of these tremors were reported Tuesday and seven distinct shocks were felt in Jucuapa between 8 a. m. and noon yesterday.

Sunday's quake did little damage in Chinameca but was a warning and most towns people fled. Otherwise the death toll there probably would have been far higher when the major shock came there Monday.

In the nearby town of Santiago de Maria, with 6,000 inhabitants, no deaths were reported, but 80 per cent of the houses were badly damaged.

In Berlin, farther to the west, some 30 per cent of the houses were reported destroyed.

Considerable damage, but few deaths, were reported in smaller villages in the area.

'Normal' Service Reported

New Brunswick, N. J., May 10 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad reported "normal" service on its Philadelphia-to-New York main line early today. The third of its four freight-car littered tracks was cleared at 3:30 a. m. (EST)—just 36-hours after 47 cars of a 143-car freight piled up here and strangled rail traffic.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Opponent May Ask His Own Destruction

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In most bridge hands the object of the defense to to kill the declarer (in a manner of speaking). Today's hand shows a refinement of that process, since East stood back and let South commit suicide.

West opened the king of diamonds and South won with the ace. South expected to lose a diamond and perhaps two clubs, but got a slight shock when he began to draw trumps and found that West could not follow suit on the second trump.

South properly abandoned trumps in order to tackle the clubs. He took the ace of clubs first and then led back towards dummy. West discarded and East won with the jack of clubs.

East was in no hurry for a diamond trick, so he returned a trump. South won with the ten and led another club. This time East simply refused to take his king of clubs.

Now South had to throw himself on the sword. In order to return to his hand he had to ruff one of the red suits. This reduced his trump length so that he and East each had one trump left.

If South then drew the last trump, East would get in with his king of clubs to let loose an avalanche of diamonds. If South left the last trump at large, East would get in with the king of clubs and would return a red card to force out South's trump. Either way the contract was set.

There would be a different story to tell if East made the mistake of taking the king of clubs when the trick was first offered to him. At that stage South still had two trumps to East's one. If East returned diamonds, South would lose one trick in that suit, ruff a third round of diamonds, and draw the last trump. Then he would be able to cash two good clubs, making his contract.

It's Real Holiday

Elmira, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—May 9 is a real holiday to the Richard Brenza family. Mr. and Mrs. Brenza were 28 years old yesterday—the day Mrs. Brenza gave birth to a son.

The Turfan Depression in western China is 427 feet below sea level.

25,000 Homeless In South Salvador

Jucuapa, El Salvador, May 10 (AP)—Shattering earthquakes have left 25,000 homeless in southeast El Salvador. But the death toll—not likely to exceed 200—falls far below the government estimate of 1,000.

A visit to the quake area just south of the Pan American Highway, 65 miles east of San Salvador, revealed scenes of utter devastation.

The full fury of the quakes struck at this regional coffee center of Jucuapa. Not a single building was left inhabitable in the city of 14,000. Already 77 bodies have been dug from the debris, identified and buried. Local officials expect to find as many again before rescue work is completed.

Next hardest hit was Chinameca, a town of 8,000, two miles east of Jucuapa. There the toll has reached 15 dead and 71 seriously injured. Most of Chinameca's buildings were destroyed.

Work Is Hampered

Rescue work in the stricken zone has been hampered by repeated earth tremors which have so far been light, but which are feared to foreshadow another major quake. Scores of these tremors were reported Tuesday and seven distinct shocks were felt in Jucuapa between 8 a. m. and noon yesterday.

Sunday's quake did little damage in Chinameca but was a warning and most towns people fled. Otherwise the death toll there probably would have been far higher when the major shock came there Monday.

In the nearby town of Santiago de Maria, with 6,000 inhabitants, no deaths were reported, but 80 per cent of the houses were badly damaged.

In Berlin, farther to the west, some 20 per cent of the houses were reported destroyed.

Considerable damage, but few deaths, were reported in smaller villages in the area.

'Normal' Service Reported

New Brunswick, N. J., May 10 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad reported "normal" service on its Philadelphia-to-New York main line early today. The third of its four freight-car littered tracks was cleared at 3:30 a. m. (EST)—just 36-hours after 47 cars of a 143-car freight piled up here and strangled rail traffic.

'Open House' at Stewart

Stewart AFB, Newburgh, May 10—Stewart Air Force Base will hold an "Open House" on Sunday, May 20, in observance of Armed Forces Day. Gates will be open from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. and all of the public is invited. Displays and demonstrations have been programmed for the entire afternoon to permit the public to view the air force's role in the defense team.

AMERICA'S LARGEST SELLING SUGARS

Investor Forum

by
Harry C. France

The productive wealth of America should be much more widely distributed than it is. This means that the corporate values that make this great country go should be owned by many more millions of investors than is the case today.

Every year, at least, I check the figures on government bonds held by our people and on stockholders' lists. These figures are very revealing. They prove conclusively that too few investors are growing with America.

The United States Government is a gigantic enterprise. It has a debt of around 255-billion dollars. Its bonds are owned by over 75-million people. Every other person in the land has government securities.

Now where government bond purchases aid in inculcating sound habits of thrift and saving, my enthusiasm is high. As I have urged in this column for years, any economic procedure which helps people cultivate frugality and saving is highly to be commended. But dollars at two and three per cent interest a year do not grow with a dynamic America. Whatever growth there is moves at a snail's pace.

Yes, today there are 75-million holders of low-yielding government bonds. More power to these people. But I want every bondholder to grow with America. And why not? The economic strength of this country was built on equities and not on debts.

Henry Ford, the father of the automobile as we know it, organized the Ford Motor Company with equity money. That is true of most of the basic businesses in the United States. Every investor in this country should eventually become a stockholder in leading corporations.

Over against the 75-million persons owning government bonds is the pathetically small list (by comparison) of people owning common stocks of our great corporations, our leading capitalistic enterprises. The only company in America having a decently sized list of stockholders is American Telephone and Telegraph.

Yet even here the comparison is ridiculous. For every shareholder in this great enterprise (A-T-T) there are 75 people owning government bonds! It simply should not be. A statement of fact about what a stockholder in this company gets and what a Federal bondholder receives should be enough radically to change this situation.

Telephone has paid $9 a share for over a quarter of a century. There has been steady growth in this equity. It is a sound and indispensable business. Its gross revenues during the decade from 1941-1950 inclusive were over $21,785,000,000. Its annual gross is now above three billions of dollars. On January 29, 1951, there were 990,267 common stockholders.

Or take another leading American enterprise: General Motors. For every GM stockholder on February 15, 1951, there were about 175 government bond holders! Anybody who put $1,000 in GM stock 35 years ago can now retire on an annual income several times this size! Growth—I should say so. During the 1941-1950 period this enterprise did over $39,412,000,000 worth of business. In 1950 alone volume was seven and one half billions.

General Motors ought to have two million stockholders and not, as of February 15, 1951, 426,872.

The same goes for General Electric. And for 50 other leading American businesses. Three months ago General Electric had 249,530 common stockholders. That is one GE owner to every 300 owners of government bonds! How ridiculous!

Brokers have done a miserable job of merchandising the productive wealth of America. Personally, I have addressed clubs and organizations in 200 different cities in 40 states during the past 20 years and I can testify that everywhere there are scores and hundreds of people waiting to place their saved dollars in the line of the sound economic growth of America.

The service clubs in America—Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Exchange, business and professional organizations, Chambers of Commerce—all these are open to the popular interpretation of the economic life of our country. And where people understand it, they will invest their capital.

Troops Weary of See-Saw

San Francisco, May 10 (AP)—Brig. Gen. John H. (Mike) Michaelis, a Korean war hero, says U.N. troops are mighty tired of the see-saw fighting . . . "But as long as we continue to kill Chinese it's worthwhile." He described the fighting as "like a yo-yo—up and down." The famed former commander of the gallant 27th Wolfhound Regiment praised the air force's performance but added: "It's not just the air force; it's not the army—it's one big team." Michaelis arrived last night and soon was en route to Washington, D. C. Later he goes to Europe to join General Eisenhower's staff.

Investor Forum

by
Harry C. France

The productive wealth of America should be much more widely distributed than it is. This means that the corporate values that make this great country go should be owned by many more millions of investors than is the case today.

Every year, at least, I check the figures on government bonds held by our people and on stockholders' lists. These figures are very revealing. They prove conclusively that too few investors are growing with America.

The United States Government is a gigantic enterprise. It has a debt of around 255-billion dollars.

Its bonds are owned by over 75-million people. Every other person in the land has government securities.

Now where government bond purchases aid in inculcating sound habits of thrift and saving, my enthusiasm is high. As I have urged in this column for years, any economic procedure which helps people cultivate frugality and saving is highly to be commended. But dollars at two and three per cent interest a year do not grow with a dynamic America. Whatever growth there is moves at a snail's pace.

Yes, today there are 75-million holders of low-yielding government bonds. More power to these people. But I want every bondholder to grow with America. And why not? The economic strength of this country was built on equities and not on debts.

Henry Ford, the father of the automobile as we know it, organized the Ford Motor Company with equity money. That is true of most of the basic businesses in the United States. Every investor in this country should eventually become a stockholder in leading corporations.

Over against the 75-million persons owning government bonds is the pathetically small list (by comparison) of people owning common stocks of our great corporations, our leading capitalistic enterprises. The only company in America having a decently sized list of stockholders is American Telephone and Telegraph.

Yet even here the comparison is ridiculous. For every shareholder in this great enterprise (A-T-T) there are 75 people owning government bonds! It simply should not be. A statement of fact about what a stockholder in this company gets and what a Federal bondholder receives should be enough radically to change this situation.

Telephone has paid $9 a share for over a quarter of a century. There has been steady growth in this equity. It is a sound and indispensable business. Its gross revenues during the decade from 1941-1950 inclusive were over $21,785,000,000. Its annual gross is now above three billions of dollars. On January 29, 1951, there were 990,267 common stockholders.

Or take another leading American enterprise: General Motors. For every GM stockholder on February 15, 1951, there were about 175 government bond holders! Anybody who put $1,000 in GM stock 35 years ago can now retire on an annual income several times this size! Growth—I should say so. During the 1941-1950 period this enterprise did over $39,412,000,000 worth of business. In 1950 alone volume was seven and one half billions.

General Motors ought to have two million stockholders and not, as of February 15, 1951, 426,872.

The same goes for General Electric. And for 50 other leading American businesses. Three months ago General Electric had 249,530 common stockholders. That is one GE owner to every 300 owners of government bonds! How ridiculous!

Brokers have done a miserable job of merchandising the productive wealth of America. Personally, I have addressed clubs and organizations in 200 different cities in 40 states during the past 20 years and I can testify that everywhere there are scores and hundreds of people waiting to place their saved dollars in the line of the sound economic growth of America.

The service clubs in America—Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Exchange, business and professional organizations, Chambers of Commerce—all these are open to the popular interpretation of the economic life of our country. And where people understand it, they will invest their capital.

Troops Weary of See-Saw

San Francisco, May 10 (AP)—Brig. Gen. John H. (Mike) Michaelis, a Korean war hero, says U.N. troops are mighty tired of the see-saw fighting . . . "But as long as we continue to kill Chinese it's worthwhile." He described the fighting as "like a yo-yo—up and down." The famed former commander of the gallant 27th Wolfhound Regiment praised the air force's performance but added: "It's not just the air force; it's not the army—it's one big team." Michaelis arrived last night and soon was en route to Washington, D. C. Later he goes to Europe to join General Eisenhower's staff.

Hurley Fire Board

simply this: at no time at all was the volunteer fire dept. without compensation or public liability coverage or was any of the equipment of the dept. or of the town itself, insured in this agency, without full coverage. Nor were one single member of our many assureds without coverage at any time as a result of the unfortunate folding of a 66 year old company with present assets still in excess of 16 million dollars and formerly licensed in 47 states. Each and every one of our former policies in this company were immediately transferred to other companies with uninterrupted and identical coverage and with the same expiration date as the original. As far as the volunteer firemen's compensation for the Hurley Fire Dept. is concerned it was bound by another one of Kingston's better known and reliable agents, Larry Quilty and the insurance continued uninterrupted in one of the best companies available. Furthermore the fact that this insurance was in effect was known to at least one member of the fire board since he contacted our office immediately upon receiving the notice of the liquidation of the former carrier. All any of the other members of the board needed to do to ward off his feeling of between 'consternation and a cold sweat' was to have called our office for the true picture.

Furthermore notices to the effect that new policies will soon be available to each of our assureds have been sent to each and everyone insured through this agency in the 'defunct' company. Since we have about 450 clients so effected by what happened you can see that it has been a tremendously difficult task to handle everything as quickly as we would like to since there were so many details involved. It may also be of interest to you to know that we, the agents, are going to pay the financial loss to each and everyone of our assureds who were effected. The total cost to our agency may run as high as $8,000 before we are through. We wish to reiterate again that not the town of Hurley, the fire department nor any one individual stands to lose one cent or be inconvenienced by what has happened nor was any single assured of our agency without insurance at any time.

In view of our personal anguish, back-breaking extra work and financial loss as a result of what has happened, we believe that you can see why we are so deeply effected by the untrue story in your paper which placed us in such an unfavorable light and feel sure that now that the facts are known you will do as much to rectify the situation and aid us as what the original story did to harm us. We intend, in the next few days, to take a large display ad so as to get across as best we can to the public what has happened and what we are doing about it.

Very truly yours

simply this: at no time at all was the volunteer fire dept. without compensation or public liability coverage or was any of the equipment of the dept. or of the town itself, insured in this agency, without full coverage. Nor were one single member of our many assureds without coverage at any time as a result of the unfortunate folding of a 66 year old company with present assets still in excess of 16 million dollars and formerly licensed in 47 states. Each and every one of our former policies in this company were immediately transferred to other companies with uninterrupted and identical coverage and with the same expiration date as the original. As far as the volunteer firemen's compensation for the Hurley Fire Dept. is concerned it was bound by another one of Kingston's better known and reliable agents, Larry Quilty and the insurance continued uninterrupted in one of the best companies available. Furthermore the fact that this insurance was in effect was known to at least one member of the fire board since he contacted our office immediately upon receiving the notice of the liquidation of the former carrier. All any of the other members of the board needed to do to ward off his feeling of between 'consternation and a cold sweat' was to have called our office for the true picture.

Furthermore notices to the effect that new policies will soon be available to each of our assureds have been sent to each and everyone insured through this agency in the 'defunct' company. Since we have about 450 clients so effected by what happened you can see that it has been a tremendously difficult task to handle everything as quickly as we would like to since there were so many details involved. It may also be of interest to you to know that we, the agents, are going to pay the financial loss to each and everyone of our assureds who were effected. The total cost to our agency may run as high as $8,000 before we are through. We wish to reiterate again that not the town of Hurley, the fire department nor any one individual stands to lose one cent or be inconvenienced by what has happened nor was any single assured of our agency without insurance at any time.

In view of our personal anguish, back-breaking extra work and financial loss as a result of what has happened, we believe that you can see why we are so deeply effected by the untrue story in your paper which placed us in such an unfavorable light and feel sure that now that the facts are known you will do as much to rectify the situation and aid us as what the original story did to harm us. We intend, in the next few days, to take a large display ad so as to get across as best we can to the public what has happened and what we are doing about it.

Very truly yours

ROSE'S SUPER MARKET

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The big domestic fight ahead is to be over price and wage controls. While the "MacArthur controversy" will of course hold the headlines for sometime to come, the squabble over price controls will be boiling over in another pot on the hot stove of our war policies.

The pricing of beef has set off a chain reaction that seems certain to carry the fight well beyond June 30 when the present law expires—so we'll have another one of those "temporary expedient laws' to carry us on while the arguments rage.

Incidentally, speaking of the price regulations on beef—which appear to be a squeeze on the beef-cattle raisers and feeders without helping the housewife in her store prices until many months hence—these price regulations may react contrarily to what is generally expected. It has been thought that feeders would rush all their cattle to market quickly, prior to the price squeeze, thus making a lot of meat available now and less later. However, we may find that cattle men will hold back their steers and beef animals in the expectation that the price regulations won't hold and that they will be changed. The old story will be reenacted, that ways are usually found to defeat economic controls, so we shall see the black markets getting back into business again; in fact, they have started, according to gossip.

During these fights over "controls"—which do not cure inflation, but merely hold price-raises back—one would suppose that the monetary authorities would be more bold in their attack on the cause of inflation; namely, the supply of money.

It is a monetary inflation that we are experiencing. In fact, the economic definition of inflation means inflation of money and credit. Rising prices are merely the effect of inflation; they are not the inflation itself.

We have seen a start made in combating the monetary inflation—a good start. And authorities seem intent on talking tough about it, but more action is required. And, as a matter of encouragement, the Ruminator believes we shall see more action. Pressure is being brought to bear on banks to stop issuing credit (which means issuing money, because bank deposits are spendable money) and this pressure on banks will continue. But legal pressure is also needed. The Federal Reserve Board requires greater restrictive powers if the banks are to be forced to cut down on their loans. It is expected that new legislation will shortly be asked for to give the Federal Reserve System greater deflationary powers over the banking system.

In the meantime, Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson has appealed to the states to curtail their borrowings and expansion of state debts. Obviously, if a state borrows a hundred million dollars to build highways or bridges it is just as inflationary as any other borrowing. At the same time, many of these state activities will require materials that are needed for the defense program. So there is a double-barrelled meaning to Mr. Wilson's request to state governments.

The greatest hold-back to an anti-inflationary policy is the administration itself. The President's short-sighted view of monetary problems—his evident complete ignorance of economic fundamentals—is the stumbling block at the moment. His treasury policies—to maintain cheap money rates—is the road-block to progress in controlling the monetary inflation. The theory that cheap money saves the nation costs in paying interest on our huge debt is a ridiculous fallacy. The inflation which has been brought about by this abortive policy of cheap money has increased the costs to the nation for its defense needs many times above the small savings in low interest rates. And yet we have to go along with these harmful policies. You can put a great deal of the blame on your Congressmen. They have simply let us down by not forcing through Congress demands upon the Treasury and the Federal Reserve authorities to stop the inflation of money today.

Nevertheless, in the face of the discouraging slowness with which the inflation problem is being attacked, there is room for belief that it is being "felt out" and tackled half-heartedly. Accordingly, a deflationary trend is still possible. Many price trends of late have pointed downward—the futures' markets, for examples—and if the money issue is joined we can avoid a serious inflation later. So the Ruminator has not given up hope that the much-expected run-away inflation will be avoided.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The big domestic fight ahead is to be over price and wage controls. While the "MacArthur controversy" will of course hold the headlines for sometime to come, the squabble over price controls will be boiling over in another pot on the hot stove of our war policies.

The pricing of beef has set off a chain reaction that seems certain to carry the fight well beyond June 30 when the present law expires—so we'll have another one of those "temporary expedient laws' to carry us on while the arguments rage.

Incidentally, speaking of the price regulations on beef—which appear to be a squeeze on the beef-cattle raisers and feeders without helping the housewife in her store prices until many months hence—these price regulations may react contrarily to what is generally expected. It has been thought that feeders would rush all their cattle to market quickly, prior to the price squeeze, thus making a lot of meat available now and less later. However, we may find that cattle men will hold back their steers and beef animals in the expectation that the price regulations won't hold and that they will be changed. The old story will be reenacted, that ways are usually found to defeat economic controls, so we shall see the black markets getting back into business again; in fact, they have started, according to gossip.

During these fights over "controls"—which do not cure inflation, but merely hold price-raises back—one would suppose that the monetary authorities would be more bold in their attack on the cause of inflation; namely, the supply of money.

It is a monetary inflation that we are experiencing. In fact, the economic definition of inflation means inflation of money and credit. Rising prices are merely the effect of inflation; they are not the inflation itself.

We have seen a start made in combating the monetary inflation—a good start. And authorities seem intent on talking tough about it, but more action is required. And, as a matter of encouragement, the Ruminator believes we shall see more action. Pressure is being brought to bear on banks to stop issuing credit (which means issuing money, because bank deposits are spendable money) and this pressure on banks will continue. But legal pressure is also needed. The Federal Reserve Board requires greater restrictive powers if the banks are to be forced to cut down on their loans. It is expected that new legislation will shortly be asked for to give the Federal Reserve System greater deflationary powers over the banking system.

In the meantime, Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson has appealed to the states to curtail their borrowings and expansion of state debts. Obviously, if a state borrows a hundred million dollars to build highways or bridges it is just as inflationary as any other borrowing. At the same time, many of these state activities will require materials that are needed for the defense program. So there is a double-barrelled meaning to Mr. Wilson's request to state governments.

The greatest hold-back to an anti-inflationary policy is the administration itself. The President's short-sighted view of monetary problems—his evident complete ignorance of economic fundamentals—is the stumbling block at the moment. His treasury policies—to maintain cheap money rates—is the road-block to progress in controlling the monetary inflation. The theory that cheap money saves the nation costs in paying interest on our huge debt is a ridiculous fallacy. The inflation which has been brought about by this abortive policy of cheap money has increased the costs to the nation for its defense needs many times above the small savings in low interest rates. And yet we have to go along with these harmful policies. You can put a great deal of the blame on your Congressmen. They have simply let us down by not forcing through Congress demands upon the Treasury and the Federal Reserve authorities to stop the inflation of money today.

Nevertheless, in the face of the discouraging slowness with which the inflation problem is being attacked, there is room for belief that it is being "felt out" and tackled half-heartedly. Accordingly, a deflationary trend is still possible. Many price trends of late have pointed downward—the futures' markets, for examples—and if the money issue is joined we can avoid a serious inflation later. So the Ruminator has not given up hope that the much-expected run-away inflation will be avoided.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

The big domestic fight ahead is to be over price and wage controls. While the "MacArthur controversy" will of course hold the headlines for sometime to come, the squabble over price controls will be boiling over in another pot on the hot stove of our war policies.

The pricing of beef has set off a chain reaction that seems certain to carry the fight well beyond June 30 when the present law expires—so we'll have another one of those "temporary expedient laws' to carry us on while the arguments rage.

Incidentally, speaking of the price regulations on beef—which appear to be a squeeze on the beef-cattle raisers and feeders without helping the housewife in her store prices until many months hence—these price regulations may react contrarily to what is generally expected. It has been thought that feeders would rush all their cattle to market quickly, prior to the price squeeze, thus making a lot of meat available now and less later. However, we may find that cattle men will hold back their steers and beef animals in the expectation that the price regulations won't hold and that they will be changed. The old story will be reenacted, that ways are usually found to defeat economic controls, so we shall see the black markets getting back into business again; in fact, they have started, according to gossip.

During these fights over "controls"—which do not cure inflation, but merely hold price-raises back—one would suppose that the monetary authorities would be more bold in their attack on the cause of inflation; namely, the supply of money.

It is a monetary inflation that we are experiencing. In fact, the economic definition of inflation means inflation of money and credit. Rising prices are merely the effect of inflation; they are not the inflation itself.

We have seen a start made in combating the monetary inflation—a good start. And authorities seem intent on talking tough about it, but more action is required. And, as a matter of encouragement, the Ruminator believes we shall see more action. Pressure is being brought to bear on banks to stop issuing credit (which means issuing money, because bank deposits are spendable money) and this pressure on banks will continue. But legal pressure is also needed. The Federal Reserve Board requires greater restrictive powers if the banks are to be forced to cut down on their loans. It is expected that new legislation will shortly be asked for to give the Federal Reserve System greater deflationary powers over the banking system.

In the meantime, Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson has appealed to the states to curtail their borrowings and expansion of state debts. Obviously, if a state borrows a hundred million dollars to build highways or bridges it is just as inflationary as any other borrowing. At the same time, many of these state activities will require materials that are needed for the defense program. So there is a double-barrelled meaning to Mr. Wilson's request to state governments.

The greatest hold-back to an anti-inflationary policy is the administration itself. The President's short-sighted view of monetary problems—his evident complete ignorance of economic fundamentals—is the stumbling block at the moment. His treasury policies—to maintain cheap money rates—is the road-block to progress in controlling the monetary inflation. The theory that cheap money saves the nation costs in paying interest on our huge debt is a ridiculous fallacy. The inflation which has been brought about by this abortive policy of cheap money has increased the costs to the nation for its defense needs many times above the small savings in low interest rates. And yet we have to go along with these harmful policies. You can put a great deal of the blame on your Congressmen. They have simply let us down by not forcing through Congress demands upon the Treasury and the Federal Reserve authorities to stop the inflation of money today.

Nevertheless, in the face of the discouraging slowness with which the inflation problem is being attacked, there is room for belief that it is being "felt out" and tackled half-heartedly. Accordingly, a deflationary trend is still possible. Many price trends of late have pointed downward—the futures' markets, for examples—and if the money issue is joined we can avoid a serious inflation later. So the Ruminator has not given up hope that the much-expected run-away inflation will be avoided.

Request Is Reviewed

Harrisburg, Pa., May 10 (AP)—A request to set up a special survey of Delaware river water resources was under study by Gov. John S. Fine today. The governor said yesterday he would have an answer within a week whether the Commonwealth should study the Delaware water situation further or enter into an agreement with neighboring states dividing the water supply.

Overcomes Speech Loss

Weirton, W. Va. (AP)—Stanley Filak, a young steelworker, lost his voice Feb. 28, 1950, after a brass bar struck him across the throat. His vocal cords were permanently injured. A Pittsburgh specialist suggested sending him to the Department of Psychology at the University of Pittsburgh. There, Dr. John Matthews, director of speech, said a course in voice training might help. He enrolled in a special speech clinic class for eight weeks. There Stanley developed an entirely new voice. At first it had husky overtones but as time went on, the huskiness disappeared. He returned to work last month on a new job.

Late Bulletin

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee tentatively approved a $2,080,000,000 increase in corporation taxes today. Members voted to increase the normal tax rate by five points across the board. The administration had asked for an eight-point increase, which the treasury estimated would have brought in $3,300,000,000 a year above present revenues. Coupled with a $3,000,000,000 increase in individual income taxes voted yesterday, the committee in two days has found more than $5,000,000,000 of the additional $10,000,000,000 revenues President has asked to keep the defense effort on a pay-as-we-go basis.

Overcomes Speech Loss

Weirton, W. Va. (AP)—Stanley Filak, a young steelworker, lost his voice Feb. 28, 1950, after a brass bar struck him across the throat. His vocal cords were permanently injured. A Pittsburgh specialist suggested sending him to the Department of Psychology at the University of Pittsburgh. There, Dr. John Matthews, director of speech, said a course in voice training might help. He enrolled in a special speech clinic class for eight weeks. There Stanley developed an entirely new voice. At first it had husky overtones but as time went on, the huskiness disappeared. He returned to work last month on a new job.

Curious Costume

Johnny Appleseed first began his curious custom of planting apple seeds about 1801, in Ohio. His dress was as curious as his occupation for he wore a coffee sack for a cloak, and on his head he wore the pan in which he cooked his meals.

Late Bulletin

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee tentatively approved a $2,080,000,000 increase in corporation taxes today. Members voted to increase the normal tax rate by five points across the board. The administration had asked for an eight-point increase, which the treasury estimated would have brought in $3,300,000,000 a year above present revenues. Coupled with a $3,000,000,000 increase in individual income taxes voted yesterday, the committee in two days has found more than $5,000,000,000 of the additional $10,000,000,000 revenues President has asked to keep the defense effort on a pay-as-we-go basis.

Red Concentrations Hit

Tokyo, May 9 (AP) — Improved radar techniques are making it possible for allied night-flying bombers to hit Red concentrations in Korea with nearly the accuracy of daylight visual bombing, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer said today. The Far East Air Forces commander said night-flying B-29 and B-26 bombers are cutting down Red troop movements at night by ground-directed, close support missions employing a new radar technique and proximity fuses on their bombs. Powerful flares also have improved their effectiveness.

Red Concentrations Hit

Tokyo, May 9 (AP) — Improved radar techniques are making it possible for allied night-flying bombers to hit Red concentrations in Korea with nearly the accuracy of daylight visual bombing, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer said today. The Far East Air Forces commander said night-flying B-29 and B-26 bombers are cutting down Red troop movements at night by ground-directed, close support missions employing a new radar technique and proximity fuses on their bombs. Powerful flares also have improved their effectiveness.

Will Visit West Point

New York, May 10 (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel will make his first visit today to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. Traveling by auto, he will arrive at the academy around noon and will visit the grave of Col. David Marcus, who died in Israel's war of independence. A West Point graduate, Col. Marcus was New York city commissioner of corrections under the late Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia. The Israeli prime minister yesterday received Manhattan's typical ticker-tape parade welcome.

He had indicated previously he was thinking seriously of entering the race, but his first definite statement was not forthcoming until last night. Taft is a Cincinnati civic leader and internationally-known church layman. He made the announcement in an interview at a Protestant Episcopal Church meeting he is attending here.

Spillproof Nailpolish

A new bottle designed for nailpolish makes it spillproof. Polish can't drip out and spoil lingerie, dresses or rugs. The brush can be lifted from the bottle, the nail-measure neck measures it out automatically, and just the right amount of polish on the brush covers the nail perfectly.

Fill canned peach halves with finely chopped maraschino cherries and garnish with whipped cream for a company dessert.

The church hall committee has set August 9 as a time for an outstanding event, complete with a dinner, a speaker and musical entertainment.

Nicholas T. Cocks spent the week-end with his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Grill at Tuchahoe and also visited his son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cocks in New York.

Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips and friends of Torrington, Conn., called on her cousins Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heidke and Miss Rose Belknap Sunday afternoon.

Spillproof Nailpolish

A new bottle designed for nailpolish makes it spillproof. Polish can't drip out and spoil lingerie, dresses or rugs. The brush can be lifted from the bottle, the nail-measure neck measures it out automatically, and just the right amount of polish on the brush covers the nail perfectly.

Fill canned peach halves with finely chopped maraschino cherries and garnish with whipped cream for a company dessert.

Union Shop Wins At Forst Packing

New York, May 10 (Special)—Production, maintenance, shipping and receiving employes of the Forst Packing Company, Inc., of 114 Abeel street, Kingston, voted Tuesday to authorize their union, Local 331 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, AFL, to negotiate with the company for a union shop contract covering them.

Results of the poll were announced Wednesday by the New York regional office of the National Labor Relations Board.

The union was required, under the Taft-Hartley Law, to obtain the support of a majority of the employes for its union shop demands before it could start negotiations for a contract embodying them. Such a contract would require the employes to join the union in order to hold their jobs.

Local Y Plans to Send Members to Convention

A local delegation to attend the centennial convention of the YMCA scheduled for Cleveland, O., on June 21, will be named Tuesday night, May 22, at the local Y, it was announced today.

Representatives of YMCAs from the United States and Canada will attend the Cleveland parley. About 5,000 delegates are expected to attend.

Convention sessions will be held in the Cleveland Municipal Stadium and various convention halls.

To Reconsider Cases

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The President's Loyalty Review Board has directed that pending cases be reconsidered in the light of new loyalty standards. On April 28 President Truman ordered that employes should be barred or removed from federal pay rolls if there is "reasonable doubt" as to their loyalty. The previous standard was whether "reasonable grounds" exist for believing them disloyal. Hirma Bingham, chairman of the Loyalty Review Board, directed yesterday that cases not finally adjudged by lower boards before May 1 should be received in the light of the change. The full review board will meet May 17 to decide whether to reconsider cases of persons previously approved in loyalty cases.

Knights to Honor 50-Year Members

Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus, will on Tuesday, May 15, honor three of its members who have completed 50 years in the organization. A testimonial dinner will be held in the council home at which prominent knights will speak. Past Grand Knight Joseph F. Saccoman is chairman, assisted by a large committee. The members to be honored are (l. to r) Col. Frank L. Meagher; Joseph F. Sullivan, past grand knight; and John H. Schatzel. (Lane Photo).

Moore Asks Enrollment

New York, May 10 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore says all "good citizens" should enroll in a political party and not be "independent voters." Calling the so-called independence a "dubious distinction," he says it exacts "far too high a price—the surrender of all the power and influence of a voter in the primary election" at which many candidates are nominated. Moore spoke out on the issue yesterday at the New York state convention of the League of Women voters. He said any citizen failing to vote in a primary "forfeits his right to complain about the candidates he must choose between later."

May Wear Mufti

New York, May 10 (AP)—The famous braid hat and uniform worn by Gen. Dougals MacArthur may soon give way to mufti. The general's aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said yesterday that MacArthur has been fitted for civilian clothes for the first time in 11 years. Whitney added that he doesn't know when MacArthur will don his "civvies."

Asks Conference Vote

Paris, May 10 (AP)—Premier Henri Queuille asked today for another National Assembly vote of confidence—his ninth in three weeks — on his plan to hold general election in June. He made his request only a few hours after he received an overwhelming 410 to 187 confidence ballot rejecting a Communist motion to delay voting on a bill terminating the life of the present Assembly on July 4. The new vote asked by Queuille will be on the bill itself in exactly the form proposed by the cabinet.

Marines Meet Tonight

A regular meeting of Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the VFW Hall, Delaware avenue. A full attendance of members is requested by Commander Albert Melville. Refreshments will be served after the business session.

Reserve Decision In Bookie Trial

New York, May 10 (Special)—The trial of Jerome J. Kelley, 43, of Forest Hills, Queens, alleged top-bracket bookmaker who handled $5,000,000 in bets annually in New Jersey and New York cities, including Kingston, ended in Special Sessions Court here Wednesday with the court reserving decision.

Following the summations by both sides, the trial panel of three justices adjourned the proceedings until next Wednesday, when it will render a verdict.

Kelley was tried on a 30-count bookmaking and conspiracy information. Each count carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $500 fine.

He was arrested last July in the wake of the investigation of master-bookie Frank Erickson, now doing time on Riker's Island. Described as "one of the top bookmakers" by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, Kelley was assertedly known in bookmaking circles as a man who would bet on anything. He operated in New York, Mt. Vernon and Kingston, and in Orange, Hackensack and Jersey City in New Jersey.

Kelley is at liberty in $5,000 bail.

To Reconsider Cases

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The President's Loyalty Review Board has directed that pending cases be reconsidered in the light of new loyalty standards. On April 28 President Truman ordered that employes should be barred or removed from federal pay rolls if there is "reasonable doubt" as to their loyalty. The previous standard was whether "reasonable grounds" exist for believing them disloyal. Hirma Bingham, chairman of the Loyalty Review Board, directed yesterday that cases not finally adjudged by lower boards before May 1 should be reveiwed in the light of the change. The full review board will meet May 17 to decide whether to reconsider cases of persons previously approved in loyalty cases.

Moore Asks Enrollment

New York, May 10 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore says all "good citizens" should enroll in a political party and not be "independent voters." Calling the so-called independence a "dubious distinction," he says it exacts "far too high a price—the surrender of all the power and influence of a voter in the primary election" at which many candidates are nominated. Moore spoke out on the issue yesterday at the New York state convention of the League of Women voters. He said any citizen failing to vote in a primary "forfeits his right to complain about the candidates he must choose between later."

May Wear Mufti

New York, May 10 (AP)—The famous braid hat and uniform worn by Gen. Dougals MacArthur may soon give way to mufti. The general's aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, said yesterday that MacArthur has been fitted for civilian clothes for the first time in 11 years. Whitney added that he doesn't know when MacArthur will don his "civvies."

Asks Conference Vote

Paris, May 10 (AP)—Premier Henri Queuille asked today for another National Assembly vote of confidence—his ninth in three weeks — on his plan to hold general election in June. He made his request only a few hours after he received an overwhelming 410 to 187 confidence ballot rejecting a Communist motion to delay voting on a bill terminating the life of the present Assembly on July 4. The new vote asked by Queuille will be on the bill itself in exactly the form proposed by the cabinet.

Marines Meet Tonight

A regular meeting of Ulster Detachment Marine Corps League will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the VFW Hall, Delaware avenue. A full attendance of members is requested by Commander Albert Melville. Refreshments will be served after the business session.

Reserve Decision In Bookie Trial

New York, May 10 (Special)—The trial of Jerome J. Kelley, 43, of Forest Hills, Queens, alleged top-bracket bookmaker who handled $5,000,000 in bets annually in New Jersey and New York cities, including Kingston, ended in Special Sessions Court here Wednesday with the court reserving decision.

Following the summations by both sides, the trial panel of three justices adjourned the proceedings until next Wednesday, when it will render a verdict.

Kelley was tried on a 30-count bookmaking and conspiracy information. Each count carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail and a $500 fine.

He was arrested last July in the wake of the investigation of master-bookie Frank Erickson, now doing time on Riker's Island. Described as "one of the top bookmakers" by District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, Kelley was assertedly known in bookmaking circles as a man who would bet on anything. He operated in New York, Mt. Vernon and Kingston, and in Orange, Hackensack and Jersey City in New Jersey.

Kelley is at liberty in $5,000 bail.

Not much trading interest was generated by the declining price level with the total volume around average size.

Utilities remained ahead slightly on balance. Western Union stood up following a first quarter earnings report showing profits equal to $1.81 a share as against 19 cents a share last year. Consolidated Natural Gas also was higher today on top of its gains of 1⅛ yesterday following a fine earnings statement.

Investigators Are

fires of suspicious origin in May 34 years ago.

Almost Levelled Building

The fire in the cemetery shed of the church last September almost levelled the structure and a group of youngsters were seen on the property when another fire was discovered in the damaged structure last November. About two years ago, some person or persons had entered the office in the church hall and scattered shellac on its floor.

The fire in the church nearly 34 years ago was discovered by Thomas Coons, the sexton, and two days before that two other fires in the city were believed to be of incendiary origin.

The fire in School No. 5 on May 21, 1917, badly damaged all parts of the building but a new four-room addition.

On May 29, of that year, two fires of apparent incendiary origin were reported in the city. One shortly after 10 p. m., destroyed a building to the rear of the A. M. Slauson residence on Albany avenue, and while that was in progress, firemen were called to another in the old hay press factory on Cornell street.

Building Destroyed

The Whitman woodworking plant was housed in the hay press factory building, owned by Mrs. Peter Bauer, of the Saugerties road, at the time of the fire. The blaze had a head start before firemen arrived and destoyed the building.

Sexton Coon, reporting on the discovery of the Comforter Church fire as he arrived at 2 p. m., to prepare for an evening prayer service, said he found a Bible and hymn books piled in a closet under the organ loft, and two brooms with handles crossed were left on top of the pile. The closet door had been closed and the smoldering fire had burned a hole in the floor.

Chief Murphy said today that insofar as he was able to recall, authorities gained no solution of the fires during that eventful May in 1917.

Almost Levelled Building

The fire in the cemetery shed of the church last September almost levelled the structure and a group of youngsters were seen on the property when another fire was discovered in the damaged structure last November. About two years ago, some person or persons had entered the office in the church hall and scattered shellac on its floor.

The fire in the church nearly 34 years ago was discovered by Thomas Coons, the sexton, and two days before that two other fires in the city were believed to be of incendiary origin.

The fire in School No. 5 on May 21, 1917, badly damaged all parts of the building but a new four-room addition.

On May 29, of that year, two fires of apparent incendiary origin were reported in the city. One shortly after 10 p. m., destroyed a building to the rear of the A. M. Slauson residence on Albany avenue, and while that was in progress, firemen were called to another in the old hay press factory on Cornell street.

Building Destroyed

The Whitman woodworking plant was housed in the hay press factory building, owned by Mrs. Peter Bauer, of the Saugerties road, at the time of the fire. The blaze had a head start before firemen arrived and destoyed the building.

Sexton Coon, reporting on the discovery of the Comforter Church fire as he arrived at 2 p. m., to prepare for an evening prayer service, said he found a Bible and hymn books piled in a closet under the organ loft, and two brooms with handles crossed were left on top of the pile. The closet door had been closed and the smoldering fire had burned a hole in the floor.

Chief Murphy said today that insofar as he was able to recall, authorities gained no solution of the fires during that eventful May in 1917.

New York, May 10 (AP)—A sluggish indifference to scattered strength was evident today in a falling stock market.

Prices backed down all the way to a $3 limit. Losses in the $1-$2 area were frequent among leaders.

Not much trading interest was generated by the declining price level with the total volume around average size.

Rubbers were among the first of the major divisions to move up. U. S. Rubber was the leader as the result of a dividend of $1.50 as against $1 paid in March.

Utilities remained ahead slightly on balance. Western Union stood up following a first quarter earnings report showing profits equal to $1.81 a share as against 19 cents a share last year. Consolidated Natural Gas also was higher today on top of its gains of 1¼ yesterday following a fine earnings statement.

Bomb Reds With Leaflets

Kuala Lumpur (AP) — British pilots are doing more than dropping bombs on Communist terrorist hideouts in the Malayan jungle — they're carrying on a propaganda war, too. In a four-day period, the airmen dropped 4,000,000 leaflets in selected areas in Negri Sembilan state. Some of the leaflets, directed to terrorists themselves, called upon them to surrender. Others publicized rewards offered for information leading to the capture or killing of terrorists by security forces.

Will Resume Hearings

Albany, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—The Public Service Commission will resume June 4 its hearings on the New York Telephone Company's request for a $44,000,000 rate increase. The company says the proposed boost would average 7.5 to 8 per cent. An average 11 per cent increase was granted the company last May. It totaled about $48,500,000.

Bull Bill Offered

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Representative Wynne (D-N.Y.) introduced a bill yesterday which would prohibit the transportation in interstate or foreign commerce of bulls to be used in bullfighting. Another bill by Representative Clemente (D-N.Y.) would authorize the construction of a federal building at Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y. The cost would not exceed $10,000,000.

Women Convalesce From Pill Doses

Los Angeles, May 10 (AP)—Mary Astor and dancer Joan Blair Casparis, two women in the life of Beverly Hills stockbroker Thomas G. Wheelock, were canvalescing in separate hospital today from overdoses of sleeping pills.

The chunky Wheelock, married to the 45-year-old Miss Astor for the last six years, told police the incidents were entirely unrelated and "a fantastic coincidence."

Police said Wheelock told them he was making a round of bars with Miss Casparis, 33, when Miss Astor took a sleeping potion Monday night, "but it is not true that I have any romantic interest in Miss Casparis."

"Mary and I are quite happy together—as far as I know," Wheelock was quoted. "I'm going to help her when she gets out of the hospital in a few days. As soon as she's able, possibly we can take a trip together. I want to cheer her up."

Found in Hotel Room

Miss Casparis, whose dancing career was halted several years ago by an automobile accident, was found unconscious in her hotel room late Tuesday night. Nearby was a half-empty bottle of sleeping pills. Beverly Hills police said she had attempted suicide twice before in 1941.

Miss Casparis' mother, Mrs. C. E. Brown of Beverly Hills, said her daughter told her she had spent Monday evening at cafes with Wheelock, "but there's no romance between them; she's known him since she was 12."

The mother said Miss Casparis told her that most of her time with Wheelock Monday night was spent "with him crying on my shoulder about his home problems."

Wheelock, thrice-married and formerly of Chicago, is Miss Astor's fourth husband. Miss Casparis was divorced from a clothing financier.

Doctors said both Miss Astor and Miss Casparis will recover.

Hull Shows Improvement

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The condition of Cordell Hull, secretary of state from 1933 to 1944, was reported today to be further improved. Officials at the Navy Medical Center in nearby Bethesda, Md., said Hull's condition still is serious. For several days it was regarded as critical. Hull, 79, has been a patient at Bethesda since Saturday. He is suffering from a respiratory infection and a heart ailment.

Will Resume Hearings

Albany, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—The Public Service Commission will resume June 4 its hearings on the New York Telephone Company's request for a $44,000,000 rate increase. The company says the proposed boost would average 7.5 to 8 per cent. An average 11 per cent increase was granted the company last May. It totaled about $48,500,000.

Bull Bill Offered

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Representative Wynne (D-N.Y.) introduced a bill yesterday which would prohibit the transportation in interstate or foreign commerce of bulls to be used in bullfighting. Another bill by Representative Clemente (D-N.Y.) would authorize the construction of a federal building at Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y. The cost would not exceed $10,000,000.

Women Convalesce From Pill Doses

Los Angeles, May 10 (AP)—Mary Astor and dancer Joan Blair Casparis, two women in the life of Beverly Hills stockbroker Thomas G. Wheelock, were canvalescing in separate hospital today from overdoses of sleeping pills.

The chunky Wheelock, married to the 45-year-old Miss Astor for the last six years, told police the incidents were entirely unrelated and "a fantastic coincidence."

Police said Wheelock told them he was making a round of bars with Miss Casparis, 33, when Miss Astor took a sleeping potion Monday night, "but it is not true that I have any romantic interest in Miss Casparis."

"Mary and I are quite happy together—as far as I know," Wheelock was quoted. "I'm going to help her when she gets out of the hospital in a few days. As soon as she's able, possibly we can take a trip together. I want to cheer her up."

Found in Hotel Room

Miss Casparis, whose dancing career was halted several years ago by an automobile accident, was found unconscious in her hotel room late Tuesday night. Nearby was a half-empty bottle of sleeping pills. Beverly Hills police said she had attempted suicide twice before in 1941.

Miss Casparis' mother, Mrs. C. E. Brown of Beverly Hills, said her daughter told her she had spent Monday evening at cafes with Wheelock, "but there's no romance between them; she's known him since she was 12."

The mother said Miss Casparis told her that most of her time with Wheelock Monday night was spent "with him crying on my shoulder about his home problems."

Wheelock, thrice-married and formerly of Chicago, is Miss Astor's fourth husband. Miss Casparis was divorced from a clothing financier.

Doctors said both Miss Astor and Miss Casparis will recover.

Hull Shows Improvement

Washington, May 10 (AP)—The condition of Cordell Hull, secretary of state from 1933 to 1944, was reported today to be further improved. Officials at the Navy Medical Center in nearby Bethesda, Md., said Hull's condition still is serious. For several days it was regarded as critical. Hull, 79, has been a patient at Bethesda since Saturday. He is suffering from a respiratory infection and a heart ailment.

Mother's Day Dessert Banquet

BOUQUET ICE CREAM CAKE, with pink marshmallow frosting, is dessert treat for Mother's Day.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

How's this colorful idea for the cake young daughter serves as a gala surprise on Mother's Day—a pink layer cake topped with alternating petals of strawberry and vanilla ice cream. To complete the ice cream flower, a ball of vanilla sprinkled with coconut is placed in the center. To carry out the nosegay picture, there is a base of lace paper doilies and a ribbon bow.

Nothing difficult about this. Use a prepared white cake mix and buy the ice cream in bulk. The pink marshmallow frosting recipe is very easy to make.

Bouquet Ice Cream Cake

One package prepared white cake mix, few drops red coloring, 1 pint strawberry ice cream (bulk), 1 pint vanilla ice cream (bulk), 1 recipe pink marshmallow frosting, ¼ cup yellow-tinted coconut (shredded).

Prepare cake according to package directions, adding coloring to liquid. Bake cake in two 8-inch pans covered with cookie sheets to preserve pink color. Place one layer on round plate with doily edging under plate. Cover with icing and arrange second layer on top. Ice sides only, with pink frosting. Scoop ice cream from container with large oval tablespoon to form petal shapes. Place petals on ice cream freezer tray and replace in refrigerator until ready to use. To serve, cover top of cake with alternate strawberry and vanilla ice cream petals. Sprinkle coconut on center to give pollen effect or else roll scoop of vanilla ice cream in coconut and place in center.

Pink Marshmallow Frosting

Six marshmallows, 6 tablespoons milk, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter, few drops red food coloring, 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring, 2¼ cups confectioners' sugar.

Combine marshmallows, milk and salt in top of doublt boiler; heat over hot water until marshmallows are melted. Add butter, remove from heat and cool. Add coloring and vanilla. Stir until a thick paste is formed. Gradually work in sugar until the mixture is smooth and thick enough to spread.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, crisp bacon, toasted English muffins, butter or fortified margarine, jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Ham omelet, crisp rolls, butter or fortified margarine, watercress, peanut butter cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tuna fish and green pepper ring with steamed rice in center, tomato sauce, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, ice cream nosegay cake, coffee, milk.

Add some pickling spices to the water in which you cook shrimp for good flavor.

Korean Veteran Can't Get Hospital Care in Southeast

Tuscon, Ariz., May 10 (AP)—A former marine who fought in the Korean war has been denied treatment in a Veterans Administration Hospital because he is not a veteran of a recognized war.

The veteran, David R. Arellano, Jr., 21, of Tucson, was unable to enter the hospital yesterday. He was taken to Pima County Hospital and operated on for a throat cancer.

Col. J. E. Gaines, hospital manager, said he was unable to help the one-time member of a bazooka squad because the United States is not at war with Korea.

He said under present laws the Korean combat veteran is still in the same status as a soldier discharged in peace time.

"Under the present setup no returned veteran from Korea is eligible for hospital benefits unless he has been discharged from the service because of a duty disability."

"It is a national policy," he stated.

His stand was backed by William T. Hardaway, manager of the regional VA office in Phoenix.

Gaines expressed regret he had been unable to help Arellano.

"We at the Veteran's Hospital are completely sympathetic with the plight of these men. Under the present status we are not at war in Korea so these men are not eligible for treatment."

Then he added:

Foxes Take Over Local Greenhouse

Woodstock, May 9—Jon and Nick Fox began to move their plants this week into their new greenhouse directly across the road from their residence on Mead Mountain Road. It was upon the invitation of Julius H. Weitzner, the present owner of the former Cannon estate, and an old friend of Nick Fox, that the couple will house their plants in the famous circular greenhouse on the Weitzner property. Weitzner, who will shortly leave for Italy, has also requested that Nick Fox make use of all the equipment in the greenhouse in order that he may continue his experiments with plants with greater ease.

Jon and Nick Fox are particularly proud of a prize flower section containing giant petunias, rose bushes in full bloom, exotic tuberous rooted begonias and special flame-colored geraniums, all of which are now on view at the greenhouse.

The Fox tulip display of about 6,000 tulips, of every known kind, is now in full bloom, and because of the unusually good weather, will probably continue at its height for the next two weeks. The public is invited ot view the gardens on any day after 12 noon.

With many more plants still to be moved to the new greenhouse, the Foxes promise that the displays will be enhanced by new blooms each week. They are prepared to receive many visitors on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 13. Visitors are also welcome to inspect the greenhouse any evening by calling in advance.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Foxes Take Over Local Greenhouse

Woodstock, May 9—Jon and Nick Fox began to move their plants this week into their new greenhouse directly across the road from their residence on Mead Mountain Road. It was upon the invitation of Julius H. Weitzner, the present owner of the former Cannon estate, and an old friend of Nick Fox, that the couple will house their plants in the famous circular greenhouse on the Weitzner property. Weitzner, who will shortly leave for Italy, has also requested that Nick Fox make use of all the equipment in the greenhouse in order that he may continue his experiments with plants with greater ease.

Jon and Nick Fox are particularly proud of a prize flower section containing giant petunias, rose bushes in full bloom, exotic tuberous rooted begonias and special flame-colored geraniums, all of which are now on view at the greenhouse.

The Fox tulip display of about 6,000 tulips, of every known kind, is now in full bloom, and because of the unusually good weather, will probably continue at its height for the next two weeks. The public is invited ot view the gardens on any day after 12 noon.

With many more plants still to be moved to the new greenhouse, the Foxes promise that the displays will be enhanced by new blooms each week. They are prepared to receive many visitors on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 13. Visitors are also welcome to inspect the greenhouse any evening by calling in advance.

Chambers Guernsey Second As Producer

Peterborough, N. H., May 10—Tons of milk and butterfat were produced by Maple Lane Princess Theresa to give her second place among the top 10 of the Guernsey breed. This registered Guernsey, owned by A. H. Chambers, Kingston, N. Y., produced 14,665 pounds of milk and 673 pounds of butterfat. The record, computed in the advanced registry division, started when "Theresa" was a junior two-year-old. She was milked three times daily for 305 days.

The average milk cow in the United States produces about 5,240 pounds of milk and 208 pounds of butterfat a year.

Methodists Open Annual Conference

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—A religious educator says the church should support the United States government and the United Nations "in the use of military force within limits."

Addressing the 152nd session of the New York Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, Dr. John C. Bennett, professor of Christian ethics at Union Theological Seminary, said yesterday that the good as well as the bad features of communism must be rejected to prevent the extention of "Stalin totalitarianism."

For the first time in its history the conference is being presided over by a Negro, Resident Bishop Alexander P. Shaw of the Baltimore area of the Methodist Church. In the past, Negro cnurchmen have presided over parts, but not all of a session.

The conference includes 351 churches in Manhattan, the Bronx, Westchester, Putnam, Orange, Dutchess, Ulster, Sullivan and Delaware counties.

The Rev. C. Lloyd Lee, district superintendent of Newburgh, told the delegates that the Methodist Church needs 1,200 new ministers each year.

The conference voted a five per cent salary increase for its pastors, effective next year.

Provisions of Report

Dr. Walter L. Scranton, of White Plains, submitted the report of the Board of Ministerial Training and qualifications. It transferred into full membership in the conference Wayne W. Williams, of Paterson, N. J., and George P. Werner, of Grand Gorge, N. Y.

Other provisions of the report were:

Received on trial: Paul W. Brown, Dan P. Cole and Theodore J. Kitchen, of New York city; Herman L. Kuster, Dover Plains, N. Y., and Willett R. Porter, East Chatham, N. Y.

Murray, Hyde Park, and Frank M. Cartwright, Irvington.

Elected deacons: The Revs. George I. Goodwin, Equiunk; Edward A. Bawden, Andes; Robert A. Gevert, Oak Hill; Robert V. Johannson, New York; Erich G. Lerchenfeld, Ridgebury, N. Y.; Robert P. Arias Reinstates

streets following yesterday's orgy of violence in which at least three persons perished.

The dead were listed as Virgilio Carvejal, Jr., shot down in a skirmish last night; Luis Alberto Sitton, 22, killed during the night when snipers hiding in the postoffice opened fire on the Cathedral Plaza, and a 19-year-old student, Carlos Tapia, who died in a clash earlier in the day.

The crisis arose after Arias issued a decree Monday replacing the 1946 constitution with the 1941 version drawn up when he held office before.

The president said then he acted against a subversive plot by oppositionists and Communists, who, he charged, threatened the country. The 1946 constitution provides a four-year presidential term. The 1941 document gives him six years and wider powers.

Austin Says War

tuary," he said, but the UN's unity of purpose forced the Communists to withdraw.

"No cease-fire arrangements were made, "no truce agreements reached, no treaties signed. But, militarily and politically, Communist imperialism was defeated. Militarily and politically, the United Nations was victorious."

Austin said political forces are now at work in Communist China, which may well bring the same results.

"Even Communist masters," he said, "dare not continue indefinitely to drive hundreds of thousands of their countrymen into the slaughter of our superior fire power. Their casualties have been tremendous. Even Communist slave-drivers cannot remain immune from such a calamity."

Asks End of 'Relaxation'

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Naming "relaxation" as the country's worst enemy at this moment, President Truman asked industry to buckle down under federal controls for "the next two or three years at least." The President told 600 leaders of the oil, power, fuel and mining industries Wednesday that it is "foolish" and "impossible" to talk of abandoning price and wage ceilings. "You ought to be asking Congress for higher taxes," he said. "But when you do that, be sure to urge them to extend price and wage controls too."

Methodists Open Annual Conference

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—A religious educator says the church should support the United States government and the United Nations "in the use of military force within limits."

Addressing the 152nd session of the New York Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, Dr. John C. Bennett, professor of Christian ethics at Union Theological Seminary, said yesterday that the good as well as the bad features of communism must be rejected to prevent the extention of "Stalin totalitarianism."

For the first time in its history the conference is being presided over by a Negro, Resident Bishop Alexander P. Shaw of the Baltimore area of the Methodist Church. In the past, Negro cnurchmen have presided over parts, but not all of a session.

The conference includes 351 churches in Manhattan, the Bronx, Westchester, Putnam, Orange, Dutchess, Ulster, Sullivan and Delaware counties.

The Rev. C. Lloyd Lee, district superintendent of Newburgh, told the delegates that the Methodist Church needs 1,200 new ministers each year.

The conference voted a five per cent salary increase for its pastors, effective next year.

Provisions of Report

Dr. Walter L. Scranton, of White Plains, submitted the report of the Board of Ministerial Training and qualifications. It transferred into full membership in the conference Wayne W. Williams, of Paterson, N. J., and George P. Werner, of Grand Gorge, N. Y.

Other provisions of the report were:

Admitted into full connection: Evyn Merrill Adams, New York; Philip C. Hammond, Jr., Monticello; Henry N. Muller, Roxbury; George E. Rice, New York city; Leroy E. Seaver, Harriman; Arthur J. Smith, Southbury, Conn.; Ralph S. Thorn, Jr., White Plains; Richard A. Thornburg, Garrison; Richard C. Vetter, Yonkers; Eung P. Yun, White Plains; Williams Impler, Modena; Richard T. Murray, Hyde Park, and Frank M. Cartwright, Irvington.

streets following yesterday's orgy of violence in which at least three persons perished.

The dead were listed as Virgilio Carvejal, Jr., shot down in a skirmish last night; Luis Alberto Sitton, 22, killed during the night when snipers hiding in the postoffice opened fire on the Cathedral Plaza, and a 19-year-old student, Carlos Tapia, who died in a clash earlier in the day.

The crisis arose after Arias issued a decree Monday replacing the 1946 constitution with the 1941 version drawn up when he held office before.

The president said then he acted against a subversive plot by oppositionists and Communists, who, he charged, threatened the country. The 1946 constitution provides a four-year presidential term. The 1941 document gives him six years and wider powers.

Austin Says War

tuary," he said, but the UN's unity of purpose forced the Communists to withdraw.

"No cease-fire arrangements were made, "no truce agreements reached, no treaties signed. But, militarily and politically, Communist imperialism was defeated. Militarily and politically, the United Nations was victorious."

Austin said political forces are now at work in Communist China, which may well bring the same results.

"Even Communist masters," he said, "dare not continue indefinitely to drive hundreds of thousands of their countrymen into the slaughter of our superior fire power. Their casualties have been tremendous. Even Communist slave-drivers cannot remain immune from such a calamity."

Asks End of 'Relaxation'

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Naming "relaxation" as the country's worst enemy at this moment, President Truman asked industry to buckle down under federal controls for "the next two or three years at least." The President told 600 leaders of the oil, power, fuel and mining industries Wednesday that it is "foolish" and "impossible" to talk of abandoning price and wage ceilings. "You ought to be asking Congress for higher taxes," he said. "But when you do that, be sure to urge them to extend price and wage controls too."

Galbraith to Sing At Temple Dance Saturday, May 12

WILLIAM GALBRAITH

Among the featured entertainers at Temple Emanuel's dinner dance Saturday, scheduled to be held in the Crystal Room of the Governor Clinton Hotel, will be William Galbraith of Poughkeepsie, who is known for his "likeable personality," a "fine tenor voice," and an "exceptionally wide" range.

Already well on his way up the thorny path to theatrical success, Galbraith can chalk up to his credit years of radio work in addition to night club singing engagements in Chicago, New York and Cincinnati as an associate of Happy Felton and his band. He has also appeared in the supper club of the Mount Royal Hotel in Montreal, Canada.

One way or another, Mr. Galbraith's voice has been winning him acclaim for several years. As a high school senior he won the New York State Public Speaking Contest.

Saturday night Mr. Galbraith will join forces with Miss Cyrel Gottesman, also a Poughkeepsie vocalist.

According to Mrs. Edward Netburn and Mrs. Joseph Honig, dance chairmen, reservations may still be made by calling Mrs. Honig at 2752.

Friday Night Dance

But Problems Live On

New York, May 10 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin, a right-hand man of President Truman, says "great generals sometimes fade away, but the problems that confront a great nation live on." The reference obviously was to General MacArthur's controversy with President Truman and the general's mention of the barracks room ballad about old soldiers. Tobin says the nation's problems "must be met with coolness and deliberation."

'Gag' Is Charged

Washington, May 10 (AP)—Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) accused the Truman administration today of attempting to clap "a complete gage rule" on military field commanders. His charge was made as an outgrowth of the hearings into the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur by President Truman. Bridges is senior Republican on the armed services committee which, together with the foreign relations committee, is conducting the hearings.

Amsterdam Blasts Colonials 17-6 in Early Inning Spree

Greene Cracks Homer, Triple and Single

Unless Manager Hank Camelli and his front office can come up with some relief for the Colonials' inadequate mound staff, there's going to be more such nights as last night's 17 to 6 defeat at the hands of the Amsterdam Rugmakers.

The Rugmakers, who are now in a second place tie with the Oneonta Red Sox and only a half game behind the league-leading Pittsfield club, tore into starter George Sweeney for a big cluster of five runs in the first inning of Wednesday night's fray in Amsterdam before the crowd of 505 persons hardly got seated.

Sweeney, who never did get the side out in the initial frame, was cuffed for four hits in exactly one-third of an inning. His reliefer, Walt Sullivan, who came out of the bullpen in the opening stanza, didn't look much better as the Rugmakers added another in the second and seven in the third to lead by 13-1 at the end of three frames.

Ormiston Effective

Jack Ormiston, the outfielder-pitcher, fared the best of the three hurlers nominated by Camelli to stop the Amsterdam tide.

Jack blanked Amsterdam through the fourth, fifth and sixth stanzas only to have the home club shoot back with one in the seventh and another unnecessary rally of three in the bottom half of the eighth.

Sullivan, working two complete frames, gave up six hits and walked three. Ormiston allowed four bingles in his five and two-thirds innings of toiling on the hill. Ormiston issued four free tickets to first and fanned three.

Greene Is Hot

Meanwhile, Dick Ostrander who notched his first win of the 1951 campaign, didn't have too much trouble in checking Kingston. He could have enjoyed a much easier night if Al Greene, the Colonial centerfielder, hadn't been around.

Greene, enjoying one of his best nights of the young season, opened his firing on Ostrander with a single in the fifth. He blasted a long triple in the eighth and wound up his night's work with a terrific 380-foot whack over the left field wall in the ninth inning.

The other hits off Ostrander were spaced between four Colonials. Joe Niro, Lou Kramberg, Ormiston and Tom Wenning each got a safe poke.

Ostrander helped himself to some of Kingston's pitching offerings by blasting a two-run homer off Ormiston in the eighth. Johnny Jones, who picked up three hits, also homered off Ormiston in the eighth.

Other Can-Am Results

Pittsfield had its league lead shaved to a half game last night by dropping a wild 14 to 13 decision to the Oneonta Red Sox. John Minarcin, Oneonta center fielder, singled home the winning run in the last of the ninth.

Charlie Gersten, the last of three Oneonta pitchers, got the win. Bob MacPhail, who took over in the ninth for Pittsfield, was tagged with the loss.

The Gloversville - Rome game was postponed due to rain. The two clubs will play a doubleheader tonight.

Lopat Poison to Indians

(By The Associated Press)

As long as Cleveland is in the American League, Eddie Lopat has a steady job. Since June 17, 1949, the chunky New York Yankee lefty is 10-0 against the Tribe.

With a lifetime 29-6 edge over the Cleveland gang, Lopat is money in the bank for Manager Casey Stengel. How can Cleveland put on a drive when Casey has Lopat?

Eddie's poison was almost as deadly when he pitched for Chicago. But once he switched to New York he became a sure shot against the Indians. And now he's beating them to death with a bat too.

It's a rare Cleveland series that doesn't find Lopat pitching the key game for the Yanks. He beat them six times last year as well as the last three times he faced them in '49.

They criticized old Case last summer when he used Lopat and Tommy Byrne as pinch hitters against this very same Cleveland team. But last night Lopat proved his batting power once more, he hit a three-run homer and drove in five Yankee runs in their 9-2 triumph.

Tops Both Leagues

Lopat now tops both majors with a perfect 5-0 record for the year although his string of 32 innings without an earned run was snapped. Loser Bob Lemon was knocked out in the sixth.

It was the Yanks seventh win in nine starts on their first western trip. They stretched their first place margin to two full games and left the Indians in third.

The Yanks victory probably was the most important of yesterday's action but the New York Giants 17-3 romp over the make-shift St. Louis Cards started more tongues wagging. Leo Durochar's crew now has won eight of its last 10 starts.

Throwing off the shackles of their horrendous slump, the Giants have climbed out of the cellar. With eight Cards bedded down by flu, the Giant sluggers ripped into Max Lanier and three "savers" for 21 hits. The hit and run totals tied the season high in both leagues.

Noble Blasts Two

Sal Maglie curve-balled his way to his third straight win with a five-hitter.

In the upper brackets of the National, the Boston Braves took advantage of the Card collapse to widen their lead to two games. Vern Bickford allowed only two Cincinnati singles in winning his fifth straight, 4-0. It was the Braves' sixth shutout job in 24 games.

Konstanty Wins First

Konstanty rescued Russ Meyer in the ninth, forcing Gus Bell and Ralph Kiner to ground out. Then he blanked them in the 10th while the Phils got to reliefer Joe Muir for the winner.

Eddie Pellagrini's single with two out drove in Eddie Waitkus with the big run.

Clyde King tamed the Chicago Cubs for a 5-4 Brooklyn victory. A timely double by Cal Abrams scored two runs to break a 2-2 tie in the sixth.

The American Leaguers got notice to expect the worst from Hal Newhouser from now on as the Detroit lefty shut out Washington, 4-0, with seven hits. After three wobbly starts, the veteran ace has pitched two fine games in succession.

The Philadelphia A's scored six in the 10th to drub the St. Louis Browns, 8-2, after tying the game on Eddie Joost's homer in the ninth.

The Boston at Chicago night game was rained out.

NFA Racqueteers Clip Maroon

Newburgh Academy's tennis powerhouse shut out Kingston High in a DUSO League match, 5-0, Tuesday in the Hill City.

Nobody can recall the last time anything like that happened to Coach Theron Culver's forces.

The Goldbacks swept three singles and both doubles and only the No. 2 singles was close. Jay Rider led Hollub, 5-2, and then went into a tailspin. George Carpouzis and Dan Fitzgerald were beaten in the singles.

Kingston, with a 3-1 record for the season, plays in Beacon on Friday.

The summaries:

(Singles)

Hershberg, NFA, defeated Carpouzis, K, 6-1, 6-2.

Hollub, NFA, d Rider, K, 7-5, 6-1.

O'Donovan, NFA, d Dan Fitzgerald, K, 6-3, 6-2.

(Doubles)

Hershberg and Markson, NFA, d Carpouzis and Rider, K, 6-1, 6-2.

Hollub and O'Donovan, NFA, d Smith and Schoonmaker, K, 6-2, 6-3.

Murphy Notches 53rd KO

Chicago, May 10 (AP)—Irish Bob Murphy has added the 53rd knockout notch to his sensational ring record and has won the right to test the iron jaw of durable Jake La Motta, who has been beaten but never floored. La Motta, who lost his middleweight crown to Sugar Ray Robinson on Feb. 14, will make his first start as a light-heavyweight contender against the flailing Murphy in New York's Yankee Stadium June 27. Murphy gained the big money shot last night by bruising and cutting down Danny Nardico, of Tampa, Fla., for a spectacular fourth round technical knockout in a scheduled 10 rounder at Chicago Stadium.

Amsterdam Blasts Colonials 17-6 in Early Inning Spree

Greene Cracks Homer, Triple and Single

Unless Manager Hank Camelli and his front office can come up with some relief for the Colonials' inadequate mound staff, there's going to be more such nights as last night's 17 to 6 defeat at the hands of the Amsterdam Rugmakers.

The Rugmakers, who are now in a second place tie with the Oneonta Red Sox and only a half game behind the league-leading Pittsfield club, tore into starter George Sweeney for a big cluster of five runs in the first inning of Wednesday night's fray in Amsterdam before the crowd of 505 persons hardly got seated.

Sweeney, who never did get the side out in the initial frame, was cuffed for four hits in exactly one-third of an inning. His reliefer, Walt Sullivan, who came out of the bullpen in the opening stanza, didn't look much better as the Rugmakers added another in the second and seven in the third to lead by 13-1 at the end of three frames.

Ormiston Effective

Jack Ormiston, the outfielder-pitcher, fared the best of the three hurlers nominated by Camelli to stop the Amsterdam tide.

Jack blanked Amsterdam through the fourth, fifth and sixth stanzas only to have the home club shoot back with one in the seventh and another unnecessary rally of three in the bottom half of the eighth.

Sullivan, working two complete frames, gave up six hits and walked three. Ormiston allowed four bingles in his five and two-thirds innings of toiling on the hill. Ormiston issued four free tickets to first and fanned three.

Greene Is Hot

Meanwhile, Dick Ostrander who notched his first win of the 1951 campaign, didn't have too much trouble in checking Kingston. He could have enjoyed a much easier night if Al Greene, the Colonial centerfielder, hadn't been around.

Greene, enjoying one of his best nights of the young season, opened his firing on Ostrander with a single in the fifth. He blasted a long triple in the eighth and wound up his night's work with a terrific 380-foot whack over the left field wall in the ninth inning.

The other hits off Ostrander were spaced between four Colonials. Joe Niro, Lou Kramberg, Ormiston and Tom Wenning each got a safe poke.

Ostrander helped himself to some of Kingston's pitching offerings by blasting a two-run homer off Ormiston in the eighth. Johnny Jones, who picked up three hits, also homered off Ormiston in the eighth.

Other Can-Am Results

Pittsfield had its league lead shaved to a half game last night by dropping a wild 14 to 13 decision to the Oneonta Red Sox. John Minarcin, Oneonta center fielder, singled home the winning run in the last of the ninth.

Charlie Gersten, the last of three Oneonta pitchers, got the win. Bob MacPhail, who took over in the ninth for Pittsfield, was tagged with the loss.

The Gloversville - Rome game was postponed due to rain. The two clubs will play a doubleheader tonight.

Murphy Notches 53rd KO

Chicago, May 10 (AP)—Irish Bob Murphy has added the 53rd knockout notch to his sensational ring record and has won the right to test the iron jaw of durable Jake La Motta, who has been beaten but never floored. La Motta, who lost his middleweight crown to Sugar Ray Robinson on Feb. 14, will make his first start as a light-heavyweight contender against the flailing Murphy in New York's Yankee Stadium June 27. Murphy gained the big money shot last night by bruising and cutting down Danny Nardico, of Tampa, Fla., for a spectacular fourth round technical knockout in a scheduled 10 rounder at Chicago Stadium.

Amsterdam Blasts Colonials 17-6 in Early Inning Spree

Greene Cracks Homer, Triple and Single

Unless Manager Hank Camelli and his front office can come up with some relief for the Colonials' inadequate mound staff, there's going to be more such nights as last night's 17 to 6 defeat at the hands of the Amsterdam Rugmakers.

The Rugmakers, who are now in a second place tie with the Oneonta Red Sox and only a half game behind the league-leading Pittsfield club, tore into starter George Sweeney for a big cluster of five runs in the first inning of Wednesday night's fray in Amsterdam before the crowd of 505 persons hardly got seated.

Sweeney, who never did get the side out in the initial frame, was cuffed for four hits in exactly one-third of an inning. His reliefer, Walt Sullivan, who came out of the bullpen in the opening stanza, didn't look much better as the Rugmakers added another in the second and seven in the third to lead by 13-1 at the end of three frames.

Ormiston Effective

Jack Ormiston, the outfielder-pitcher, fared the best of the three hurlers nominated by Camelli to stop the Amsterdam tide.

Jack blanked Amsterdam through the fourth, fifth and sixth stanzas only to have the home club shoot back with one in the seventh and another unnecessary rally of three in the bottom half of the eighth.

Sullivan, working two complete frames, gave up six hits and walked three. Ormiston allowed four bingles in his five and two-thirds innings of toiling on the hill. Ormiston issued four free tickets to first and fanned three.

Greene Is Hot

Meanwhile, Dick Ostrander who notched his first win of the 1951 campaign, didn't have too much trouble in checking Kingston. He could have enjoyed a much easier night if Al Greene, the Colonial centerfielder, hadn't been around.

Greene, enjoying one of his best nights of the young season, opened his firing on Ostrander with a single in the fifth. He blasted a long triple in the eighth and wound up his night's work with a terrific 380-foot whack over the left field wall in the ninth inning.

The other hits off Ostrander were spaced between four Colonials. Joe Niro, Lou Kramberg, Ormiston and Tom Wenning each got a safe poke.

Ostrander helped himself to some of Kingston's pitching offerings by blasting a two-run homer off Ormiston in the eighth. Johnny Jones, who picked up three hits, also homered off Ormiston in the eighth.

Other Can-Am Results

Pittsfield had its league lead shaved to a half game last night by dropping a wild 14 to 13 decision to the Oneonta Red Sox. John Minarcin, Oneonta center fielder, singled home the winning run in the last of the ninth.

Charlie Gersten, the last of three Oneonta pitchers, got the win. Bob MacPhail, who took over in the ninth for Pittsfield, was tagged with the loss.

The Gloversville-Rome game was postponed due to rain. The two clubs will play a doubleheader tonight.

Lopat Poison to Indians

(By The Associated Press)

As long as Cleveland is in the American League, Eddie Lopat has a steady job. Since June 17, 1949, the chunky New York Yankee lefty is 10-0 against the Tribe.

With a lifetime 29-6 edge over the Cleveland gang, Lopat is money in the bank for Manager Casey Stengel. How can Cleveland put on a drive when Casey has Lopat?

Eddie's poison was almost as deadly when he pitched for Chicago. But once he switched to New York he became a sure shot against the Indians. And now he's beating them to death with a bat too.

It's a rare Cleveland series that doesn't find Lopat pitching the key game for the Yanks. He beat them six times last year as well as the last three times he faced them in '49.

They criticized old Case last summer when he used Lopat and Tommy Byrne as pinch hitters against this very same Cleveland team. But last night Lopat proved his batting power once more, he hit a three-run homer and drove in five Yankee runs in their 9-2 triumph.

Tops Both Leagues

Lopat now tops both majors with a perfect 5-0 record for the year although his string of 32 innings without an earned run was snapped. Loser Bob Lemon was knocked out in the sixth.

It was the Yanks seventh win in nine starts on their first western trip. They stretched their first place margin to two full games and left the Indians in third.

The Yanks victory probably was the most important of yesterday's action but the New York Giants 17-3 romp over the make-shift St. Louis Cards started more tongues wagging. Leo Durocher's crew now has won eight of its last 10 starts.

Throwing off the shackles of their horrendous slump, the Giants have climbed out of the cellar. With eight Cards bedded down by flu, the Giant sluggers ripped into Max Lanier and three "savers" for 21 hits. The hit and run totals tied the season high in both leagues.

Noble Blasts Two

Ray Noble, husky Cuban catcher, hit two home runs and two singles in the big push.

Sal Maglie curve-balled his way to his third straight win with a five-hitter.

In the upper brackets of the National, the Boston Braves took advantage of the Card collapse to widen their lead to two games. Vern Bickford allowed only two Cincinnati singles in winning his fifth straight, 4-0. It was the Braves' sixth shutout job in 24 games.

Konstanty Wins First

Jim Konstanty picked up his first win after three defeats as the Philadelphia Phils took a 10-inning game from Pittsburgh, 6-5.

Konstanty rescued Russ Meyer in the ninth, forcing Gus Bell and Ralph Kiner to ground out. Then he blanked them in the 10th while the Phils got to reliefer Joe Muir for the winner.

Eddie Pellagrini's single with two out drove in Eddie Waitkus with the big run.

Clyde King tamed the Chicago Cubs for a 5-4 Brooklyn victory. A timely double by Cal Abrams scored two runs to break a 2-2 tie in the sixth.

The American Leaguers got notice to expect the worst from Hal Newhouser from now on as the Detroit lefty shut out Washington, 4-0, with seven hits. After three wobbly starts, the veteran ace has pitched two fine games in succession.

The Philadelphia A's scored six in the 10th to drub the St. Louis Browns, 8-2, after tying the game on Eddie Joost's homer in the ninth.

The Boston at Chicago night game was rained out.

Dulin's Single in 6th Ruins Bid for No-Hitter

Burdette Whitaker, a fledging hurler from Saugerties, made the second bid for recognition in the City League Hall of Fame Wednesday night as he carved himself a sparkling one-hit job for Old Capital Motors at the expense of the supposedly hard-hitting Ferraro Bowlodrome nine at the Athletic Field.

The Motormen won by 4 to 3.

Dick Dulin, center fielder for the losers, ruined Whitaker's no-hit bid with a sharp single to right in the sixth inning after the Motorman flinger had set down his opponents for five and a third innings without a hit.

The first bid for a no-hitter this week was turned in by Joe Canoso, Wiltwyck pitcher, who limited Morgan's Restaurant to a single blow in the opening game of the City League schedule.

Of course, back in the first inning of last night's tilt, Whitaker wasn't necessarily thinking about any admission to the Hall of Fame. After seeing three runs romp over the plate without the aid of a hit, he probably was concerned with just staying in the ball game.

Fortunately for Old Capitals he did.

Jack Watzka, who went the distance for the Bowlodrome nine, was cuffed for back to back doubles by Bill Jackson and Felipe, the first two batters to face him in the opening inning, giving Old Caps a 1-0 edge.

The first frame for Whittaker was a nightmare and it went something like this:

All Without a Hit

Jack Ferraro worked the Saugerties moundsman for a walk to start things. Frank Ferraro shot a double-play grounder to Lang who messed up the play for an error as J. Ferraro skipped around to third. The two Ferraro's pulled a double steal, with J. Ferraro scoring. After "Red" Gorsline walked, Ralph Tiano rapped another grounder to Lang who booted the play for a two-base error as F. Ferraro romped homeward. Gorsline, who advanced to third on Lang's second boot, scored after Mauro skied to left. About this time, Whittaker decided to take things in his own hands and proceeded to strikeout Dulin and Tom Henberry to end the inning.

Watzka held his 3-1 edge until the fourth when the Old Caps went to work and pulled the game out of the fire for Whittaker.

Olen opened the proceedings with a single, followed by Schryver's double into the right field corner. When Tiano misplayed Schryver's belt, Olen scored. After Davis whiffed, Oakley batted for Lang and reached first on Mauro's error as Schryver moved to third. After Oakley pilfered second, Whittaker helped his own cause with a single driving in Schryver and sending Oakley to third. Oakley later romped in on Jackson's infield out.

Sideliners . . . Whittaker faced only 17 batters in the last five innings after that hectic first. He fanned seven and looked sharp. Watzka, who deserved a better fate, whiffed nine and failed to walk a man . . . The crowd was rooting for Whittaker to go all the way when it was getting down to the wire. He looks like a "comer." . . . Stealing of baseballs by a certain group at the Athletic Field is getting out of hand and is seriously threatening to bankrupt the circuit. City League officials have turned the matter over to the local police and if the practice continues arrests may be forthcoming. Names of some of the individuals responsible for stealing the balls are in the hands of the loop, it was learned today. . . U. S. Golfers Eagerly Await Walker Opening

Birkdale, England, May 10 (AP)—The American Walker Cup golf team, led by bouncing Willie Turnesa, is as high spirited bunch of lads as ever ribbed each other in a collegiate bull session.

Through their merry attitude there spreads high confidence that they will carry the cup back to the United States for the 12th time. The matches start tomorrow. Possession of the cup symbolizes international supremacy in amateur team golf.

The British, who have won only once, are grim this year. There is a persistent belief that Britain has its strongest team since it scored its lone victory in 1938, and a somewhat forlorn optimism that somehow the British might win again.

To further their chance on narrow fairways and rockhard greens, the British have brought in two bigtime pros, Henry Cotton and Dai Rees, to coach their players.

Polly Riley Sure Bet For South Title Again

Fort Smith, Ark., May 10 (AP)—Unless her game suddenly cools off, Polly Riley stands a mighty good chance of winning her third southern women's amateur golf championship.

The Fort Worth Miss, who won the title in 1948 and again last year, has mastered Hardscrabble Country Club's tough 6,421-yard layout as no other entrant has been able to do in winning two lopsided matches and advancing to today's quarterfinals.

Yesterday she shot at 34—one under par—on the front nine and coasted to a 6 and 5 victory over another Texan, Pat Gerner of Midland. The day before Miss Riley blasted her opponent, 9 and 8, with one-under-men's par performance for 10 holes.

The co-favorites with Miss Riley, medalist Dot Kirby of Atlanta and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., also moved into the round of eight.

Elizabeth, N. J.—Basil Marie, 136, Philadelphia, outpointed Johnny Johniken, 132, New York, 8.

Elmira Shufflers Win State Title

Elmira Lodge of Moose dethroned Utica as New York State Moose Lodge shuffleboard champions in the finals of the state tournament at the local Moose lodge on Sunday. Twenty-two teams competed in the two-day affair. Kingston Lodge was eliminated by Endicott in the first round.

Iron Curtain Goes Up for Olympics

Vienna, May 10 (AP)—Olympic officials patted their own backs today at their success in practicing international relations.

In three days here, the International Olympic Committee—without squabble—admitted Russia to the 1952 Olympic Games, ordered East and West Germany to get together athletically and received feelers from members long lost behind the Iron Curtain in Bulgaria and Rumania.

Russia hasn't competed in the Olympics since 1912.

"We believe the IOC is the first truly international organization to make such progress in bringing together the East and West," said Otto Mayer, chancellor of the IOC.

The three-day meeting was attended by delegates from 28 countries, including for first time since 1948 officials from Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

"We got along very well," Mayer said. "Everything was very friendly."

IOC delegates seemed especially optimistic the Germans will settle differences, athletic differences.

West Germany's Olympic committee was recognized but it was asked to make every effort to combine with a new East German committee. An hour's session between the two was held yesterday. A formal conference is scheduled for Lausanne Switzerland May 21 and 22.

If they don't get together there is some question whether Germany can enter the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki and Oslo.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 10 (AP)—An Atlantic City sportsman has offered a way out for college gymnast Daniel Rene, who broke his back in a meet in Ann Arbor, Mich., and is faced with a $3,000 doctor bill. The Atlantic City All-Sports Association last night said one of its members, Carroll Rosenbloom, offered to pay the 26-year-old student's medical expenses "for the sake of sport."

KWBA Re-Elects Wilson, Smith To Top Posts for Next Season

D. Flemings, M. Mellert Other New Officers

Mrs. Chrissie Wilson has been re-elected president of the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association for the 1951-52 season.

Other officers named were:

Vice-president, Mrs. Dorothea Flemings.

Secreary, Mrs. Josephine Smith.

Treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Mellert.

Sergeant-at-Arms, Mrs. Emma Kubicek.

Elected to the Board of Directors were Mrs. Helene Mollenhauer of Rosendale; Mrs. Charles E. Burnett and Mrs. Vivien Slover.

Mrs. Smith was unopposed for re-election as secretary, but the three other line offices were decided by contests. Mrs. Wilson defeated Mrs. Caroline Mohr for the presidency. Mrs. Flemings won over Dot Rawdings, while Margaret Mellert was winner over Mrs. Marge Trowbridge in the contest for treasurer.

The K.W.B.A. incorporated a rule into its constitution prohibiting any team from rolling more than once in the city association tournament. The same name can be used more than once, however, if no more than two girls appear in the same lineup at the time. This rule conforms with that used by the American Bowling Congress for the men's tournament.

Whitaker 1-Hits Bowlodrome As Old Capitals Win by 4 to 3

Dulin's Single in 6th Ruins Bid for No-Hitter

Burdette Whitaker, a fledging hurler from Saugerties, made the second bid for recognition in the City League Hall of Fame Wednesday night as he carved himself a sparkling one-hit job for Old Capital Motors at the expense of the supposedly hard-hitting Ferraro Bowlodrome nine at the Athletic Field.

The Motormen won by 4 to 3.

Dick Dulin, center fielder for the losers, ruined Whitaker's no-hit bid with a sharp single to right in the sixth inning after the Motorman flinger had set down his opponents for five and a third innings without a hit.

The first bid for a no-hitter this week was turned in by Joe Canoso, Wiltwyck pitcher, who limited Morgan's Restaurant to a single blow in the opening game of the City League schedule.

Of course, back in the first inning of last night's tilt, Whitaker wasn't necessarily thinking about any admission to the Hall of Fame. After seeing three runs romp over the plate without the aid of a hit, he probably was concerned with just staying in the ball game.

Fortunately for Old Capitals he did.

Jack Watzka, who went the distance for the Bowlodrome nine, was cuffed for back to back doubles by Bill Jackson and Felipe, the first two batters to face him in the opening inning, giving Old Caps a 1-0 edge.

The first frame for Whittaker was a nightmare and it went something like this:

All Without a Hit

Jack Ferraro worked the Saugerties moundsman for a walk to start things. Frank Ferraro shot a double-play grounder to Lang who messed up the play for an error as J. Ferraro skipped around to third. The two Ferraro's pulled a double steal, with J. Ferraro scoring. After "Red" Gorsline walked, Ralph Tiano rapped another grounder to Lang who booted the play for a two-base error as F. Ferraro romped homeward. Gorsline, who advanced to third on Lang's second boot, scored after Mauro skied to left. About this time, Whittaker decided to take things in his own hands and proceeded to strikeout Dulin and Tom Henberry to end the inning.

Watzka held his 3-1 edge until the fourth when the Old Caps went to work and pulled the game out of the fire for Whittaker.

Olen opened the proceedings with a single, followed by Schryver's double into the right field corner. When Tiano misplaved Schryver's belt, Olen scored. After Davis whiffed, Oakley batted for Lang and reached first on Mauro's error as Schryver moved to third. After Oakley pilfered second, Whittaker helped his own cause with a single driving in Schryver and sending Oakley to third. Oakley later romped in on Jackson's infield out.

Sideliners . . . Whittaker faced only 17 batters in the last five innings after that hectic first. He fanned seven and looked sharp. Watzka, who deserved a better fate, whiffed nine and failed to walk a man . . . The crowd was rooting for Whittaker to go all the way when it was getting down to the wire. He looks like a "comer." . . . Stealing of baseballs by a certain group at the Athletic Field is getting out of hand and is seriously threatening to bankrupt the circuit. City League officials have turned the matter over to the local police and if the practice continues arrests may be forthcoming. Names of some of the individuals responsible for stealing the balls are in the hands of the loop, it was learned today. . . Chez Emile, winner in its first start, seeks its second victory tonight in a game with Boulevard Gulf.

Mrs. Smith was unopposed for re-election as secretary, but the three other line offices were decided by contests. Mrs. Wilson defeated Mrs. Caroline Mohr for the presidency. Mrs. Flemings won over Dot Rawdings, while Margaret Mellert was winner over Mrs. Marge Trowbridge in the contest for treasurer.

The K.W.B.A. incorporated a rule into its constitution prohibiting any team from rolling more than once in the city association tournament. The same name can be used more than once, however, if no more than two girls appear in the same lineup at the time. This rule conforms with that used by the American Bowling Congress for the men's tournament.

Whitaker 1-Hits Bowlodrome As Old Capitals Win by 4 to 3

Dulin's Single in 6th Ruins Bid for No-Hitter

Burdette Whitaker, a fledging hurler from Saugerties, made the second bid for recognition in the City League Hall of Fame Wednesday night as he carved himself a sparkling one-hit job for Old Capital Motors at the expense of the supposedly hard-hitting Ferraro Bowlodrome nine at the Athletic Field.

The Motormen won by 4 to 3.

Dick Dulin, center fielder for the losers, ruined Whitaker's no-hit bid with a sharp single to right in the sixth inning after the Motorman flinger had set down his opponents for five and a third innings without a hit.

The first bid for a no-hitter this week was turned in by Joe Canoso, Wiltwyck pitcher, who limited Morgan's Restaurant to a single blow in the opening game of the City League schedule.

Of course, back in the first inning of last night's tilt, Whitaker wasn't necessarily thinking about any admission to the Hall of Fame. After seeing three runs romp over the plate without the aid of a hit, he probably was concerned with just staying in the ball game.

Fortunately for Old Capitals he did.

Jack Watzka, who went the distance for the Bowlodrome nine, was cuffed for back to back doubles by Bill Jackson and Felipe, the first two batters to face him in the opening inning, giving Old Caps a 1-0 edge.

The first frame for Whittaker was a nightmare and it went something like this:

All Without a Hit

Jack Ferraro worked the Saugerties moundsman for a walk to start things. Frank Ferraro shot a double-play grounder to Lang who messed up the play for an error as J. Ferraro skipped around to third. The two Ferraro's pulled a double steal, with J. Ferraro scoring. After "Red" Gorsline walked, Ralph Tiano rapped another grounder to Lang who booted the play for a two-base error as F. Ferraro romped homeward. Gorsline, who advanced to third on Lang's second boot, scored after Mauro skied to left. About this time, Whittaker decided to take things in his own hands and proceeded to strikeout Dulin and Tom Henberry to end the inning.

Watzka held his 3-1 edge until the fourth when the Old Caps went to work and pulled the game out of the fire for Whittaker.

Olen opened the proceedings with a single, followed by Schryver's double into the right field corner. When Tiano misplaved Schryver's belt, Olen scored. After Davis whiffed, Oakley batted for Lang and reached first on Mauro's error as Schryver moved to third. After Oakley pilfered second, Whittaker helped his own cause with a single driving in Schryver and sending Oakley to third. Oakley later romped in on Jackson's infield out.

Sideliners . . . Whittaker faced only 17 batters in the last five innings after that hectic first. He fanned seven and looked sharp. Watzka, who deserved a better fate, whiffed nine and failed to walk a man . . . The crowd was rooting for Whittaker to go all the way when it was getting down to the wire. He looks like a "comer." . . . Stealing of baseballs by a certain group at the Athletic Field is getting out of hand and is seriously threatening to bankrupt the circuit. City League officials have turned the matter over to the local police and if the practice continues arrests may be forthcoming. Names of some of the individuals responsible for stealing the balls are in the hands of the loop, it was learned today. . . Chez Emile, winner in its first start, seeks its second victory tonight in a game with Boulevard Gulf.

U. S. Golfers Eagerly Await Walker Opening

Birkdale, England, May 10 (AP)—The American Walker Cup golf team, led by bouncing Willie Turnesa, is as high spirited bunch of lads as ever ribbed each other in a collegiate bull session.

Through their merry attitude there spreads high confidence that they will carry the cup back to the United States for the 12th time. The matches start tomorrow. Possession of the cup symbolizes international supremacy in amateur team golf.

The British, who have won only once, are grim this year. There is a persistent belief that Britain has its strongest team since it scored its lone victory in 1938, and a somewhat forlorn optimism that somehow the British might win again.

To further their chance on narrow fairways and rockhard greens, the British have brought in two bigtime pros, Henry Cotton and Dai Rees, to coach their players.

Polly Riley Sure Bet For South Title Again

Fort Smith, Ark., May 10 (AP)—Unless her game suddenly cools off, Polly Riley stands a mighty good chance of winning her third southern women's amateur golf championship.

The Fort Worth Miss, who won the title in 1948 and again last year, has mastered Hardscrabble Country Club's tough 6,421-yard layout as no other entrant has been able to do in winning two lopsided matches and advancing to today's quarterfinals.

Yesterday she shot at 34—one under par—on the front nine and coasted to a 6 and 5 victory over another Texan, Pat Gerner of Midland. The day before Miss Riley blasted her opponent, 9 and 8, with one-under-men's par performance for 10 holes.

The co-favorites with Miss Riley, medalist Dot Kirby of Atlanta and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., also moved into the round of eight.

Elizabeth, N. J.—Basil Marie, 136, Philadelphia, outpointed Johnny Johniken, 132, New York, 8.

Elmira Shufflers Win State Title

Elmira Lodge of Moose dethroned Utica as New York State Moose Lodge shuffleboard champions in the finals of the state tournament at the local Moose lodge on Sunday. Twenty-two teams competed in the two-day affair. Kingston Lodge was eliminated by Endicott in the first round.

Iron Curtain Goes Up for Olympics

Vienna, May 10 (AP)—Olympic officials patted their own backs today at their success in practicing international relations.

In three days here, the International Olympic Committee—without squabble—admitted Russia to the 1952 Olympic Games, ordered East and West Germany to get together athletically and received feelers from members long lost behind the Iron Curtain in Bulgaria and Rumania.

Russia hasn't competed in the Olympics since 1912.

"We believe the IOC is the first truly international organization to make such progress in bringing together the East and West," said Otto Mayer, chancellor of the IOC.

The three-day meeting was attended by delegates from 28 countries, including for first time since 1948 officials from Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

"We got along very well," Mayer said. "Everything was very friendly."

IOC delegates seemed especially optimistic the Germans will settle differences, athletic differences.

West Germany's Olympic committee was recognized but it was asked to make every effort to combine with a new East German committee. An hour's session between the two was held yesterday. A formal conference is scheduled for Lausanne Switzerland May 21 and 22.

If they don't get together there is some question whether Germany can enter the 1952 Olympics at Helsinki and Oslo.

Would 'Foot' Bills

Atlantic City, N. J., May 10 (AP)—An Atlantic City sportsman has offered a way out for college gymnast Daniel Rene, who broke his back in a meet in Ann Arbor, Mich., and is faced with a $3,000 doctor bill. The Atlantic City All-Sports Association last night said one of its members, Carroll Rosenbloom, offered to pay the 26-year-old student's medical expenses "for the sake of sport."

FIELD REPRESENTATIVE

We are a large, conservative Wall Street investment house of high repute and are organizing upstate New York for our business. We require a representative in Kingston and surrounding country who should be a person of high integrity and good educational background enjoying an excellent reputation in the community.

We believe that our business offers one of the greatest opportunities for a very interesting, permanent and well paid career. We are one of the pioneers of planned investment programs dealing with the small investor who can put $10 per month away as well as with the wealthy person who can invest large sums. We use mutual investment companies as our investment medium and a large bank as custodian for our clients' holdings.

Public acceptance has been growing rapidly during the last few years. Leaders in the financial field admit that the mutual fund business has entered an era of very large expansion. As a consequence, weekly commissions of the serious worker should far exceed the income of the average salaried man.

Arrangements for the necessary training will be made by our Albany Manager, Mr. Frans Keuker, First Investors Corporation, 50 State St., Albany 7, N. Y., to whom applications with full details and references should be sent. Applications from retired business men for full or part time occupation will be considered.

FIELD REPRESENTATIVE

We are a large, conservative Wall Street investment house of high repute and are organizing upstate New York for our business. We require a representative in Kingston and surrounding country who should be a person of high integrity and good educational background enjoying an excellent reputation in the community.

We believe that our business offers one of the greatest opportunities for a very interesting, permanent and well paid career. We are one of the pioneers of planned investment programs dealing with the small investor who can put $10 per month away as well as with the wealthy person who can invest large sums. We use mutual investment companies as our investment medium and a large bank as custodian for our clients' holdings.

Public acceptance has been growing rapidly during the last few years. Leaders in the financial field admit that the mutual fund business has entered an era of very large expansion. As a consequence, weekly commissions of the serious worker should far exceed the income of the average salaried man.

Arrangements for the necessary training will be made by our Albany Manager, Mr. Frans Keuker, First Investors Corporation, 50 State St., Albany 7, N. Y., to whom applications with full details and references should be sent. Applications from retired business men for full or part time occupation will be considered.

MEN—who want steady all year employment in woodworking factory. Call or write Ellenville Umbrella Handle Works, Ellenville, N. Y.; phone Ellenville 938.

FIELD REPRESENTATIVE

We are a large, conservative Wall Street investment house of high repute and are organizing upstate New York for our business. We require a representative in Kingston and surrounding country who should be a person of high integrity and good educational background enjoying an excellent reputation in the community.
We believe that our business offers one of the greatest opportunities for a very interesting, permanent and well paid career. We are one of the pioneers of planned investment programs dealing with the small investor who can put $10 per month away as well as with the wealthy person who can invest large sums. We use mutual investment companies as our investment medium and a large bank as custodian for our clients' holdings.
Public acceptance has been growing rapidly during the last few years. Leaders in the financial field admit that the mutual fund business has entered an era of very large expansion. As a consequence, weekly commissions of the serious worker should far exceed the income of the average salaried man.
Arrangements for the necessary training will be made by our Albany Manager, Mr. Frans Keuker, First Investors Corporation, 50 State St., Albany 7, N. Y., to whom applications with full details and references should be sent. Applications from retired business men for full or part time occupation will be considered.

LEGAL NOTICE

UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1 OF THE TOWN OF WAWARSING NEW YORK

NOTICE OF $95,000 BOND SALE

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 1 of the Town of Wawarsing, County of Ulster, New York, at the Kerhonkson High School, Kerhonkson, New York, on May 17, 1951, until 3:00 o'clock P. M. (D.S.T.) at which time they will be publicly opened and announced, for the purchase of $95,000 School District Serial Bonds-1951 of said School District. The bonds will be dated May 1, 1951, and will mature (without option of prior redemption) in the principal amount of $4,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1952 to 1957, both inclusive, $5,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1958 to 1964, both inclusive, and $6,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1965 to 1970, both inclusive, with interest payable May 1 and November 1 in each year.

The bonds will be issued in bearer form with coupons and will be of the denomination of $1,000 each, and will be convertible into fully registered bonds, and payable as to both principal and interest at the office of The Kerhonkson National Bank, Kerhonkson, New York.

Each proposal must be a bid of not less than $95,000 for all of the bonds and must state in a multiple of 1/4 or 1/10 of 1% a single rate of interest not exceeding 4% per annum which all of the bonds are to bear. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be addressed to Mr. Harold B. Rich, District Clerk, Kerhonkson High School, Kerhonkson, New York, and marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds." As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must deposit with the said District Clerk a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company to the order of Union Free School District No. 1 of the Town of Wawarsing, New York, for $1,900 as a good faith deposit, and such check should be enclosed with the proposal.

The bonds will be awarded and sold to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, and if two or more such bidders offer the same lowest rate of interest, then to the one of such bidders offering to pay therefor the highest price. The successful bidder must also pay an amount equal to the interest on the bonds accrued to the date of payment of the purchase price.

When the successful bidder has been ascertained, the District Clerk will promptly return all deposits made to the persons making the same, except the deposit made by such bidder. Such successful bidder will be promptly notified of the award to him, and if he refuses or neglects to pay the agreed price for the bonds less the amount deposited by him, the amount deposited by him shall be forfeited to and retained by the Board of Education as liquidated damages for such neglect or refusal. The bonds will be delivered on or about May 29, 1951 at the office of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, 67 Wall Street, New York City, or at such other place as may be agreed upon with the successful bidder. The successful bidder may at his option refuse to accept the bonds if prior to their delivery any income tax law of the United States of America shall provide that the interest on such bonds is taxable, or shall be taxable at a future date, for federal income tax purposes, and in such case the deposit made by him will be returned and he will be relieved of his contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of his proposal.

Counties, Cities, Towns, Villages and School Districts

The right is reserved to reject all bids and any bid not complying with the terms of this notice will be rejected.

Said bonds are to be issued to provide $95,000 for the purpose of financing the construction of an addition to the Kerhonkson Public School, in the District, including grading and improving the site and the purchase of the necessary original furnishings and equipment necessary for said addition. The bonds are general obligations of the School District. There is no limitation, either as to rate or amount, upon ad valorem taxes upon taxable real property in the School District which may be required to pay the bonds and the interest thereon. The State Constitution requires the School District to pledge its faith and credit for the payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon and to make annual appropriations for the amounts required for the payment of such interest and the redemption of the bonds. The State Constitution also provides that if at any time the appropriating authorities fail to make the required appropriations for the annual debt service on the bonds and certain other obligations of the School District, a sufficient sum shall be set apart from the first revenues thereafter received and shall be applied for such purposes, and also that the fiscal officer of the School District may be required to set apart and apply such revenues as aforesaid at the suit of any holder of such obligations.

School Districts having valuations over $100,000, with gross debt within 10% limit

The population of the District is estimated (by reference to the 1950 U. S. Census) to be 1,000. The debt statement to be filed pursuant to §109.00 of the Local Finance Law in connection with the sale of the bonds hereinabove described, prepared as of May 3, 1951, shows will show the assessed valuation of real property subject to taxation by the District to be $381,130.00, the full valuation of real property subject to taxation by the District to be $1,006,243.27, its debt limit to be $100,624.33 and its gross indebtedness (including such bonds) to be $95,000. Bond anticipation notes in the amount of $20,000 heretofore issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds have not been included in computing such gross indebtedness, and such notes will be retired from the proceeds of such bonds.

The successful bidder will be furnished, without cost, with the approving opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood to the effect that the bonds are valid and legally binding obligations of said School District, all the taxable real property within which will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon, without limitation of rate or amount.

A detailed report of essential facts will be furnished to any interested bidder on request.

Ferry Is Docked Until Next Week

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferryboat, George Clinton is not expected to resume operation before next Tuesday and "more likely Wednesday," the local office of the New York State Bridge Authority announced today.

The boat has been out of service since its 9:40 a. m. trip Sunday because of a broken crankshaft and housing on the fuel pump. The part is being made at Grove City, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), and is scheduled to be shipped by plane from there tomorrow.

It will be necessary for the plane to land at Albany or New York, however, and the unit is not expected here before Saturday or later.

Are Called to Hearing

New York, May 10 (AP)—The Public Service Commission today asked eight utility companies to a hearing in Albany May 24 to determine the volume of natural gas that will be available to them for the rest of the year and for the 1951-52 winter heating season. The companies involved include: Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., which supplies gas in the Hudson valley area, including Newburgh, Beacon, Poughkeepsie and Kingston and Rockland Gas Co. and Rockland Light and Power Co., both of which serve Rockland county. The Home Gas Compani, a pipeline affiliate of the Columbia system, which supplies gas to local utilities in the state, was also asked to appear.

Sentenced to Prison

Hudson, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Herbert W. Peters of Haverhill, Mass., was sentenced today to a term of from 15 to 45 years in Clinton Prison for first-degree robbery. Judge William E. J. Connor of Columbia county sentenced Peters as a third offender. Peters was convicted April 25 by a county court jury for the holdup of the General Worth Hotel here on July 21, 1947. His nephew, John Hanson, also of Haverill, is serving a 15-to-45-year term in Clinton Prison for participating in the holdup.

Only about 46 per cent of the U. S. wheat crop is processed for flour, the remainder being discarded in milling, shipped out, used for feed or otherwise disposed of.

The jackrabbit, which derived its name from its long donkey-like ears, is not a rabbit but a hare.

UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1 OF THE TOWN OF WAWARSING NEW YORK

NOTICE OF $95,000 BOND SALE

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 1 of the Town of Wawarsing, County of Ulster, New York, at the Kerhonkson High School, Kerhonkson, New York, on May 17, 1951, until 3:00 o'clock P. M. (D.S.T.) at which time they will be publicly opened and announced, for the purchase of $95,000 School District Serial Bonds-1951 of said School District. The bonds will be dated May 1, 1951, and will mature (without option of prior redemption) in the principal amount of $4,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1952 to 1957, both inclusive, $5,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1958 to 1964, both inclusive, and $6,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1965 to 1970, both inclusive, with interest payable May 1 and November 1 in each year.

The bonds will be issued in bearer form with coupons and will be of the denomination of $1,000 each, and will be convertible into fully registered bonds, and payable as to both principal and interest at the office of The Kerhonkson National Bank, Kerhonkson, New York.

Each proposal must be a bid of not less than $95,000 for all of the bonds and must state in a multiple of 1/4 or 1/10 of 1% a single rate of interest not exceeding 4% per annum which all of the bonds are to bear. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be addressed to Mr. Harold B. Rich, District Clerk, Kerhonkson High School, Kerhonkson, New York, and marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds." As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must deposit with the said District Clerk a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company to the order of Union Free School District No. 1 of the Town of Wawarsing, New York, for $1,900 as a good faith deposit, and such check should be enclosed with the proposal.

The bonds will be awarded and sold to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, and if two or more such bidders offer the same lowest rate of interest, then to the one of such bidders offering to pay therefor the highest price. The successful bidder must also pay an amount equal to the interest on the bonds accrued to the date of payment of the purchase price.

When the successful bidder has been ascertained, the District Clerk will promptly return all deposits made to the persons making the same, except the deposit made by such bidder. Such successful bidder will be promptly notified of the award to him, and if he refuses or neglects to pay the agreed price for the bonds less the amount deposited by him, the amount deposited by him shall be forfeited to and retained by the Board of Education as liquidated damages for such neglect or refusal. The bonds will be delivered on or about May 29, 1951 at the office of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, 67 Wall Street, New York City, or at such other place as may be agreed upon with the successful bidder. The successful bidder may at his option refuse to accept the bonds if prior to their delivery any income tax law of the United States of America shall provide that the interest on such bonds is taxable, or shall be taxable at a future date, for federal income tax purposes, and in such case the deposit made by him will be returned and he will be relieved of his contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of his proposal.

Counties, Cities, Towns, Villages and School Districts

The right is reserved to reject all bids and any bid not complying with the terms of this notice will be rejected.

Said bonds are to be issued to provide $95,000 for the purpose of financing the construction of an addition to the Kerhonkson Public School, in the District, including grading and improving the site and the purchase of the necessary original furnishings and equipment necessary for said addition. The bonds are general obligations of the School District. There is no limitation, either as to rate or amount, upon ad valorem taxes upon taxable real property in the School District which may be required to pay the bonds and the interest thereon. The State Constitution requires the School District to pledge its faith and credit for the payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon and to make annual appropriations for the amounts required for the payment of such interest and the redemption of the bonds. The State Constitution also provides that if at any time the appropriating authorities fail to make the required appropriations for the annual debt service on the bonds and certain other obligations of the School District, a sufficient sum shall be set apart from the first revenues thereafter received and shall be applied for such purposes, and also that the fiscal officer of the School District may be required to set apart and apply such revenues as aforesaid at the suit of any holder of such obligations.

School Districts having valuations over $100,000, with gross debt within 10% limit

The population of the District is estimated (by reference to the 1950 U. S. Census) to be 1,000. The debt statement to be filed pursuant to $109.00 of the Local Finance Law in connection with the sale of the bonds hereinabove described, prepared as of May 3, 1951, shows will show the assessed valuation of real property subject to taxation by the District to be $381,130.00, the full valuation of real property subject to taxation by the District to be $1,006,243.27, its debt limit to be $100,624.33 and its gross indebtedness (including such bonds) to be $95,000. Bond anticipation notes in the amount of $20,000 heretofore issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds have not been included in computing such gross indebtedness, and such notes will be retired from the proceeds of such bonds.

The successful bidder will be furnished, without cost, with the approving opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood to the effect that the bonds are valid and legally binding obligations of said School District, all the taxable real property within which will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon, without limitation of rate or amount.

A detailed report of essential facts will be furnished to any interested bidder on request.

Ferry Is Docked Until Next Week

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferryboat, George Clinton is not expected to resume operation before next Tuesday and "more likely Wednesday," the local office of the New York State Bridge Authority announced today.

The boat has been out of service since its 9:40 a. m. trip Sunday because of a broken crankshaft and housing on the fuel pump. The part is being made at Grove City, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), and is scheduled to be shipped by plane from there tomorrow.

It will be necessary for the plane to land at Albany or New York, however, and the unit is not expected here before Saturday or later.

Are Called to Hearing

New York, May 10 (AP)—The Public Service Commission today asked eight utility companies to a hearing in Albany May 24 to determine the volume of natural gas that will be available to them for the rest of the year and for the 1951-52 winter heating season. The companies involved include: Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., which supplies gas in the Hudson valley area, including Newburgh, Beacon, Poughkeepsie and Kingston and Rockland Gas Co. and Rockland Light and Power Co., both of which serve Rockland county. The Home Gas Compani, a pipeline affiliate of the Columbia system, which supplies gas to local utilities in the state, was also asked to appear.

Sentenced to Prison

Hudson, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Herbert W. Peters of Haverhill, Mass., was sentenced today to a term of from 15 to 45 years in Clinton Prison for first-degree robbery. Judge William E. J. Connor of Columbia county sentenced Peters as a third offender. Peters was convicted April 25 by a county court jury for the holdup of the General Worth Hotel here on July 21, 1947. His nephew, John Hanson, also of Haverhill, is serving a 15-to-45-year term in Clinton Prison for participating in the holdup.

Only about 46 per cent of the U. S. wheat crop is processed for flour, the remainder being discarded in milling, shipped out, used for feed or otherwise disposed of.

LEGAL NOTICE

UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 1 OF THE TOWN OF WAWARSING NEW YORK

NOTICE OF $95,000 BOND SALE

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 1 of the Town of Wawarsing, County of Ulster, New York, at the Kerhonkson High School, Kerhonkson, New York, on May 17, 1951, until 3:00 o'clock P. M. (D.S.T.) at which time they will be publicly opened and announced, for the purchase of $95,000 School District Serial Bonds-1951 of said School District. The bonds will be dated May 1, 1951, and will mature (without option of prior redemption) in the principal amount of $4,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1952 to 1957, both inclusive, $5,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1958 to 1964, both inclusive, and $6,000 on November 1 in each of the years 1965 to 1970, both inclusive, with interest payable May 1 and November 1 in each year.

The bonds will be issued in bearer form with coupons and will be of the denomination of $1,000 each, and will be convertible into fully registered bonds, and payable as to both principal and interest at the office of The Kerhonkson National Bank, Kerhonkson, New York.

Each proposal must be a bid of not less than $95,000 for all of the bonds and must state in a multiple of 1/4 or 1/10 of 1% a single rate of interest not exceeding 4% per annum which all of the bonds are to bear. Each proposal must be enclosed in a sealed envelope and should be addressed to Mr. Harold B. Rich, District Clerk, Kerhonkson High School, Kerhonkson, New York, and marked on the outside "Proposal for Bonds." As a condition precedent to the consideration of his proposal, each bidder must deposit with the said District Clerk a certified or cashier's check drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company to the order of Union Free School District No. 1 of the Town of Wawarsing, New York, for $1,900 as a good faith deposit, and such check should be enclosed with the proposal.

The bonds will be awarded and sold to the bidder complying with the terms of sale and offering to purchase said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, and if two or more such bidders offer the same lowest rate of interest, then to the one of such bidders offering to pay therefor the highest price. The successful bidder must also pay an amount equal to the interest on the bonds accrued to the date of payment of the purchase price.

When the successful bidder has been ascertained, the District Clerk will promptly return all deposits made to the persons making the same, except the deposit made by such bidder. Such successful bidder will be promptly notified of the award to him, and if he refuses or neglects to pay the agreed price for the bonds less the amount deposited by him, the amount deposited by him shall be forfeited to and retained by the Board of Education as liquidated damages for such neglect or refusal. The bonds will be delivered on or about May 29, 1951 at the office of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood, 67 Wall Street, New York City, or at such other place as may be agreed upon with the successful bidder. The successful bidder may at his option refuse to accept the bonds if prior to their delivery any income tax law of the United States of America shall provide that the interest on such bonds is taxable, or shall be taxable at a future date, for federal income tax purposes, and in such case the deposit made by him will be returned and he will be relieved of his contractual obligations arising from the acceptance of his proposal.

Counties, Cities, Towns, Villages and School Districts

The right is reserved to reject all bids and any bid not complying with the terms of this notice will be rejected.

Said bonds are to be issued to provide $95,000 for the purpose of financing the construction of an addition to the Kerhonkson Public School, in the District, including grading and improving the site and the purchase of the necessary original furnishings and equipment necessary for said addition. The bonds are general obligations of the School District. There is no limitation, either as to rate or amount, upon ad valorem taxes upon taxable real property in the School District which may be required to pay the bonds and the interest thereon. The State Constitution requires the School District to pledge its faith and credit for the payment of the principal of the bonds and the interest thereon and to make annual appropriations for the amounts required for the payment of such interest and the redemption of the bonds. The State Constitution also provides that if at any time the appropriating authorities fail to make the required appropriations for the annual debt service on the bonds and certain other obligations of the School District, a sufficient sum shall be set apart from the first revenues thereafter received and shall be applied for such purposes, and also that the fiscal officer of the School District may be required to set apart and apply such revenues as aforesaid at the suit of any holder of such obligations.

School Districts having valuations over $100,000, with gross debt within 10% limit

The population of the District is estimated (by reference to the 1950 U. S. Census) to be 1,000. The debt statement to be filed pursuant to $109.00 of the Local Finance Law in connection with the sale of the bonds hereinabove described, prepared as of May 3, 1951, shows will show the assessed valuation of real property subject to taxation by the District to be $381,130.00, the full valuation of real property subject to taxation by the District to be $1,006,243.27, its debt limit to be $100,624.33 and its gross indebtedness (including such bonds) to be $95,000. Bond anticipation notes in the amount of $20,000 heretofore issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds have not been included in computing such gross indebtedness, and such notes will be retired from the proceeds of such bonds.

The successful bidder will be furnished, without cost, with the approving opinion of Hawkins, Delafield & Wood to the effect that the bonds are valid and legally binding obligations of said School District, all the taxable real property within which will be subject to the levy of ad valorem taxes to pay said bonds and interest thereon, without limitation of rate or amount.

A detailed report of essential facts will be furnished to any interested bidder on request.

Ferry Is Docked Until Next Week

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferryboat, George Clinton is not expected to resume operation before next Tuesday and "more likely Wednesday," the local office of the New York State Bridge Authority announced today.

The boat has been out of service since its 9:40 a. m. trip Sunday because of a broken crankshaft and housing on the fuel pump. The part is being made at Grove City, Pa. (near Pittsburgh), and is scheduled to be shipped by plane from there tomorrow.

It will be necessary for the plane to land at Albany or New York, however, and the unit is not expected here before Saturday or later.

Are Called to Hearing

New York, May 10 (AP)—The Public Service Commission today asked eight utility companies to a hearing in Albany May 24 to determine the volume of natural gas that will be available to them for the rest of the year and for the 1951-52 winter heating season. The companies involved include: Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., which supplies gas in the Hudson valley area, including Newburgh, Beacon, Poughkeepsie and Kingston and Rockland Gas Co. and Rockland Light and Power Co., both of which serve Rockland county. The Home Gas Company, a pipeline affiliate of the Columbia system, which supplies gas to local utilities in the state, was also asked to appear.

Sentenced to Prison

Hudson, N. Y., May 10 (AP)—Herbert W. Peters of Haverhill, Mass., was sentenced today to a term of from 15 to 45 years in Clinton Prison for first-degree robbery. Judge William E. J. Connor of Columbia county sentenced Peters as a third offender. Peters was convicted April 25 by a county court jury for the holdup of the General Worth Hotel here on July 21, 1947. His nephew, John Hanson, also of Haverill, is serving a 15-to-45-year term in Clinton Prison for participating in the holdup.

President's Letter Dealt With Korea Policy in Winter

Paraphrased Excerpts Are Read Into Probe Held on General

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Truman wrote Gen. Douglas MacArthur a letter dealing with Korean war policy last January when conditions there were bleak for the United Nations.

Senators who reported this yesterday said the President's letter told MacArthur that "steps which might in themselves be fully justified" and might help the campaign in Korea "would not be beneficial," if they should result in spreading the fighting to Japan or western Europe.

Paraphrased excerpts read into the record of the inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal showed that Mr. Truman "recognized the continued resistance might not be militarily possible with the limited forces available to General MacArthur."

The letter was dated Jan. 13. United Nations forces then were rapidly backpedaling before the first big onslaught of Red Chinese.

Furnished to Committees

The President's letter was furnished to the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees. Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said it was supplied from records of the joint chiefs of staff.

Saltonstall read this paraphrased excerpt into the record:

"The President emphasized that pending the buildup of our national strength, we must act with great prudence insofar as extending the area of hostilities was concerned.

"Steps which might in themselves be fully justified, which might lend some assistance to the campaign in Korea, would not be beneficial if they would involve Japan or western Europe in large scale hostilities.

Resistance Recognized

"The President recognized the continued resistance might not be militarily possible with the limited forces available to General MacArthur. In any event, the United Nations forces must be preserved as an effective instrument for the defense of Japan and elsewhere. A successful resistance in Korea, however, would serve the following purposes."

Saltonstall said the letter listed 10 such purposes, the first of which was "to demonstrate that aggression would not be accepted by the free world."

Lack of Supplies

the retreating Reds suffered 2,130 casualties, the Eighth Army reported.

Simultaneously the Red radio at Pyongyang asserted the Reds killed or captured 20,792 U.N. troops between April 22 and April 30. This approximated the height of the Communist spring offensive. The allied command has made no announcement of its losses for that period. The U. S. Defense Department has reported 2,311 American casualties for the two weeks ended May 4. This did not involve other allied losses, including a South Korean division that collapsed or a British brigade that was badly cut up.

The UN command estimated Red losses for the nine-day offensive at 75,000 men.

Red Figures

The Pyongyang broadcast said 81 allied planes were shot down during the period, 4,161 rifles and 498 automobiles captured, 76 UN tanks destroyed and 39 others damaged.

The Red broadcast did not mention current actions.

Communist trucks and trains still were trying to run fresh supplies down bomb-pocked roads to their withdrawing ground troops. Traffic dwindled but the Far Eastern air forces reported it was still "moderately heavy."

Round-the-clock attacks on highways and troops are improving with new radar bombing techniques, the air force reported. Night-flying bombers also are using 500 pound fragmentation bombs with proximity fuses which explode near the ground. A single B-29 using this technique, the air force said, can rain 600,000 pieces of fragmentation on an enemy troop concentration.

Calls It Strict Truth

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Truman today described Secretary Marshall's testimony on the MacArthur ouster as the exact truth, word for word. Mr. Truman's statement to a news conference was in response to requests for comment on the Senate inquiry into Far Eastern policy and his firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from the Far Eastern commands.

Meanwhile, announcement has been made of the third concert for the '51-'52 season, which will bring a piano-cello duo, Nikolai (cello) and Joanna (piano) Graudans to Kingston. Left to right are Mrs. Louis Kegler, CCA secretary; Mrs. B. W. Johnston, membership chairman; and Miss Marjorie Lee, CCA's New York representative. (Freeman Photo).

Marshall Says . . .

recognized that MacArthur's prestige with the Japanese people "was not to be duplicated, certainly in a short time, by any other individual."

He went on to say, however, that if MacArthur had been allowed to remain as occupation chief, while losing his post as United Nations commander in the Korean war, the result would have been divided authority which might open up many confusions."

Smith had suggested MacArthur was unnecessarily humiliated by being removed from his Japanese command, even if the administration felt it necessary to replace him as commander in Korea.

Asks Possible Effect

Smith also asked whether the administration considered, in deciding to dismiss MacArthur, the possible effect on the pending peace treaty with Japan.

And he wanted to know whether John Foster Dulles was consulted in advance on the firing. Dulles is a Republican adviser to Secretary of State Acheson and has been handling preliminary negotiations regarding the Japanese treaty.

Marshall said Dulles was not consulted. He reiterated that President Truman formally consulted with him (Marshall, Secretary Acheson, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and W. Averell Harriman, special adviser to the president).

"I do know that the President did speak to three or four others," Marshall said. "I am quite certain Mr. Dulles was not among those four, but I cannot be positive."

'Doesn't It Seem Strange?'

Smith asked: "Does it not seem strange when the President asked Mr. Dulles to take that responsibility of carrying on these negotiations for the peace treaty, the possible effect on all that by the removal of General MacArthur—does it not seem strange Mr. Dulles was not asked what his views would be?"

Marshall: "I believe I explained yesterday that that matter of General MacArthur's relation to the peace treaty was discussed at considerable length. However, the Secretary of State was present to give his views in relation to that matter."

Smith said that, as a member of the Foreign Relations Subcommittee considering the Japanese treaty, "I feel very much frustrated by this development (MacArthur's removal) because I don't know what our responsibilities are, how we carry through on them."

"General Ridgway admittedly knows nothing about them, and Mr. Dulles may have to go out there with very little background and carry the load," Smith said.

Marshall said that was a matter for the State Department, not the Department of Defense. He was suggesting that Smith should go into the question with State Department officials, when they come before the committees, rather than pursuing it with him. Acheson is to be a witness later.

Ruling Is Postponed

New York, May 10 (AP)—Federal Judge John C. Cox announced today that he was postponing indefinitely a ruling on whether Leonard Lyons, New York Post columnist, must reveal the source of several items he printed concerning Mrs. Ethel Rosenberg, condemned atom spy. On Monday, Judge Knox ruled that newspapermen were not privileged under federal law to conceal sources of information. He made his ruling at a hearing in which Mrs. Rosenberg charged that the government moved her from the Women's house of detention to Sing Sing's death house to subject her to "cruel and inhuman" treatment to make her talk.

President's Letter Dealt With Korea Policy in Winter

Paraphrased Excerpts Are Read Into Probe Held on General

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Truman wrote Gen. Douglas MacArthur a letter dealing with Korean war policy last January when conditions there were bleak for the United Nations.

Senators who reported this yesterday said the President's letter told MacArthur that "steps which might in themselves be fully justified" and might help the campaign in Korea "would not be beneficial," if they should result in spreading the fighting to Japan or western Europe.

Paraphrased excerpts read into the record of the inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal showed that Mr. Truman "recognized the continued resistance might not be militarily possible with the limited forces available to General MacArthur."

The letter was dated Jan. 13. United Nations forces then were rapidly backpedaling before the first big onslaught of Red Chinese.

Furnished to Committees

The President's letter was furnished to the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees. Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said it was supplied from records of the joint chiefs of staff.

Saltonstall read this paraphrased excerpt into the record:

"The President emphasized that pending the buildup of our national strength, we must act with great prudence insofar as extending the area of hostilities was concerned.

"Steps which might in themselves be fully justified, which might lend some assistance to the campaign in Korea, would not be beneficial if they would involve Japan or western Europe in large scale hostilities.

Resistance Recognized

"The President recognized the continued resistance might not be militarily possible with the limited forces available to General MacArthur. In any event, the United Nations forces must be preserved as an effective instrument for the defense of Japan and elsewhere. A successful resistance in Korea, however, would serve the following purposes."

Saltonstall said the letter listed 10 such purposes, the first of which was "to demonstrate that aggression would not be accepted by the free world."

Lack of Supplies

the retreating Reds suffered 2,130 casualties, the Eighth Army reported.

Simultaneously the Red radio at Pyongyang asserted the Reds killed or captured 20,792 U.N. troops between April 22 and April 30. This approximated the height of the Communist spring offensive. The allied command has made no announcement of its losses for that period. The U. S. Defense Department has reported 2,311 American casualties for the two weeks ended May 4. This did not involve other allied losses, including a South Korean division that collapsed or a British brigade that was badly cut up.

The UN command estimated Red losses for the nine-day offensive at 75,000 men.

Red Figures

The Pyongyang broadcast said 81 allied planes were shot down during the period, 4,161 rifles and 498 automobiles captured, 76 UN tanks destroyed and 39 others damaged.

The Red broadcast did not mention current actions.

Communist trucks and trains still were trying to run fresh supplies down bomb-pocked roads to their withdrawing ground troops. Traffic dwindled but the Far Eastern air forces reported it was still "moderately heavy."

Round-the-clock attacks on highways and troops are improving with new radar bombing techniques, the air force reported. Night-flying bombers also are using 500 pound fragmentation bombs with proximity fuses which explode near the ground. A single B-29 using this technique, the air force said, can rain 600,000 pieces of fragmentation on an enemy troop concentration.

Calls It Strict Truth

Washington, May 10 (AP)—President Truman today described Secretary Marshall's testimony on the MacArthur ouster as the exact truth, word for word. Mr. Truman's statement to a news conference was in response to requests for comment on the Senate inquiry into Far Eastern policy and his firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from the Far Eastern commands.

Heading Community Concerts Drive

Principals in the Kingston Community Concerts Association drive discuss campaign procedures at headquarters in the Governor Clinton Hotel. Meanwhile, announcement has been made of the third concert for the '51-'52 season, which will bring a piano-cello duo, Nikolai (cello) and Joanna (piano) Graudans to Kingston. Left to right are Mrs. Louis Kegler, CCA secretary; Mrs. B. W. Johnston, membership chairman; and Miss Marjorie Lee, CCA's New York representative. (Freeman Photo).

Marshall Says . . .

recognized that MacArthur's prestige with the Japanese people "was not to be duplicated, certainly in a short time, by any other individual."

He went on to say, however, that if MacArthur had been allowed to remain as occupation chief, while losing his post as United Nations commander in the Korean war, the result would have been divided authority which might open up many confusions."

Smith had suggested MacArthur was unnecessarily humiliated by being removed from his Japanese command, even if the administration felt it necessary to replace him as commander in Korea.

Asks Possible Effect

Smith also asked whether the administration considered, in deciding to dismiss MacArthur, the possible effect on the pending peace treaty with Japan.

And he wanted to know whether John Foster Dulles was consulted in advance on the firing. Dulles is a Republican adviser to Secretary of State Acheson and has been handling preliminary negotiations regarding the Japanese treaty.

Marshall said Dulles was not consulted. He reiterated that President Truman formally consulted with him (Marshall, Secretary Acheson, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and W. Averell Harriman, special adviser to the president).

"I do know that the President did speak to three or four others," Marshall said. "I am quite certain Mr. Dulles was not among those four, but I cannot be positive."

'Doesn't It Seem Strange?'

Smith asked: "Does it not seem strange when the President asked Mr. Dulles to take that responsibility of carrying on these negotiations for the peace treaty, the possible effect on all that by the removal of General MacArthur—does it not seem strange Mr. Dulles was not asked what his views would be?"

Marshall: "I believe I explained yesterday that that matter of General MacArthur's relation to the peace treaty was discussed at considerable length. However, the Secretary of State was present to give his views in relation to that matter."

Smith said that, as a member of the Foreign Relations Subcommittee considering the Japanese treaty, "I feel very much frustrated by this development (MacArthur's removal) because I don't know what our responsibilities are, how we carry through on them."

"General Ridgway admittedly knows nothing about them, and Mr. Dulles may have to go out there with very little background and carry the load," Smith said.

Marshall said that was a matter for the State Department, not the Department of Defense. He was suggesting that Smith should go into the question with State Department officials, when they come before the committees, rather than pursuing it with him. Acheson is to be a witness later.

Ruling Is Postponed

New York, May 10 (AP)—Federal Judge John C. Cox announced today that he was postponing indefinitely a ruling on whether Leonard Lyons, New York Post columnist, must reveal the source of several items he printed concerning Mrs. Ethel Rosenberg, condemned atom spy. On Monday, Judge Knox ruled that newspapermen were not privileged under federal law to conceal sources of information. He made his ruling at a hearing in which Mrs. Rosenberg charged that the government moved her from the Women's house of detention to Sing Sing's death house to subject her to "cruel and inhuman" treatment to make her talk.
